The announcement made yesterday of the G. A. R. services being held to-day in the Main Street Methodist church was erroneous. The opera-house is the place.

The duke, with "only a thousand a day," had some difficulty in getting through the clearing-house on settlement day at the boarding-house, but he made it all the same, and will be on board to-morrow night.

There was another fore convergation.

There was another fine congregation gathered at the opera-house last night to hear Rev. J. Morgan Wells. Not a dozen vacant seats were seen in the house. The speaker's subject of "Trial by Jury" was linely bandled and obtained unwavering Patience Rehearsal.

It is very much desired that every participant in "Patience" will attend at the opera-house to-night promptly at 8 o'clock, in order to have a thorough re-hearsal previous to the performance on Tuesday night. Quitea large party from Dallas are expected over to see how the "musical center" does opera.

The advance sale of seats is large, and there is every indication of another large house to-morrow night. The box-office will be open daily from 10 to 2 o'clock. and those wishing choice seats should go early. Admission 50 cents, and no charge for reserving seats.

Flowers solicited.

Rosecraus Post, No. 4, department of Texas, G. A.
