BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Rev. T. J. Goodall, the acting pastor of the First Baptist Church, East Nashville, was given a surprise party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Ezell, Eighth and Georgia streets, Tuesday night, Jan. 15, in honor of his birthday, he being twenty-three years of age. The party was given by the young ladies and gentlemen of First Baptist Church. Misses S. A. Ezell, Mattie Ezell and Mr. A. E. Bennett were leaders of the movement.

At nine o'clock Rev. Goodall was sitting talking to Mrs. Ezell when they heard the singing of "On Christ the Solid Rock I Stand," in the front yard. The parlor doors were opened and thirty beautifully dressed young ladies and gentlemen entered the house and informed him that they were giving him a surprise birthday party.

At 10:30 frappe was served, and at 11 o'clock cream, cake and fruit were served. At 11:30 the party returned to their homes. Those who participated were as follows: All the young men of the Lecture Bureau except Dr. Morten, who is not able to be out: Mr. Thomas Cohn, Dr. Bright, Dr. Woodson, A. Bennett, Will Davis, George Fobbs, Andrew Brown, John Brown, Robert Summers, Sam Whiteside, Will Alexander, R. C. Goodall, Leroy Williamson, Walter Ezell, Misses S. A. Ezell, M. Ezell, Anna Mathews, H. Bingham, Mary Batts, Henrietta Hibitt, Louise Smith, Minnie Crump, Fannie Hockett, Richard Rideout, Ada Dunlap, Verna Dunlap, Hattie Claybrooks, Mrs. M. Alexander, Alie Robinson, Letha McCage, Benella Williams, and Addie J. Davis.

AN ENERGETIC YOUNG MAN.

Mr. Henry A. Boyd, Assistant Secretary of the National Baptist Publishing Board, who was elected at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the One Cent Savings Bank, Monday night, Jan. 14, to succeed Rev. G. I. Jackson, as director, is a rising young man of exceptional business tact and acumen. That body of strong, sterling men will find in this young director a man of push and grit, hopeful and a hard worker—qualities which count for much and mean accomplishment of whatever is undertaken. The older, conservative business men would do well to make accessions to their rank from the worthy young men, who are trying to push their way upward in the business world.

We prophesy that this young director will give an account of himself and a favorable account.

DELIGHTFUL SOCIAL.

Mrs. Brown and her daughter, Mrs. America Coffee, of 16 Trimble street, entertained a number of friends last Monday evening. Games, music and dancing were the enjoyments of the evening. At a late hour a three-course menu was served. Among those present were Misses Fanny Hams, Myrtle McBroome, Samuella McNeil, Bertha Bass, Cecelia Stover, Willie M. Harris, Frances Thompson, Irene Brown, Delphia House, Messrs. S. F. Strong, J. T. Thomas, Charles Alexander, William Haynes, Dr. Woods, Dr. Sanders, Dr. A. R. Gales, Mr. and Mrs. Hanibal Black and Mrs. House.

RAILWAY PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION BANQUET.

Society was given a rare treat on Saturday evening, January 12, when it was entertained at a banquet by the Railway Protective Association in their rooms corner Tenth avenue, North, and Cedar street. This Association has just entered into its third year; yet it has made effective inroads among the people of Nashville. Sentiment is decidedly in their favor, as their work has proven in every way commendable. They direct particular efforts towards caring for the sick, the disabled and unfortunate railway employees, who will connect themselves with the organization. It has been their custom these past three years to give in some way a public entertainment which will bring around them Nashville's good citizens. Saturday evening was not an exception to the rule. Invitations had already been sent out and in response, several hundred were present to give their approval to this event. A supper was spread on the center table and when all had been comfortably seated in the large dining room, it was found that there were yet scores of guests standing. Arrangements were made in the next room, where chairs were placed to accommodate the ladies. Most of the gentlemen were forced to stand. The dining room table contained supper for more than 300 guests. Rev. Preston Taylor, the president of the organization, called the house to order and in a neat speech informed those present of the intentions of the organization. He said that all working people needed to be guided, especially in the saving habit and in economic living, and that he hoped those employees not yet connected with the Association would soon identify themselves. Here prayer was offered, after which the ladies began to serve supper, which consisted of ham sandwiches, turkey, salad on lettuce leaves, celery, pickles, lemonade, cream, cake and fruit. While this was being consumed, Mr. J. C. Napier was called on and delivered one of his good speeches and received hearty applause from the audience. He took occasion to call the attention of the Association and its members to the past record of some he had known and to whom he referred with pride that had long supported one of the creditable institutions in Nashville, the One Cent Savings Bank. He hoped that they would continue. Mr. G. W. Wilson, of Chattanooga, then addressed the Association.

