

A GRAND LIST.

The Attractions Booked for the Fort Worth Opera House.

The Coming Season's Employment Promises to Be Bare—Secure Your Partners—A Renovated Opera House.

Ever since his purchase of the Fort Worth opera house some five weeks ago Col. Henry Greenwall has been in the East booking attractions for the coming theatrical season in the Southwest.

Mr. Greenwall now controls all the leading houses in the Texas circuit he has been able to secure more substantial and exclusive companies for the entire string of houses than though he were pulling for one house only.

The opera house has been put through a thorough course of renovation preparatory for the season's usage. What with a well appointed theater building, and a good string of attractions, the outlook for amusements in Fort Worth this season is bright indeed.

About the latter part of September the opera house will open. The dates of all the companies have not been positively arranged, hence no dates are given with the list. Following is the order in which they will come:

TOBE GARNETT. The Murderer Surrounded—His Capture Dead or Alive Certain. Special to the Gazette.

SHERMAN, TEX., AUG. 23.—Telegraphic information reached this city last evening from Denison that Tobe Garnett, the negro who cut his wife's throat there several weeks ago, had been seen near that place, and asked the sheriff for assistance. The Bonham bloodhounds were telegraphed for and arrived on the Cannon Ball. Immediately Deputy Sheriff Harry May and the Fannin county officers left by private conveyance with the dogs for the scene of Tobe's rendezvous. They were joined by the sheriff and Gene Andrews as Cook's Springs, and today's latest reports are to the effect that the murderer is surrounded and his capture dead or alive is almost certain. Jailer O'Callahan, on account of curing and ill conduct, was compelled to put two negro prisoners in straight jackets this morning. They are Simon Ingram, the negro rapist, and Newe Wright. The jailer says they go to the dungeon on bread and water if he has further trouble.

A NEW MEXICAN HIGHWAY. Ground broken on the Matamoros, Linares and Mathenia Railway.

Special to the Gazette. BROWNVILLE, TEX., Aug. 23.—This evening at 5 p. m. amidst imposing ceremonies ground was broken on the Matamoros, Linares and Mathenia road at Matamoros, opposite Brownsville, Tex. The first shovel full of earth was thrown by Gen. Lee, commander of the state of Tamaulipas. Senor Devilla, agent for the company, made a very able and patriotic speech, dwelling at length on the immense benefit that is sure to be derived from the twin cities of Brownsville and Matamoros from this important railroad line.

Other speeches were made in behalf of the state and government authorities, and many telegrams from all parts of Mexico were read. An immense concourse of people, among which were many ladies witnessed the ceremonies. The civil and military authorities of Matamoros were all represented. The most prominent citizens of both cities were in the ground. Sweet music was played at intervals by "Acquila's" famous band. The company has now about 200 miles of road to be completed in a short time. For reasons best known to themselves the names of the officials in charge of this great enterprise are withheld. The line will run from Matamoros to Linares, thence to Mathenia, and will open a rich and fertile part of the country. The distance between the first and last named points is about 150 kilometers. The great event will be further celebrated to-night by a grand ball, to be given at Santa Cruz, a suburb of Matamoros, in honor of the general superintendent of the road now in process of construction, who is a capable and pushing man.

Cases in Which Marriage Seems to be a Failure.

The Domestic Unhappiness Which Drunkenness Has Caused—A Man who Enters His Second Plea for Separation.

Following are the contents of a couple of petitions for divorce entered with the district clerk Saturday.

It will be observed that there is no cessation of midsummer activity in divorce cases. The average is much better than one per day.

Lalla R. Kennedy vs. J. E. Kennedy. Plaintiff sets forth by her attorney, Ben M. Terrell, that they were married in Grayson county in February 1882. The plaintiff conducted herself properly, but long since the defendant has ceased to regard his marriage vows. For about four years past the defendant has been unceasingly a confirmed habitual drunkard, and while drunk is of a boisterous disposition and continually curses and abuses plaintiff and call her all manner of abusive and vulgar epithets. The domestic trouble culminated on the night of August 20, when, as plaintiff avers she was visiting at the house of a certain lady friend in the city, having together with others been invited there to partake of the pleasures and hospitality of a social party, a certain o'clock of said evening very much to plaintiff's humiliation, defendant came to said residence in a beastly state of intoxication, raving and vomiting in a most unbecoming manner, immediately in the presence of plaintiff, her hostess and the guests, the defendant immediately began to quarrel with plaintiff in presence of said gathering, cursed her and apply to her all manner of vulgar and indecent epithets; that as soon as said guests had departed defendant made at plaintiff in an angry, violent manner, saying, "I intend to kill you," and thereupon endeavored to strike plaintiff a terrible blow, but was prevented by the timely intervention of said hostess. He then furiously took plaintiff by the arm, angrily whirled her about the room, again threatened to kill her, and was only prevented from doing so by her giving her serious bodily harm, by the again timely interference of said hostess; that in consequence of the confirmed and habitual drunkenness above named, together with violent threats aforesaid and said brutal and outrageous conduct toward her, plaintiff was obliged to leave the house of defendant and seek the protection of friends, since which time she dares not return to defendant or otherwise live with him.

