The towns of Las Vegas and Albuquerque are using El Paso as a dumping ground for their indigent cripples. Yesterday afternoon a sick cripple applied to the mayor for help to get to his home in Pomona, Cal. He said the people of Las Vegas had sent him to Albuquerque and that the mayor of that city had passed him on down here; that he wanted to go home, and they refused to send him because it was too far. However, the mayor here got a half rate over the Southern Pacific line and sent him home.

We need to make no apology for reprinting Rear Admiral Dewey's picture. Since our readers saw it before the man has compelled History to work nights, and Sundays, trying to keep up with him.

Deming is boiling over with military ardor. Not satisfied with one company of home guards, the Deming rifles, the youth of the town have organized another company to be called the Deming light guards, and still another comes to light, composed of boys from 8 to 14 years of age, the Lindauer white caps, who are drilling industriously every afternoon under the directions of that old veteran of two wars, Capt. J. L. Vaughn. And the indications are the children will give the grown up soldiers points and beat them at the tactics soon.

LONG ON THE REPORT

The Spaniard: Must Have Been Stunned Early in the Battle.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Secretary Long, after reading the dispatch from Dewey, said: "It was a most wonderful naval achievement and reflects the greatest credit on our officers and men. The fire from our ships must have been so rapid and effective that the Spaniards were stunned. They never recovered themselves until the battle was lost."

THE BOUNDARY COMMISSION REPORT.

Both Countries Favor Changing the Course of the River, But Will not Allow Willow Levees on Either Side to Be Built.

The United States boundary commission handed its report to the mayor this afternoon about two o'clock. The report favors changing the course of the river by cutting a new channel across the peninsula just below the city; however both countries agree that this shall not change the boundary line. The report orders that work be stopped on the part of the levee where the mattress levee is being laid, and that the engineers shall be notified to tear up the levee where the willow work has been constructed, not only on the American side but on the Mexican side, from Stanton street up to the old part of the levee above S. Santa Fe street.

Labor Day in the Churches.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Tomorrow is to be a red letter day in the history of organized labor. In response to a request sent broadcast by the Church Association for the Advancement of the Interests of Labor, the day has been set apart for a general recognition by the churches throughout the United States of the growing interest in labor problems, and "labor" will for the nonce take precedence over the war as the subject of sermons to be preached from thousands of pulpits. The association fostering the movement is a Protestant Episcopal organization, which has been in existence for many years, with headquarters in this city. Although receiving its main support from the Protestant Episcopal church, it is not strictly sectarian, for it co-operates with other denominations in trying to advance the cause of labor by meetings, lectures and other means. Bishop Potter of this city is one of the foremost workers in the association and tomorrow evening the fashionable Trinity church will be thronged with workmen and women to listen to the eloquent pastor's sermon upon the interests of labor.

New York Republicans.

NEW YORK, May 6.—A meeting fraught with important results for the Republican party in this state is being held today by the state central committee. The assigned purpose of the meeting is to select a chairman of the committee to succeed the late Charles W. Hackett. But as it is already on the books that this honor is to go to B. B. Odell, the real interest centers in the selection of the successor of Mr. Odell as executive chairman. Upon the results of this contest may depend whether Governor Black is to have a clear field for the gubernatorial renomination. Senator Platt and his adjutants have already endeavored to put a quietus on the efforts of the Black men to secure the selection of an intimate friend of the Governor for the executive chairmanship and it is given out this morning that if the Governor persists in this course the Platt men will prevent the state committee giving its customary indorsement of the state administration.

The French Elections.

PARIS, May 7.—According to predictions which are being made in political circles here, the moderate republicans will be returned with increased numbers by the elections which begin tomorrow, when of course, will be a victory for the Mellin cabinet. The small band of royalist and imperialist deputies is likely to be still further diminished, while the radicals will lose seats both to the moderate and socialists. It is not considered possible, however, that the socialists can secure any great triumph but even though their numbers be increased the combined opposition will not be sufficient to overcome the present republican majority. The campaign has been the most heated that the republic has seen in a decade, a fact due in a measure to the multiplicity of candidates. There are nearly 3,000 candidates for the 581 seats to be filled, an average of five candidates for each seat.

Loomis-Webb.

The First Presbyterian church was well filled at 11 this morning with guests attending the marriage ceremony of Miss Annie Laura Loomis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Loomis and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Webb, the well known San Antonio street merchant. The church was prettily decorated with palms and cut flowers; the most striking feature of the decoration was a large bell of honeysuckle, under which the principals stood during the ceremony.

The procession was headed by two young girls, Misses Lena Falvey and Nettie Irwin, who were dressed in white organdie over green, with hats to match. Following them came Miss Estelle Jones and Miss Katharine Marr, in white organdie over yellow, and hats of corresponding color. Miss Katie Kace and Miss Mabel Falvey, who were the remaining bridesmaids, and were dressed in white organdie over lavender, with hats to match, were followed immediately by Miss Fanny Loomis, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; her costume was of pink. All the pretty maidens carried bouquets of daisies, and the whole effect was strikingly beautiful.

The young bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She was dressed in cream colored tulle with a long veil and a train. The ceremony was performed by Mr. Moore, the pastor of the church. Mrs. Voss played the wedding music.

Mr. Beach acted as best man; the ushers were Messrs. Cooley, Moore, Adams, Fulkerson, Rony Loomis, and Ralph Loomis.

The bride is a lovely young woman who is best liked by those who know her best. Mr. Webb is an enterprising bookdealer and drug merchant of high standing in El Paso. He is a native Texan.

A reception began at 11:30 at the home of the bride on north El Paso street.

Democratic Love Feast.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 7.—The banquet of the German-American democracy of Cook county to take place this evening at the Tremont house will be notable from the fact that ex-Governor John P. Altgeld and Mayor Carter H. Harrison, the leaders of the rival factions of the Chicago democracy, will sit side by side and both will respond to toasts, the former speaking on "The Outlook," and the mayor on "Chicago's Democracy." The fact that these two will participate in the same pow-wow has created no end of comment in political circles, as the rivalry between them and their followers has hitherto been so strong that ex-Governor Altgeld recently refused to appear at a public meeting at which Mayor Harrison was to preside.

War-Indemnity Paid.

Another Cartridge Explodes.

A large crowd was attracted this afternoon about one o'clock on San Antonio street near the Rio Grande drug store by the report of an explosion. It seems that three or four boys obtained a dynamite cap from a Mexican who has been blasting in the rock quarry near Mount Franklin. They had been hammering the cartridge on the cement pavement for some time but did not succeed in making it explode until they obtained a box of matches from a store nearby. After they had heated the cartridge a little and were all standing over to see what it would do, it went off, driving the main portion of the cap through John Caples's neck, while another youngster, Floyd Patterson, received a severe cut over the right eye, as did also Willie Caples. The boys were all badly frightened when taken to the drug store for treatment. Another youngster, named Fletcher Thomas, who was investigating what the boys were doing, received several flesh wounds on different parts of his body. This has been the second explosion of this kind in the course of a week, and it seems as though there should be some means of trading where this cartridges come from and arresting those who supply the boys.

One of the boys says he saw another boy with a cigar box of these caps, but his father took them away.