Mr. D. A. Hart, of the Globe Publishing Company, was next introduced. He said that he was there by special invitation. He had missed the last annual banquet and had continued to kick himself until now. Although he had other pressing invitations he felt it his duty to come and mingle with the railroad employees, and tell them that the Globe would chronicle their good, as well as their bad actions in the future. Heretofore, they had only told of the good. He solicited their patronage.

Mr. Henry A. Boyd, Assistant Secretary of the National Baptist Publishing Board, was also introduced. He apologized for the flattering introduction and said that the assistant secretaryship as given out in the introduction did not prevent him from feeling that it was an honor to be invited to such an occasion. He believed that all men who had accomplished something in life ought to be followed and their examples exemplified in the young men, and that the present officers of this Association were a credit to it. He believed the time would come when Negroes would unite and present, not only in the social, but in the commercial and business world, a solid phalanx.

Many ladies were in the audience. The St. John choir, under the leadership of Prof. Chas. H. Kelly, rendered choice music. Several solos were rendered. Much credit for the success of this entertainment is due to the officers and committee. Especially is this true in the case of Mr. William D. Boger, secretary. A number of visiting railway men were present. Some of them as follows: Thomas Carter, Berryman Ramsey, Matthew Carter, Monroe Bunch, Felix Tuhls, John Donlow, George Donlow, V. M. McCoy, Sam Spicer, Allen Tubbs, all of Box, Tenn.; L. C. Knight, of Dickson, Tenn.; G. W. Wilson and Alfred Wofford, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

PARTY LEAVES FOR FLORIDA.

Rev. Preston Taylor, the Fourth avenue undertaker, and Mr. R. E. Watkins left the city Monday morning, Jan. 14, on the 2:25 train for Daytona, Fla., where they will spend several days as the guests of Rev. J. C. M. Combs. En route they made stops at Birmingham, Ala., Jacksonville and St. Augustine, Fla. Rev. Combs was formerly a Nashville citizen, but moved to Florida several years ago. He came to Nashville on the sad mission of interring the remains of his wife in Greenwood Cemetery. Rev. Taylor and Mr. Watkins will spend about two weeks among the balmy groves of the Peninsula State before returning to Nashville.

FOR HER SWEET SAKE.
A copy of the new poems by Prof. James E. McGirt, entitled "For her sweet sake," was presented to Mr. Henry Allen Boyd by the author, who is editor of the McGirt Magazine and founder of the McGirt Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, Pa. This is said to be the first copy of this book to reach Nashville, hence no small amount of comment is being made upon it by men and women.

EBENEZER NOTES.
Mrs. Eva D. Hanna, of Birmingham, Ala., is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. J. Neal, who is quite sick on the Murfreesboro road.
Miss Lillie J. Hall, who has been very ill at her home on Elm Hill avenue, is much better.
Mrs. Frank Johnson, of the Murfreesboro road, is sick.
Eddie Martin has been quite sick, but is slowly improving.

EAST SIDE SOCIAL.
Mrs. Clara Chester entertained Thursday night at supper in honor of Mr. Richard Harding, formerly of Nashville, but now of Pulaski, Ill. A three-course menu was served, which all enjoyed. Those seated at the beautifully arranged table were as follows: Misses Mattie Ezell, S. A. Ezell, Mr. Richard Harding, Mr. Will Davis, Mr. Ambrose Bennett, Dr. R. B. Woodson, Dr. J. Bright and Rev. T. J. Goodall. Mr. Harding has been in the city one month visiting relatives and friends and will leave Friday morning for Illinois.
