THE VIRGINIA BRAND VS. THE NASHVILLE BRAND.

The recent controversy between the Forum, of Springfield, Ill., the St. Luke Herald, of Richmond, Va., and the Nashville Globe concerning the Nashville brand, continues to grow in interest, especially since the fair sex has taken it up themselves. There did not appear to be much to it as long as the newspapers themselves were vying with each other, but things have suddenly taken a change. It is said that Springfield, Ill., has undoubtedly some of the most beautiful girls belonging to the race. While every one knows that Nashville, Tenn., as the "Athens of the South," has produced one Southern beauty after another, while Richmond, Old Virginia, is often looked upon as the birth place of feminine beauty. "Nashville does not and will not back down from the race," said a charming belle a few days ago, while the following comes in a recent letter received by a member of the Globe force from one of Virginia's fair sex: "I note the controversy in the Globe regarding the Nashville brand of girls with Springfield and Old Virginia. I warn you. Do not challenge the Old Dominion for a run of pictures for you will surely run up the white flag. Virginia boasts of many fair daughters." The writer of the letter was entirely too modest to include herself in the race. Her recent photograph has been seen by a Globe representative and would certainly make good if put on exhibition. Some of the ladies of Nashville declare emphatically that they will not concede defeat until they are defeated.

GLOBE MAN IN JACKSON, TENN.

Jackson, Tenn., is one of the thriving cities of Tennessee; it is located on the N. C. & St. L., Illinois Central, Mobile & Ohio Railroad, about half way between Nashville and Memphis. Located in Jackson is one of the four Negro Publishing Houses in the United States; it is known as the Colored Methodist Episcopal Publishing House. Although not calling for a deal of attention in the public eye, this Negro Publishing Plant under the management of Dr. H. Bullock, who is serving his second term as agent, is doing wonderful work in the advancement of Negro enterprises. The institution is located on one of the principal thoroughfares of Jackson and can boast of being one of the few Negro Printing Houses owning and operating a Mergenthaler Linotype machine. The young lady who operates the machine holds possibly the distinction of being the only Negro woman in the United States able to manage this intricate piece of machinery. The Globe reporter was entertained royally by the manager and employees of this institution; he had the pleasure of meeting Mr. E. W. Meek, the general foreman, who for sixteen years has been at this institution as its general foreman and manager and who represents them at all times. Mr. Meek is an experienced, scientific, yet unassuming compositor, pressman, bookbinder, and, in fact, an all around workman. He has managed with such perfection this establishment until his service is almost indispensable. He also met Rev. R. T. Brown, D. D., editor of the National Baptist Publishing Board, REV. R. H. BOYD, Sec'y, 523 Second Avenue, North, NASHVILLE, - - TENNESSEE.

Christian Index, which is the official organ of the C. M. E. Church and one of the few religious journals that do not fill its columns with patent matter and unwholesome advertising. Its editorial columns are replete with a review of current topics and Dr. Brown sees to it that the appearance is kept up to the standard. The Globe reporter ventures the assertion that outside of the National Baptist Publishing Board at Nashville, the C. M. E. Printing House at Jackson is the most complete Negro printing and publishing establishment in the United States. Notwithstanding the membership of this church is not quite 300,000, they have an enormous circulation and do much to bring up the standard of the Negro. The C. M. E. Church only has five Bishops, namely, Bishops L. H. Holsey, D. D., Atlanta, Ga.; Isaac Lane, D. D., Jackson, Tenn.; R. S. Williams, D. D., Augusta, Ga.; Elias Cottrell, D. D., Holly Springs, Miss.; C. H. Phillips, D. D., A. M., Nashville, Tenn.; but there is a discussion as to whether new Bishops shall be elected at the next conference. It is also rumored, but the rumor has not been confirmed, that an effort was on foot to move this publishing house either to Memphis or Nashville. Nashville of course has the better of the argument, because of its already excellent standing and rating as the largest publishing center of the United States except New York, hence should they move from Jackson, they would in all probability locate in Nashville, where they ought to be. This would render a deal of strength to the already crowning importance of Nashville as a Negro publishing house center.

Dr. Bullock is a man of excellent business qualities, who knows the power of the press and knows the advantage of having Negroes read Negro literature. The condition of the institution is reported to be the most prosperous in the history of its existence. This year's business has already shown an increase over the same period last year.

GOING TO OHIO.

Rev. Wm. Z. Thomas, of Columbus, Ohio, has invited Rev. C. H. Clark to deliver the sermon dedicating his new church in Columbus, O. The sermon is to be preached in the early part of May. Rev. Wm. Z. Thomas is building a magnificent church edifice and having attended school in Nashville and pastored in Tennessee, he is well acquainted with the Tennessee ministers. Hence it is his desire to have one of their representatives come to the Buckeye State. In order to accept this invitation Dr. Clark was forced to decline one just given him by the people of Hopkinsville, where he usually goes each year in the interest of the school. Rev. Thomas has made a wonderful record in Ohio. The last improvement entered into was the placing of an order with the National Baptist Publishing Board for a fine grade of church pews and a handsome pulpit suit. The pews and pulpit suit will aggregate about $1,000 in cost and when installed in this new church will show up the good work being done by this young giant.

(the National Baptist Convention, left last week for Louisville, which is her headquarters. She had intended staying in Nashville longer in order to visit all of the churches, but a missionary conference, which was called by the Foreign Mission Board and the Woman's Board jointly, necessitated her presence in Louisville. She writes that she was favorably impressed with Nashville.
