The Closing Out Sale Continues

It will cost me no less than $7,000. to close out my business.

Who Reaps The Profits?

You get your part of it in every purchase that you make. For cut these goods and sell them, I WILL!

I Repeat It!

"I Am Closing Out". It is true, I have been receiving goods from day to day. But Listen! These goods were purchased before the closing proposition began.

It Stands To Reason

that no man who is going to remain in business can compete in prices with the merchant who is closing out to retire.

Center on Jackson Highway
Nashville, Tenn. Nov. 11—The directors of the Jackson Highway Association will meet today to receive the report of the pathfinders who have motored over the various routes suggested for the big Jackson Highway from Chicago to New Orleans. It is expected that the route will be definitely settled at today's meeting although there is much controversy over the various sections as to which should have the big highway. The directors met here last September, but got no final argument pending the report of a board of investigation. A governor's committee took part in this preliminary view of the various routes.
