My Heart and
My Husband
By Adele Garrison.

WANTED—Former A. E. F. men in Oklahoma City to return all French coins they took away from them. French Government.

MARION came dancing to meet me as I neared the house. "Oh, Auntie Madge!" she exclaimed joyously, throwing her arms around my neck and what she herself terms a "big bear hug." "I never was so glad to get anywhere in my life. Where's Junior? I'm simply dying to see him!"

reflected whimsically that the probably would have a most delightful time when she reached the age of dances and parties and masculine admiration. But I concealed my thought.

Getting Too Fat? Try This—Reduce

said at last, "I won't make that mistake again, will I, Auntie Madge?" "No, dear, I am sure you won't," I replied, kissing her, with the reflection that the child certainly had inherited her mother's indomitable spirit.

"From the quick gleam in Lella's eyes I knew that she recognized my sympathy. But she answered conventionally."

Lella deprecatingly. "Lella, dear, will you do me the great favor of taking a message to Mrs. Durkee?" I asked.

tion of Junior's birthday, but we did not decide upon it until the last minute. Be sure to remember that last point."

Lillian took me masterfully by the arm and marched toward the stairs. (Copyright.)

Nora Bayes Couples "Jerry" with "In Miami"

The contrast between these two vivid songs on a single record gives Nora a chance to show her amazing versatility in character study.

Jolson Asks "Who Played Poker With Pocahontas?"

"When John Smith went away somebody must have fed the kitty." So Al Jolson rises melodiously to a point of disorder, and brings down the house as he inquires: "Who played poker with Pocahontas?"

"Oh! What a Pal Was Mary"

Here's a good old-fashioned ballad song that's making one of the biggest sentimental hits on record. Henry Burr sings the appealing words and beautiful melody with sincere and tender feeling.
