CLARKSVILLE NOTES.

The passing of the last Legislature has left a peculiar effect on this place. It seems that after a successful campaign of making an extremely dry town, and changing the mode of selecting aldermen from each ward to the city-at-large, another law has spurred the peace officials to seek out those designated as vagrants and cause them to appear before justices of peace for judgment. A number of colored vagrants has been fined, but it remains to be seen whether in the entire population of Clarksville, there will be any vagrants other than colored. While the law exempts persons belonging to labor unions on a strike, no provision is made for the person who refuses the munificent salary of $1.00 to $2.00 a week for labor that twice the amount is hardly a sufficient compensation.

The engineering department is causing the city to put on metropolitan airs. Concrete pavements and guttering are much in evidence, and a few streets of the famous Ninth ward are being repaired and improved. If only these streets could have sidewalks made from the bricks that are giving place to the concrete pavements, no doubt the neighborhood would rise up and say blessed.

The funeral cortege of the late Gabriel Meriweather left Clarksville last Wednesday for New Providence, Tenn., the scene of his childhood days and early manhood. Relatives, friends and Mt. Hebron Lodge, Odd Fellows, of which Mr. Meriweather was a member, accompanied the body on its journey to its last resting place. Funeral services were held at Green Hill Baptist Church with the Rev. T. Perkins officiating and interment at Providence cemetery.

May, the month of flowers, has furnished but few beautiful days up to this writing. Last Thursday the first one witnessed two lawn fetes and moonlight parties without the moon. Financially it was a success.

Mrs. Rhoda Poindexter, corner Marion and Kellogg, had quite a crowd at her Spring opening for the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, while Mrs. W. H. Parrish in the immediate neighborhood gave quite an excellent entertainment for the Fifth Ward Baptist Church. She realized something.

Memorial eulogies for the departed members and Thanksgiving services for the living of Mt. Hebron Lodge, Odd Fellows, were held last Sunday at Fifth Ward Baptist Church before an audience which filled the edifice. The principal addresses were made by Dr. C. V. Roman, of Nashville, and Rev. Lewis Cross.

The annual commencement of the Colored High School will take place at Elders Opera House, Friday, May 24th.

The unseasonable weather has caused several visits of the grim reaper. Last week the following: Mr. Gabriel Meriweather, Mr. Isaiah Hayden, Mrs. Pattle Farriel, Miss Nannie Killebrew and Mrs. Mary Morton.

The Ministerial Alliance was given a banquet by the pastor and members of Wesley Chapel A. M. E. Church last Tuesday night.

Mr. Richard Bibbs left for Louisville, Ky., Sunday.

Mr. Walter Leavell, of Louisville, Ky., came in Sunday.

Mr. G. H. Laprade, of Hopkinsville, Ky., was in the city Sunday.

Mr. M. C. Dunbar spent Sunday at Sallors Rest, Tenn.

Miss Rosa Keese returned home Monday after a successful school term in the country.

Mr. Wm. White, of Dixon, Tenn., was in the city Monday.

Mrs. Lucy Neavell has as her guest her sister, Mrs. Carter, of Chicago, Ill.

SMYRNA NOTES.

Miss Bertha Ransom, daughter of Rev. Ed. Ransom, was buried last week. Another interment was that of the infant of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burnett.

Rev. A. W. Pankey, pastor of the Laverne Church, spoke to the Sand Hill Sunday School last Sunday.

Miss May Eliza Beatty, who has been in school at Walden, has returned home.

Mrs. M. C. Wade is on the sick list. Mrs. Amanda Jones and twelve pound girl are doing well.

Mrs. J. C. Field, of Nashville, is visiting Miss E. M. Perry this week.

Misses Anna Cannon and Lizzie Banks have returned home after spending a week with relatives in Nashville.

Mrs. Susan Gooch is now a reader of the Globe.

Mrs. J. H. Darden attended the Walden exercises Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Burnett, Jr., spent Sunday here.

COLUMBIA NOTES.

The annual thanksgiving services of the Grand U. O. of O. F. was held at St. Paul A. M. E. Church Sunday, May 12. The sermon was delivered by Dr. T. W. Stevens. An address on Odd Fellowship, W. H. Ogletton; address in behalf of Household of Ruth, No. 95, Miss Maggie Wingfield; address in behalf of Juveniles, No. 10, Miss Corene Kennedy, were on the program. Prof. J. H. Kelly was master of ceremonies.

A May Festival will be held at Bethel A. M. E. Church, beginning May 15, for three days and nights. Miss Henrietta Hyde will be "Queen of the May."

A marriage that came as a surprise was that of Mr. Floyd Conner and Miss Mary Young. They are at the home of the groom's parents, Mr and Mrs. John Conner on Washington street.

Mrs. Dora Bryant is quite sick at the home of her father, Mr. William Dobbins, of Eleventh street.

Leonard Lowery, son of Mrs. Jennie Wigfall, died May 8, after a lingering illness.

Miss Fannie Bowser was the guest of Miss Magnolia Danial Sunday.

HOT SPRINGS NOTES.

Mrs. Ellen Perry Elliott, of Hot Springs, Ark., proprietress of the Elliott Hotel, and former student of Roger Williams University, gave a successful entertainment at the hotel for the benefit of her alma mater. Mrs. Nannie Wilson, sister of Mrs. Elliott, prepared the supper. A program of speeches, music and recitations was rendered. Music was furnished by the Hot Springs Band. Among those present was Mr. R. E. Page, a graduate of Roger Williams University.

The rendition of "Emancipation Day," by Mr. Tom Logan, comedian and stage director, added much to the evening's pleasure. A neat sum was realized, which will be turned over to the proper authorities.

Before leaving Nashville and her old home, which she visited in February, Mrs. Elliott subscribed for the Globe, which she finds much pleasure in reading.

OLYMPIC PARK INSPECTED.

On Thursday evening a party of citizens visited the Olympic Park, a new addition to Greater Nashville, for outing and pleasure-seekers. The party was under the direction of the Board of Directors, headed by Dr. P. R. Burrus, who is president of the Olympic Park Company, and Dr. R. S. White, the secretary. They met at 3:30 o'clock at Burrus' drug store, corner Cedar and McLemore streets, and went to the park in wagons. It is said that every one present was highly pleased with the arrangements. It is the intention of the management of the park to give Nashville another up-to-date, first-class resort. The inspecting party reports that all modern improvements have been made, and that carpenters, painters and other mechanics are at work daily making preparations for the opening day.

The regular way of reaching the park will be by boat from the Broadway wharf. Upon reaching the park, a special and convenient landing has been erected. The boats are to leave every hour. It is expected that the opening days, May 25, 26 and 27, will be three of the biggest days in Nashville. A Globe representative has had several long talks with prominent men identified in this movement. One of them stated that over $50,000 would be spent in improvements, grounds, etc., and that the club house, which overlooks the baseball grounds, would be unexcelled. The opening days will be eagerly looked forward to by hundreds of people.
