WITH MR. AND MRS. KEENEY

Entertainment Given in Honor of Prof. and Mrs. Bucklin and Miss Faught at Bernice,
Louisiana.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Keeny invited a few music loving friends to meet their guests Mr. and Mrs. Bucklin and Miss Faught of Snyder, Texas, and Mrs. Texada of Alexandria.

Miss Faught is a very gifted music pupil of Mr. Bueylin and the entertainment of the evening was a veritable music feast. Mr. Wilson accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Wilson delighted all present with a tenor solo.

Miss Montgomery, a real artist played her latest composition.

After which Mrs. P. M. Lo, sang a scotch song: "Angus McDonald."

The industrial orchestra played a much enjoyed selection "Under the Lillies." Then Miss Faught, accompanied on the violin by Mr. Bucklin and on the piano by Miss Montgomery, sang in a full clear well trained voice, "Answered" by Robyn, which everyone enjoyed.

After Mrs. Thatcher finished telling, as only Mrs. Thatcher can of the woes of a washerwoman, whose daughter had gotten higher culture.

Miss Faught very graciously sang: "You are the Ideal of my Dreams" by Ingraham.

After this Mr. John Graham sang two exquisite flower songs: "The Message of the Violet and the Mission of the Rose."

Then Miss Faught, with Mr. Bucklin as accompanist, played on the violin that most soul touching opera "Il Trovatore" by Verdi.

While the orchestra sent forth the sweet strains of "Silver Threads among the Gold."

Mrs. Keeny and Miss Keeny assisted by little Misses Mary and Francis Wilson served delicious cream and cake.

When this was over at the request of all present, Mr. Bucklin and Miss Faught played two lovely violin duets: "The Dying Poet" and "Alice, Where art Thou."

While all were loth to leave such delightful music and such charming hosts, the lateness of the hour forced a reluctant departure all hoping that Mr. and Mrs. Keeny would give us similar pleasure again soon.

Those present were:
Mr. and Mrs. Bucklin and Miss Faught of Texas; Mrs. Alex Texada, Mrs. B. F. Dudley, Mrs. E. L. Shattuck, Mrs. Caylor of Kansas City, Miss Maurine Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hale, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Wilson, Mrs. R. J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Thatcher, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Keedy, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Logan, Misses May Lee, Ella Montgomery, Annie Mae Tigner, Kathleen and Helen Graham Willie Walters; Messrs. Harry Howard, John Graham, C. L. Chambers and Supt. J. W. ### Leslie-Stimson

Mr. E. A. Leslie who has been residing for awhile at Haskell, Texas and Miss Myrtle Stimson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Stimson of near Snyder were married at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. W. Hunt officiating.

The bride is one of Seary county's most lovable young ladies and has hosts of friends here.

The groom was formerly with the Stimson Drug Store and is popular in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie left Sunday evening over the Santa Fe for the home of the groom's people at Rockwall.

Fireat Sweetwater

The packing house at Sweetwater burned early Sunday morning. It had only recently been erected at a heavy cost.

Birthday Reception.

Tate Lockhart celebrated his thirteenth birthday in July 20th.

On arriving in the hall the guests were requested to register and were served with delicious fruit punch, Miss Hunter very gracefully presiding at the punch bowl.

They were then ushered into the parlor where they had music and played games. One especially interesting game was the wax contest.

The boy and girl making the most perfect wax animal was awarded the prize, an extra saucer of cream.

Miss Irene Harpole and Master Hollingsworth were the prize winners.

After this they assembled on the gallery, where the photograph er with his machine awaited them.

They were then ushered into the dining room where a tempting repast was laid.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in honeysuckle, ferns and pink roses, the color scheme of pink and white was successfully carried out in the refreshments.

The table was laid in hand embroidered damask, the centerpiece being a large cut glass bowl of delicious fruits.

The birthday cake was decorated with thirteen pink and white candles.

The children had quite a jolly time trying to tell their fortunes by blowing out the candles. One little girl succeeded in blowing out almost the entire thirteen.

Delicious pink and white ice cream was served to their hearts content by Mrs. Lockhart, ably assisted by Miss Nation.

The table was then cleared and the cake of fortune was laid on the board to be cut. This afforded quite a lot of fun and laughter.

The hours flew by all too soon and we bade reluctant adieu wishing Tate many happy returns of the day.

A Delightful Evening

Miss Lillian Manry entertained a few of her friends last evening with a basket supper on the banks of Deep creek.

At 5:30, Mrs. Allen Weaver, Mrs. Manry, Misses Gage, Garvin and Grantham, accompanied by Mr. W. W. Smith, Marshall Fuller E. J. Anderson and Ralph Noble with overflowing baskets of good things to eat, bled themselves in W. W. Smith's auto to the shady banks of Deep creek where for two hours, cares and troubles were forgotten, and happiness, laughter and song reigned supreme and while it was not noticeable, cupid with his many darts hovered around in shadows.

It was a beautiful evening and one that will long be remembered in the minds and hearts of the happy participants.

Miss Gage is the sister of Mrs. Allen Weaver with her home at Comanche, Texas.

A Visitors View.

A prominent West Texas man spent a few days in Snyder this week and in speaking of a certain West Texas town he said: "It is a nice quiet town of cultivated people, but business enterprise has gone dead. Socially it is a fine town, but the people are satisfied. They don't care for new enterprises. Don't want any changes. The consequences are that the town is a commercial and industrial corpse. The gentleman said he was glad to note the business energy in Snyder and that the people invite new concerns. As long as this is the case, the town will prosper but whenever the people lay down along that line, the dry rot will set in."

As a household remedy for cuts, burns, bruises, piles, pain and soreness of all kinds, Dr. Cox's Barbed Wire Liniment, 25 cents size has no equal. If not satisfactory, money refunded. For sale by all druggists.

Missionary

The Ladies Missionary Society auxiliary to the Baptist church met in regular session on Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock with Mrs. Fred Grayum. Notwithstanding the lowering clouds a full attendance was had. We noted with pleasure, several visitors. Come again.

Mrs. Cloyes being absent, the meeting was presided over by Mrs. Baker at the special request of Mrs. Faught, the vice president.

The program was carried out as arranged, the reports from the different nations being quite interesting.

The report of Mexico by Miss Grace Ingram was especially appreciated as Mexico is on our own continent and Miss Grace has made it a special study.

One cannot attend these meetings without gaining enthusiasm on the subject.

The special music by the Misses Grayum was much enjoyed and deserves special mention.

The business session was made as brief as possible on account of the lateness of the hour and the threatened shower. Our pastor being the only gentleman present, we made him the guest of honor and allowed him to lead the way to the dining room, accompanied by Mrs. J. E. Smith. The others followed in couples and were refreshed with delicious ice cream and decorated block cake—served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Samples.

All of us, including the guest of honor did full justice to the occasion.

We meet next time at the Pastor's home with Mrs. Ingram.

The next meeting will be held with Miss Nora Grantham.
