THE boys are all right. They won't secede. It was only a little hard to realize-that's all. They'll realize it easier as they got used to it. Democrats can give them a world of information about being used to it.

HENRY GEORGE, the author of "Progress and Poverty," has sailed for Scotland, where he is under engage- figures tending to indicate probable ment to lecture on the wickedness of changes to occur in the United States private ownership in land. Henry is senate after the 4th of next March. It a mistaken, but very able, apostle.

In Congressman Donn's district in Arkaneas the same game was played that the Republicans tried in 1880. They put out no ticket until the morning of the election but secretly prepared to elect H. C. Remmel, a ci izen of Newport. The snap judgment would not work in either instance.

A NOVEL experiment of carrying a railroad through a forest has been tried to Sonoms county, California. The trees are sawed off and leveled and the ties are fastened on the atumps, two of which are huge redwoods standing side by side and reaching seventy-five feet from the ground. So firm is this support that heavily loaded cars pass over with perfect security.

In the late canvass the New York Sun supported Ben Butler for the presidency. In its issue of June 26 1873, it described its presidential candidate as follows :

Hated by some, contemned by many, and distrusted by all, this bad man, with his ercoked ways, four marhods, distorted mind and wicked nears, clories in these moral de-formities, flauna them constantly before thpublic eye and traffice in them as political merchandiss. The notoriety which decency shrinks from as a degradation he seeks at any eacrifics. He treats the re-proach which follows such exhibitions as so much capital added to the stock of ill-fame that had already made his name odiously conspicuous in and out of caugress, Ra-joicing in his own sname and column money from open venality, discreding any proteuse of principle, bound by no ties of honor scoffing at religion, making politics a trade, despotic when clothed with an'hority, cow-ardly by nature, mercenary from habit and destitute of one ennouling quality for manily attributes to lift him above these wretched characteristics, he is to-day the leading camildate for the highest honor in enlightened and moral Massachusetts."

THE Cleburne Chronicle sees in the defeat and disintegration of the Rapublican party the alignment of parties in the future on other than sectional lines. The Chronicle says:

Democratic success means no only the overthrow of this sectionalism, but the destruction of the solid South. This may seem paradoxical, but it is true. The Bouth has long since ceased to be solid on the real batter of the present. It was the solid North held together by the bloody shirt and denuncia tion of the Southern people that held the South solid. So long as the people of the South were falsely accuself-respect compelled them to nore every other lesses and stand together in defense of themselves. The highest attributes of character and true manhood tell the weaker party to endure but never give up boner. This noble senti cent has kept the South a until. When the -trong the tast barrier will be broken down. strong must first trust If they hope to be trusted. The Democratic victory is the first evidence that the North considers the South We have no hesitancy in predicting that there will never again be a solid Southern vote in favor of any candidate for pr. sident.

The World's Exposition.

The following circular concerning the opening of the World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial exposition has been issued by Director-General E. A.

The committee appointed by the management to confer with the president and excontive department in respect to the opening and opening extended of the World's ex-position, report that insenuch as congress convenes on the day heretofore announced for the opening of the exposition, the opening ceremonies could not then be inaugur and by the president, executive officers and members of both houses of congress as contemplated by nu act of congress and carmently desired by the manage-

Exhibits will be received until December 10, 1884, with the understanding that all exhibits must be in place by the opening day.

The demands for space have exceeded any thing in the aistory of former expositions.
The management added 7 0,000 square for of exhibiting space to the buildings originally to igned, and advantage will be taken of the time now allowed to provide additional space for exhibitors who may rely upon a Washington, because the board did disposition to accord susonable space to all who may apply.

