THE CITY.

PERSONAL.

Parties who have relatives or friends visiting will confer a favor on THE GAZETTE by giving it a memorandum of the best-dishes to the reporters in person, or through the medium of a postal-card directed to the city editor.

J. W. Sparrow of Decatur is here. Logan Clay of Paris is at the Pickwick. Burt Turner of Henrietta is in the city.

W. P. Barnes of Aurora, Tex., is in the city. J. H. Crutcher of Longview is in the city.

M. Bevis of Dallas was in the city yesterday. J. H. Lucas and wife of Itasca are at the Mansion.

W. J. Wootton of Galveston is stopping at the Mansion. C. W. Moore and wife of St. Louis are registered at the Pickwick.

H. C. Holst has returned from an extended trip to Oakland, Cal. W. B. Jacob and R. T. Cole of Shreveport, La., are at the Pickwick.

Miss May Webster left last night on a visit to her former home at Hot Springs. Mr. John Collins, editor of the Decatur Post, called on THE GAZETTE yesterday.

L. A. Heli, (Hans Mickle), one of the best-known newspaper writers in Texas, is in the city.

A. D. Brooks, Mrs. M. Shoemaker, M. D. Sellers and W. C. Bird of Decatur are at the Mansion.

Mr. Augusto Capera makes the trio of Capera brothers complete by coming to Fort Worth to live, and THE GAZETTE welcomes him.

Mr. C. W. Rogers of St. Louis, vice-president of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad, arrived in the city last night. Mr. Rogers has not been very well for some months, and after a day or two's stay in Fort Worth will proceed to California for the benefit of his health. He is accompanied by Mrs. Rogers.

ON THE STREET.

Parties giving social entertainments of any kind, festive or otherwise, will confer a favor on THE GAZETTE by sending a short notice thereof to this paper. THE GAZETTE desires to note all such entertainments, and its friends will appreciate the difficulty of covering the whole city without any outside assistance.

Newton got there, Eh. Don't forget the matinee to-day at 2 p. m.

Business men are not sorry that the election is over. It's getting high time for a boom in the matrimonial market.

Souvenir matinee at the opera-house to-day at 2 o'clock. Admission 25 and 50 cents.

There is more railroad talk in Fort Worth than in any three cities in Texas. The beauty of it is that it is not all talk.

The first premium for the best make of Texas stock saddles was taken by Tackery of Fort Worth, at the Dallas State fair.

The South side revival, conducted by Elder McKnight, is still doing good work. Two recent additions to the church are reported.

The suit of the Traders' National bank vs. Fore, Morphy, Henderson & Smith to recover $7000 on a promissory note, is still on trial in the district court.

I. N. Terrell, principal of the colored school and his teachers, go over to Dallas to-day to visit the fair. From what is learned it is evident that an immense number of Fort Worth people will be present.

Gainesville is going to have a big celebration on the completion of the Atchison-Santa Fe to that city, and wants the Fort Worth people to go up and help celebrate. That would be an eminently proper thing to do.

Episcopal Service.

On Sunday next, November 7 (the twentieth Sunday after Trinity), the Rev. R. C. Wall, of the diocese of Quincy, will preach and hold services in St. Andrew's church. The services will begin at 11 o'clock a. m., and at 7 o'clock p. m.

Last Night at the College.

The attendance at the Wesleyan college last night was a fair average, and while the exercises were short they were highly appreciated because of excellent rendition of the same.

Miss Wilson's piano solo was heartily applauded, and Prof. Dillenbeck did himself credit in his reading from Hamlet. The question for debate was: "Resolved that labor saving machinery militates against the manual labor." Mr. J. C. Terrell appeared for the affirmative and Mr. H. J. Houston for the negative. Both gentlemen handled the subject with much earnestness, but the judges—Sparklin, Masters and Nicks, rendered the verdict in favor of the affirmative.

Liste Evans.

An appreciative audience greeted Miss Lizzie Evans as Chip, in the old and popular comedy Fogg's Ferry, at the opera house last night, and the clever little sourette appeared in her happiest mood.

Miss Evans is one of the brightest, merriest actresses of the sourette school in America, and each successive season shows an improvement in her art. Her "kick" becomes more cute, and causes an extra thrill to run down the back of the old "bald head" in the front row each successive time it is seen. Few comedians strive as hard to please as this clever artist, and in everything belonging to her part she is a thorough and conscientious worker. The character of Chip is a varied one, and Miss Evans invests it with a charm that indicates her merit and power in portraying the lighter shades of girlish nature. Her bright intellectual face and small but perfect figure enable her to give a grace to the character that is pleasing in a high degree. There was but one fault to be found with her acting last night—she could not be distinctly heard in some of her most effective and pathetic lines.

The support was good, and the frequent applause testified the pleasure of the audience. This afternoon, at a matinee, Miss Evans will appear as "Fay, the Culprit," and to-night as "Dewdrop," in Sea Sands. This latter play is an improved version of the old play, Dewdrop.

FORT WORTH FIREMEN.

THE PETER SMITH BOYS WALK OFF WITH THE LAURELS AT DALLAS. As might have been expected, the Fort Worth firemen came out first-best in the contest at the Dallas State fair yesterday. The triumph was won by the Peter Smith hose company in gallant style, the boys unreeled 250 feet of hose, making hydrant connection and throwing water so quickly as to almost paralyze their competitors.

THE GAZETTE congratulates the boys on their success. Fort Worth owes more to them and their brethren of the other companies than can well be estimated, for they never yet have faltered in the performance of their noble duty—a duty unselfishly and voluntarily borne.