W. H. Muehler vs. divorce from his wife, Annie Muehler. His petition recites that they were married in August, 1880. About July 15, 1888, defendant, without cause, abandoned and deserted plaintiff and lived away from him for several months, but returned to her and lived with her until April, 1890. Plaintiff says that his wife has at various and sundry times during the time they have lived together been guilty of excesses, cruel and inhuman treatment to plaintiff and has broken her marriage contract and lived with another man.

CONGRESSIONAL

The House Takes Up and Further Considers the Pending Land Bill—Other Bills Passed.

REMARKS. WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The senate met at noon under arrangement that to-day's session was to be devoted to enlarging of the late Senator Beck of Kentucky. Immediately after the reading of the journal Mr. Blackburn offered resolutions which were agreed to expressing the profound sorrow of the senate at the death of Mr. Beck, and declaring suspension of business to enable his associates to pay proper tribute to his high character and distinguished public services. Mr. Blackburn made the opening address.

He held of the services of Mr. Beck in the house, and said that in 1876 he had been sent to the senate by the great state of Kentucky, and had been, with one exception, the only native-born Scotchman who had ever held a seat in the senate chamber, but such had been the confidence of the people of Kentucky in Mr. Beck that thrice had he been elected to the great commonwealth, passed by a host of brilliant sons to the major bench, to intrust her affairs to the care and keeping of her TRUSTED ADOPTED CHILD.

The oak had fallen in the forest. Strong man had been taken away, but there was naught to mourn save his absence. His life's labor was well done. His name would be honored by those who followed; his fame, faithfully earned, was secure, for his future he Mr. Blackburn had no fear. Mr. Beck had been no sectarian; in religion he had held no creed but he had believed the truest and most sublime of all faiths was that which taught men to use their best endeavors for aiding and elevating their fellowmen; and he was in noble deeds. Tributes of affected eulogy and regret were also paid by Messrs. Ingalls, Evans, Vest, Vance, Hale, Allison, Morgan, Plumb, Hampton, Gibson, Coke, McPherson and Carlisle.

The latter briefly sketched the public career of Mr. Beck, and said that although he entered political life without an extended political experience, yet he had soon accustomed himself to the situation, and had soon taken a prominent position among the recognized leaders on his side of the house, and had become universally regarded on their side as one of the most FORGIVEN AND FORGIVING.

From that time to his death he had been one of the most conspicuous factors of politics of the country. He not only defended his own position with great skill and ability, but he

A Fight at Columbus. Special to the Gazette. COLUMBUS, TEX., Aug. 23.—A fight occurred in this city to-night about 7 o'clock between George B. Crawford, constable, and Warren Stafford, in which the two men were badly used up. It appears that Crawford was drunk and met Stafford on the street and commenced to abuse him. Stafford then walked down the street and Crawford followed him. He walked up to Stafford and clinched him, cutting his knife. Crawford said: "If that is what you want," and drew his knife, cutting Stafford's thumb very badly. H. D. Parsons, a bystander came up at this juncture and told Crawford to desist. Then Crawford tried to cut Parsons. Parsons got an ax handle and beat Crawford up considerably. Both men have been taken home and at this writing everything is quiet.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Mr. McKinley of Ohio, from the committee on rules, reported and the house adopted resolutions setting apart Thursday and Saturday of next week for the consideration of bills constituting eight hours as a day's work, and relative to alien contract labor.

A bill was passed authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Little Tennessee river at the Ferry, Tenn.

The house then resumed consideration of the Messrs. Pitt of Illinois and Butterworth of Ohio favored, and Frank of Missouri, Moore of Texas, Rogers of Arkansas, Kelly of Kansas, Stone of Kentucky and Mason of Illinois opposed the bill.

On motion of Mr. Mason an amendment was adopted striking from the bill the clause preventing the use of coals a second time, also an amendment allowing the use of the brand "hard compound," or "compound lamp."

The question was considered on ordering the bill engrossed and read a third time. It was agreed to—yeas, 116; nays, 77. Mr. Mason voted in the affirmative in order to move a reconsideration, but his motion to this effect was laid on the table. In the passage of the bill the vote stood, yeas, 114; nays, 81. No quorum.

The house then adjourned. The bill then comes again Monday or Tuesday.