ME, E. DUNCAN SNIFFERN, 3 Park Row, New York, the well-known adtruthful remarks in the New York Tribune, Oct. 4, regarding newspaper advertising: "The newspaper is so comprehensive in its cope, so universal in administering to the wants of all classes and of every occupation in life; it brings, as it were, the finalicial and commercial markets of the world to our e unting-rooms, so that it may be truly said that a good advertisement in a widely circulated newspaper is the best of all possible sit some one who ne er sleeps and a never weary, who goes after business early and iate, who accests the merchant in hie store, the sawyer in his office, the student in his study, the cultivated woman at the lamily first e, who can be in a thousand places at once and address a million of people each day, saying only the best thing at the right time and in the best manner.

"Now this typical salesman tolks only about his own business in his own interest, and if in a crowd, he must in order to secure a hearing, be more conspicuous than his com-petitors, and at all times he must be as at tractive as possible. The work involves in balligence, a good deal of ingunuity, and orig inal and ready resource to make the stat. matter of yeste day fresh and inviting to day. This is the kind of newspaper advertis ing that it pays to do, and that we undertake to do." Advertisers should send for E. The Senate After March 4. Recently THE GAZETTE gave some gain five senators to give them a wors-ing ensjority in the acceste. It is very swapped off votes. ing instority in the senate. It is very certain now that they have not gained the legislatures that will elect the new senators, and the Republicans will still have control of that branch of congress.

The Democrats have lost two senstors in Oregon and California. They have gained one in Illinois, probably one in Connecticut, and have held their own in other states where senstorial terms expire. They may have gained one in Nevads, but it cannot be positively known for some time how the legislature of that state stands. Without it, the Democrats still have thirty-three, the Republicans thirty-nine and the Readjusters

There is the strongest probability that the elections of 1887 will give the Democrats control of the senate and all other branches of the general government, if they use their newly acquired power with moderation and wisdom. The terms of Republican senators end in 1887 in Indiana and New Jersey and they will without doubt be replaced by Demoerats. Mahone's term will and tuen and there is no question that a Democrat will succeed to his place. Such a result will then give the Demoerate thirty-six senators, the Republicans thirty-seven, and one Readjuster, Riddleberger of Virginia, who is more likely to ally himself with the Democrats than with the Republicans.

A Republican senate, if inclined to be stubborn, can give the Democratic confirm his appointments, and there is Correspondence of the Gazette. every inducement to urge Democrats to work for state legislatures in 1887. the government and ought to be in the following result: full authority.

Snarling at "Bill" Morrison.

The election of "Bill" Morrison to congress is as irritating to the San Antonio Express as a red flug to a buil. That paper shows its ill temper and ignerance in the following remark:

Morrison was re-elected to congress, and the St. Louis Republican says it was a great victory for the "Murris nices" throc the country. His election was as much of a foregone conclusion as was that af Resum or Mills in this state. No matter what his po-altion on the tariff or any other question, so long as he claimed to be a Democrat he was

The Express means to say that Morrison was elected because his district is so strongly Democratic that any Democrat could have been elected, having the party nomination. But his district is not Democratic. There is but one county in it that is Democratic on the presidential vote of 1880, and it by a bare majority of twenty. The counties composing his district gave Garfield a majority exceeding 1500. The Republican legislature of Tilinois in 1881 "gerrymandered" the state, and thought to lusure Morrison's defeat by putting him in a strong Republican district. Undaunted by the odds against him he entered the fight, preached free trade from every stump, and was triumphantly elected in 1882 by 1800 majority, having made a clear gain of $300 votes. He was again the Democratic candidate this year, and though singled out and marked as the especial object of the batred and fear It kinder paralyzes a Republican to opening of the World's industrial and Cotton Centennial exposition will be at 12 overlament. If other Democrats in the West had Morrison's ability to handle the question of tariff reform and his courage to bring it to the front, the Western agricultural states would all be soundly Democratic to-day. We need more Bill Morrisons. It is our misfortune that we have not got them. It is not for lack of ability, for there are more able men in congress than Morrison, but it is lack of courage. They fear manufacturers' gold. This fear will vertising agent, makes the following die after aw'ille, and then we will have a strong and victorious party.