Prepared with strict regard to Purity, Strength and Healthfulness. Dr. Price's Baking Powder contains no Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Dr. Price's Extracts Vanilla, Lemon, Orange, etc., flavor deliciously.

HOME RAILROAD NOTES. The vice-president of the Frisco, Mr. C. W. Rogers, is in the city. Mr. Rogers is here on important business and will remain several days. On to Bonham.

It was rumored yesterday, and substantially rumored too, that the Fort Worth & Denver will not stop when it reaches Quanah, but will be pushed right through to a connection with the Denver & New Orleans. On to Denver City.

President Paddock of the Fort Worth & Rio Grande reached home from a visit to Granbury yesterday evening and brings the news that the contract for grading ten miles of the road from Granbury has been let and dirt will soon fly. The surveying corps is busy locating the bridge over the Brazos so that work may begin at once.

Right-of-way Agent Chambers is still hard at work. This road has got down to work faster than any road ever built out of Fort Worth. Capt. Paddock's promises meant something. Trains will be running to Granbury before we know it.

ALL BUT ONE. The Defeat of the Democratic Candidate for Representative Causes General Surprise.

Will There be a Contest?—Prohibition in the Third Ward—Some Querer Scratching at Dido.

There was great astonishment on the streets yesterday morning when the news began to circulate that Elihu Newton, the Dark-Lantern candidate for the legislature, had defeated Finger, the Democratic nominee by a majority of thirteen votes.

A GAZETTE man at once proceeded to investigate the matter, and meeting up with Mr. Finger himself, he learned that he conceded his defeat by the small majority mentioned. Somehow or other there had been no thought of his failure, and from a mistake in looking up the totals, which, singular to say, was made by more than a dozen men who added up the columns, it was understood and generally believed that he had won by over a hundred votes.

In this calculation allowance was made for the box at Sublett's (still unreturned), which gave his opponent twenty-two majority. It is reported that the presiding officer at this box is sick, and as under the beautiful system of Texas election laws, ten days are allowed in which to return the vote of any precinct, fully that time may elapse before it is known officially how the Sublett sovereigns swung their ballots.

However, unless some error, not yet detected, shows up while the returns are canvassed (a rather forlorn hope), Mr. Newton is the next representative in the lower house of the Texas legislature for Tarrant county. In this connection it may be noted that his election means a vote for Hon. Alex Terrell for the United States senate.

Mr. Newton is the only one of his party to capture a county office, though Nichols, Wiggins and Pulliam, Dark-Lanternites, were elected commissioners in precincts Nos. 2, 3 and 4. In precinct No. 1, which includes the city, Holloway, Democrat, beat White by a heavy majority.

TALK OF A CONTEST. Speculation was rife among the victors yesterday as to whether the defeated candidates would resort to a contest. Rumors were afloat that they would.

Mayor Broile's whose active work in behalf of the Dark-Lanternites during the campaign, has stamped him as the leader of that movement, was approached by THE GAZETTE man with the point blank question:

"Well, doctor, will you contest?" "I have nothing to do with that. Go ask some of the candidates; but I will tell you frankly, that I don't want any contest. I don't think that we had a fair show altogether, especially in the Third ward, where I am told that a number of employees from a certain hotel were run in, though they had no right to a ballot. It is also charged, and I believe that a good many of our men were intimidated and bought off, though whether that would be a ground for contest I don't know. The fact is, that I am going to settle down to business and work for the interests of Fort Worth as well as to repair my own private fortunes, which have suffered by neglect of late. I am not one of those who cherish malice, and whatever asperities and hard feelings that the campaign has engendered I trust will be buried, and forgetting all prejudices, let us all come forward and work for the rebuilding of our town. Some very hard and bitter things have been said of me, but I bore it all patiently. What I want to see is the old-time unity prevail, by which Fort Worth has made such splendid progress in the past."

ELECTION SCENARIOS. The returns from Dido show that the voters at that rural precinct exercised their prerogatives as American citizens by a free use of the lead pencil. They scratched wickedly, did those Dido suffragists. For instance, while Jarvis beat Ashby for the senate by 35 to 15, and Heath for Foster for the senate by 24 to 15, the Democratic nominees for county

WORMS IN HIS EARS. Pittsburg Commercial Gazette. "Come in and see my menagerie," said Dr. L. B. Scott of Carson street to the reporter yesterday evening. In the doctor's office the scribe was shown a collection of small white worms or maggots, which seemed to be the extent of the doctor's enterprise in the collection of animals.

"The remarkable thing about those worms," said the doctor, "is that they were taken out of a man's ear. There are twenty-six of them, and if you had doubted them about in your head you no doubt would have been willing to swear there were two or three menageries in it."

IT WAS LEARNED THAT THE MAN'S NAME IS JOHN KERLER, and he lives near Allentown, on the South side. Yesterday afternoon he called at Dr. Scott's office, stating that he had been suffering for some time with terrible pains in the head, with very profuse discharges from the right ear. At first he said it seemed as though a train of cars was constantly running through his head, and the itching was almost unbearable.

ABLE. Later these symptoms of violence, but the hearing was destroyed, and the discharge was troubling. Upon close examination, the doctor discovered a new way to escape from his human neighbor was then put under the microscope, and a thorough of the probe brought forth, explorations, twenty-six grains with the horrible probability monster's. From a man of Kerler has been reduced to a state of vertigo attack him every day. He felt some relief after yesterday, and strong hopes of recovery are entertained.

THE ONLY POSSIBLE THEORY by the doctor could account for the worms in the man's head, striking a blow which would smother the outer orifice of the ear, and smashed the large part of the ear, the wax being perhaps some cause.
