MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 1.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Mayor.

THE GAZETTE is authorized to announce the name of A. J. Chambers as a candidate for the office of mayor of the city of Fort Worth at the ensuing election.

To City Subscribers.

Subscribers who now hold tickets in the drawing for the gold watch, which is to come off the 15th of March, will forfeit their chances if all subscriptions are not paid before that date.

THE CITY.

ISOLINE.

And have you talked, too, my love, A victim to the many arts That women viciously employ...

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

At the Brunswick: A. Johnson, Decatur, C. E. Price, Bowie; J. N. Jones, Anadarko, L. T. Walter, McFarland, Owensboro, Ky., Sams, S. Hagar, New York, C. Henderson, San Saba, C. E. Fisher, Detroit, Mich., J. B. Patterson, Denver, Col.; H. T. Keenan, Chicago.

PERSONAL.

Mr. B. F. DeBow has returned from a trip to El Paso. Mr. L. L. Russell, a leading attorney of Cameron, was a caller at THE GAZETTE office last night. Mrs. Hollander and daughter, Miss Canille, of New Orleans, who have been visiting Mrs. Isaac Dahlman for several weeks, returned home yesterday.

appropriate for the organization of an artillery company. There are in the city several who received artillery training during the late unpleasantness, and these would no doubt lead their aid to such an organization.

The School Whistle.

This morning begins the first day of a new school week of a new school month and of a new school period. To-day supplemental studies will be begun in all the buildings and in all the grades.

February's Trade.

Despite some bad weather and the small-pox scare, both of which restricted Fort Worth's trade to an extent that only business men are able to appreciate, the month just ended was a great improvement, commercially speaking, over the first month of 1886.

The Choral Society.

The Choral society will meet at the Cumberland Presbyterian church to-night as usual. The music to be rehearsed for some time to come will be pleasing choruses by standard authors.

"Jacob's Dream."

The opera-house was well-filled yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when, as previously announced, Mr. R. D. Wear delivered a lecture on "Jacob's Dream."

Scanlan's New Play.

"Shane-na-Lawn," a new Irish drama written by James C. Rosch and J. Armyory Knox of Texas Sittings fame, was played for the first time in this city at the People's theater last evening.

Terror-Stricken Tramps.

"There was a sound of revelry by night." It came from the direction of the stock-yards, and was distinctly heard at the Union depot.

Heavy Forgeries.

DENVER, COLO., Feb. 28.—Information reaches here that L. M. Mallory, a wild youth who for the past year has been the ward of M. W. Millis at Springer, N. M., started east a day or two ago and on the way stopped at Raton, La Junta, and Las Animas, where he forged and cashed drafts on the Springer Mercantile and Banking companies to the amount of $20,000.

Tragic Suicide.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE, N. Y., Feb. 28.—A man thirty or forty years old came here from Buffalo this afternoon, took a carriage to Rapids, thence to the Falls, where he went on the ice-bound base of the American falls, fell or jumped over and was lost.

Journalist Dead.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 28.—Col. Thos. J. Wilson, aged fifty-eight, died suddenly this evening at his residence in this city. Col. Wilson was a journalist for the greater part of his life, but served as secretary of state under Gov. Hicks, and as paymaster in the army during the civil war.

Trains Snowed Up.

RIVER DE LOUP, QUEBEC, Feb. 28.—The fiercest storm for years has been raging since Friday morning. Friday's express train is buried in ten feet of snow near Trois Pitotes, although two engines with snow plows were running about fifteen miles ahead of it.

Will Bow.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 28.—J. G. Gaudaur and John Teemer signed articles of agreement here last night to row a three mile race on the lake Pullman course for $1000 a side, on June 12.

"HAVE A CARRIAGE?"

Trials and Troubles of a Local Hackman as Told by Himself.

Some Peculiarities of His Patrons—How Frownces and Ribbons Create Trouble and Delay.

The hackman was sitting complacently on his stable chair, chewing a straw, when the GAZETTE reporter entered the premises. "Glad to see you; won't you sit down?" said the man of horses as he shoved, with his feet, an old box close to where the pencil-pusher stood.

The answer being in the affirmative, she will abuse me for not coming before to get her, and ask if I did not extend a great favor by coming at all. For about three minutes she will continue this diatribe, and then march majestically into the room to complete her toilet.

"There was a sound of revelry by night." It came from the direction of the stock-yards, and was distinctly heard at the Union depot. Some fifteen or twenty vags had congregated at the yards and were holding an orgie that would have made even old Bacchus blush.
