The Cowboy's Proof.

"Jack" Vance, a cowboy from the ranch of the Butte Creek Cattle company, was on trial at Alliance, Neb., on a charge of shooting at a brakeman on the Burlington railroad with intent to kill him.

Vance vehemently denied any intent to perforate the brakeman. He said the court that, while it was true that he did take out his revolver and shoot after the brakeman who pushed him off the train, he was merely giving a pre-arranged signal.

The trialman, with visions of what he believed was a narrow escape from death, shook his head, and the judge looked unbelieving. Vance's cowboy friend corroborated the story, but seeing his tale failed to receive credence, the defendant asked the court to please step outside.

"I'll prove my innocence, your honor," Vance said. The court was curious and went outside. So did the sheriff, lawyers and spectators.

Vance pulled out his revolver, and holding a postage stamp clipped off each corner in succession. Next he asked a spectator to suspend a hickory nut from a thread. Walking off thirty feet, he wheeled and at the first shot out the thread.

Taking six tacks he placed them loosely in a piece of wood. This he placed against a post distant twenty-five yards. Borrowing a watch from a bystander, he opened the face for a mirror, shot with his back to the mark, and drove each tack into the wood without a miss.

The brakeman had been looking on in openmouthed wonder. As Vance concluded the brakeman stepped up to the judge, and, tapping him on the arm, said: "Yes, yer honor, I guess I was mistaken. That man wasn't shooting at me."-Exchange.

JOHNSON-ROBERTS
A Pretty Wedding Celebrated Last Night.

A very pretty but quiet June wedding was that last night, of Miss Jessie, daughter of Mrs. W. T. Johnson, to David J. Roberts, at the home of bride's mother, 1198 San Antonio St., Rev. Mr. French officiating.

Miss Johnson is one of the most popular young women in El Paso and she made a lovely bride. Mr. Roberts is the son of R. H. Roberts, and is an employee of the Kansas City smelter.

Miss Alma Johnson, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Bert Roberts, a brother of the groom, was best man.

The young folks were the recipients of many very handsome and costly presents, among them a silver table set from the employees in the office of the smelter.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts will go to house keeping immediately in their new cottage at 115 Boulevard.

A Bold Thief.
Jack O'Connor lost a saddle and bridle Wednesday night under peculiar circumstances.

He left his horse and equipments in front of the Orndorff hotel, and went within to attend to some business. While so engaged some enterprising thief led the animal away and stripped it of its furniture.

MANY NEW WARSHIPS
To Be Built in the Near Future.-Construction Record To Be Broken This year.-Five Battleships, Six Armored Cruisers, Three Protected Cruisers, and Five Submarine Boats.

The coming year promises to be the best in the history of the Navy department, so far as the construction of new ships is concerned, says a Washington dispatch. Work is already under way to increase the navy, in accordance with the recent legislation on the subject.

Five battle-ships, costing nearly $5,000,000 each, six great armored cruisers of 14,500 tons displacement and high speed, three protected cruisers, similar in design to the Olympia, and five submarine boats represent the programme which the Navy Department now has to dispose of, and to ask bids for. Every one of these craft will be built at private yards.

With the large number of ships already on the stocks, and the vast amount of commercial business being executed, the prospects for an exceedingly busy period in the ship building world are most promising, and bid fair to exceed in tonnage any previous record of the country.

It has been decided to adhere to the policy of letting all contracts for ship building to private yards rather than risk the dangers of delays and higher cost by undertaking to build them at the government yards.

With the construction of fourteen ships in prospect, the yards will be crowded to more than their capacity, but the preliminary work of designing will be finished by next fall. Vessels for Navy Department employees, of a certain class, will in consequence be very brief this summer.

A partial agreement has been reached to have the two new battle-ships of the same size and power as those authorized last year, and for which plans have been decided upon, and a circular letter prepared asking for bids.

These vessels are over 14,000 tons displacement, have a speed of eighteen knots and terrific battery power. They are without the superimposed turrets and have 12-inch guns as the largest caliber.

The cruisers will cost as much as the battle-ships, are to be the equal if not the superior of the finest of their class in foreign service. Designs for these ships will be drawn and its contemplated to duplicate them for the class authorized this session. Thus six of the armored cruiser class are to be built, costing when in commission probably $30,000,000. The three protected cruciers, duplicates of the flagship Olympia in a measure, are to be designed in order to improve upon the Olympia in many places, and especially to give greater battery power and steaming radius. To produce these results they will have greater displacement, and perhaps be more costly vessels.

M'KINLEY AND ROOSEVELT

Iowa, who made a speech in nomination of Roosevelt.

The mention of Roosevelt's name was the signal for a demonstration that equalled if it did not exceed that with which McKinley had been greeted.

The New York delegation led in the cheering. The standards bearing the names of the respective state delegations were seized and borne around the ball and amid yelling and whistling some one started the song, "There will be a hot time in the old town to-night."

This was taken up by apparently everybody in the hall. Two standards bearing the names Ohio and New York were tied together, one above the other, and passed around, while the placard declaring that Kansas was the first to declare for Roosevelt for vice-president was displayed.

Ladies joined in the demonstration, waving their parasols and in some cases silken flags, with which they had provided themselves. It was just 7 minutes before even the vigorous pounding of the heavy gavel could be heard; calling the convention to order again, and still longer before Lodge could make himself heard.

Other nominating speeches were made by Murray of Massachusetts and Ashton of Washington, with a merry one by Dewey, after which the roll was called. Roosevelt received 925 votes, one delegate refusing to vote. The nomination was declared unanimous amid deafening cheers.

Lodge was then appointed chairman of the committee to notify McKinley, and Wolcott chairman to notify Roosevelt.

The usual resolutions of thanks were passed, and at two twelve, the eleventh republican convention adjourned sine die.

A Bitter Blow.
"Yes, my boy, you have my consent to marry Edith," said the father after it had taken him an hour to find out what the young man wanted. "Yes, you can have her and get married as soon as you will."

"You have made me the happiest man in the world!" exclaimed Adolph. "Very likely. I shall leave a check beside your wedding dinner plate. It will be signed, but not filled out."

"How noble and generous!" "You can fill it out yourself. Don't be afraid of figures."

"How can I thank you?" "Might as well make it a million as ten thousand."

"Oh, sir!" "That's all, except my balance is only $220, and you'd better keep the check for the first baby to play with!"

The Facts in the Case.

They Never Came Back.
The farmer had told me that he had been keeping summer boarders for several years, and presently I asked him if any of them had ever returned a second season. He thought it over for three or four minutes and then replied: "I had never thought of that. Yes, I believe one did come back the next season."

"And stop with you again?" "No, I don't think he did. I think he came back to ask us how far it was to the next place they took in boarders!"

Feminine Practicality.
"Women have no real love for nature."

"How do you know?" "Look at the way they drag up the subject of fly screens every time a man mentions that he thinks of going fishing."-Indianapolis Journal.

The Best of Neighbors.
"You say they are excellent neighbors?" "Yes."

"Well, that's somewhat indefinite. Do you mean that they never borrow or that they or willing to lend?"-Chicago Post.
