

ON WALL STREET

The Stock Market Was Active and Irregular Yesterday.

Prices Were Weak, Caused by London's Low Prices and Tightness in Money—Railroad Bonds Extremely Dull.

Special to the Gazette.

New York, Aug. 11.—Money was very stringent today and loaned at high as 25 per cent. The closing rate was 20 and the lowest 15.

Exchange to day—Poated rates $4.85 1/2. Silver—1 1/2 per cent. Sugar—Raw and refined quiet and unchanged.

Coffee—Spot lots closed steady; fair Rio cargoes 20. Futures closed 3 points higher.

Wheat—Options were moderately active and strong; closing 1/2 cent higher. Spot lots closed steady.

Wool—Continued quiet and prices are without important change.

Cotton—Spot lots closed steady; middling upland, 21 1/2. Futures 1/2 point higher.

Hides—Firm. Buenos Ayres, dry, 14c; dry Texas, 12 1/2c.

Stocks were active and irregular to day, while prices were in the main weak. The weakness was due chiefly to lower prices in London for American securities and tightness of money.

The closing figures were generally 1/2 to 1 per cent lower.

In dry goods there is nothing doing. Bonds dull.

Heater, Texas and Fort Worth certificates, 37 1/2.

Fort Worth and Denver 1's, 103 1/2. Atchison general mortgage, 104 1/2.

Kansas and Texas 1's, 112 1/2. Missouri, Kansas and Texas general 7's, 112 1/2.

St. Louis, Arkansas and Texas 1's, 94 1/2. Texas and Pacific 2's, 82 1/2.

Special to the Gazette.

London, Mass., Aug. 11.—Wool in light request in Liverpool and New York.

COTTON—SPOTS AND FUTURES.

Special to the Gazette.

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 11.—The spot market for cotton, closing nominal, quiet, steady.

Liverpool futures opened firm and unchanged.

New York futures opened steady at an advance of 1 to 2 points or early months, later unchanged.

Wool closed firm and unchanged without transaction.

ON CHANGE

Spot Cotton Unchanged, Futures from One to Five Points Higher.

Special to the Gazette.

Business today was very good, all houses did a good business.

The city of cotton trade was quite good and the city trade was up to its usual good standard.

The general family supply and produce markets were fairly well supplied.

There is nothing doing in the way of vegetables and produce of any kind in stock.

There is nothing doing in the way of stock, fruit is quite plentiful and prices are about the same.

There is nothing doing in the way of commodities are firm at figures given.

KAUFMAN'S TRAGEDY

Further Particulars of the Affray which Resulted in the Death of One Man and a Fatal Wound of Another.

Special to the Gazette.

KAUFMAN, TEX., Aug. 9.—On yesterday evening at about 5:30 o'clock our city was thrown into intense excitement by the report of pistols and the further report that two men were shot near the Central depot.

Your reporter, together with a large number of citizens, hurried to the scene of the tragedy, and there found one man dead and another severely if not mortally wounded.

The facts as ascertained this morning at the inquest show that M. A. Mathews, alias Charley, who is foreman of the bridge gang on the Texas Trunk railroad, and one of his men by the name of Ben Smith had a little difference.

Smith and another one of the men complained of being sick at noon on the 8th and did not go out on the works, but after the gang left they went to town and imbibed pretty freely of red-eye.

When the gang returned in the evening Mathews went to the car in which the men slept and found Smith and Clark sitting on a spring cot about to engage in a game of cards.

He told them to get off the cot as it was against the rule for two men to sit on one cot.

At this they moved off the cot, Smith asking Charley Mathews sat the same time if he wanted anything further.

A few words ensued and Mathews struck Smith twice with his fist when Miller Clark rose to the aid of Smith and separated them.

Mathews got out and went to his own car and came back in the direction of where Smith was standing, who in the meantime had got out of the car and was standing off the track, with a dirk knife in his hand, but fearing that Smith had a gun he turned back, went into his car, got his Colt's 44 revolver and again started to where Smith was, and when he was within a few feet of Smith he fired his pistol (which he provided himself with on leaving the car) but he would not.

Mathews still advanced on him and cursed and abused him, telling him that he was too ornery to kill, and at the same time striking him about the face and head with his pistol. Smith drew his pistol and fired at Mathews, hitting him in the right breast with a 38-caliber pistol.

Mathews then fired on him three times, shooting him through the heart, from the effect of which he lived but about five minutes. Smith's pistol failed to revolve, or he would undoubtedly have killed Mathews.

Smith shot through the thumb, the ball going in at the root of the nail, grazing through and cutting a furrow through his hand. Mathews walked back to his car and summoned medical aid. While his wound is a very dangerous one, his physicians, Drs. Hicks and Mulkey, say that it is not necessarily fatal.

The ball was cut out about the middle of the back. The wound is resting quietly. Smith's friends, who live in the Lone Elm neighborhood, this county, near and north of Forney, were notified and came and took charge of the corpse and will inter it in the family burying ground.

Smith's parents and friends are among the best citizens of the county, and the affair is sadly deplored. Mathews is an Odd Fellow, No. 44, Dallas, Tex.

THE RICE CROP OF CHINA

An Interesting Report by Commercial Agent Fossales of Saigon.

Special to the Gazette.

Advice from Saigon, forwarded to the state department by Commercial Agent Fossales, of that port, give the result of this season's rice crop in China. The agent writes:

"Since my last advice the harvest has come to an end under auspicious circumstances, and people continue to think that it is a middling crop."

The rice crop of this season is not so good as last year, but it is still a good one.
