LOCALETTES.

There was no district court yesterday. The Third ward boasts two new saloons. Great activity prevailed in commercial circles yesterday.

The fire department will meet today on special business. The city is well supplied at present with foreign drummers.

Several prominent citizens of Dallas were in the city yesterday. The infant child of Mr. S. B. Maddox died and was buried yesterday.

The hook and ladder boys tried to meet last night, but without success. The Fort Worth Presbyterian Sunday-school will picnic at the pavilion today.

The county court convened yesterday in regular session, the term being six weeks. Several habeas corpus cases will be heard in the district court to-day and to-morrow.

All the trains arriving at the Union depot last night were crowded with passengers. Auctioneer Shattuck was out in full force yesterday disposing of the estrayed stock.

The habeas corpus case of Milliken of Weatherford comes up before Judge Beckham to-morrow or next day. The honorable council of our city meets to-day at 2 o'clock p. m., when much important business will come up.

Officers Tucker and Collins arrested ten prostitutes last evening in "hell's half-acre," also two white women for fighting.

The coroner's jury in the case of Mary Moody, who took morphine Saturday night, returned a verdict of death from poison, administered by her own hands.

The Meine Bros.' brass band of Dallas and the Honey Grove Brass band of Honey Grove have been engaged for the coming grand reunion celebration of next month.

The Handley school district tax, which is 20 cents on the $100, foots up $151.88 of which the railroad company pays $72.96. The railroad company also pays $78.92 in the Benbrook district.

The young men of our city contemplate organizing a club similar, in many respects, to the Calumet of Chicago and the Pendennis of Louisville. It will be strictly a social organization.

The cases of three boy coons and one white man, for theft, were called in the county court yesterday. All pleaded guilty; punishment was assessed at one day's confinement in the county jail.

J. Thompson to Miss Mary G. Aldridge, Conrad Schmidt to Mrs. F. Jenny and J. S. Houser to Miss Alice Cutbirth were the style of the marriage licenses issued yesterday by County Clerk Swayne.

The Union depot presented a very lively scene last night at train time. The platform was literally jammed with people going to and fro. Among the vast multitude were countless numbers of young ladies.

Jay Gould was before the recorder yesterday in connection with his justification on the Fourth, and his honor decided it worth $5 and costs, which amount he promptly plunked down and went his way, to dissipate no more for the present.

The case of Thos. Melton vs. the City of Fort Worth for damages for the killing of a dog, which has been on trial in the justice court for two days, was concluded yesterday evening very late, and Esquire Napoe reserved his decision until this morning.

A set-to occurred at the Novelty mills yesterday between Mark Evans, the proprietor, and S. S. Rines, in which the latter, an old decrepit man, was badly worsted. Complaint was promptly made and Mr. Evans placed under bond for his appearance before Esquire Zinn this morning.

An honest colored man found two very valuable pieces of paper yesterday. One was a check on the First National bank of this city for sixteen hundred and ten dollars, and the other a like document on the Merchants' National bank of Little Rock, Ark., for nineteen hundred and fifty dollars.

Elsewhere in this issue of THE GAZETTE will be found a poem on "The Watermelon," from the versatile pen of our well-known young attorney, Mr. N. L. Cooper. The poem was published several years ago in the Houston Post, and was the recipient of much praise from the entire press of the state.

County Judge Furman being sick yesterday and unable to hold court, the members of the bar present, by ballot, elected a judge. A. G. McClung and Sam Canty were nominated and twenty votes cast for them without result, whereupon Mr. Canty withdrew in favor of A. G. McClung, and he was declared elected.

A number of gentlemen, members of the various committees on the ex-Confederate reunion, held an informal meeting in the rooms of the Fort Worth National bank last evening. There will be a meeting of the executive committee this morning at the same place and it is to be hoped that it will be attended by every member.

PERSONAL.

Judge S. M. Furman is quite sick at his home. City Attorney William Capps is slightly under the weather.

Mr. C. A. Harrison returned last night from a flying visit to Dallas. Mr. Geo. W. Roach of Weatherford is spending a few days in the city.
