

FLAG AND DOLL DRILL.

About 200 people witnessed one of the best juvenile concerts given in Nashville recently. The program was rendered at the Spruce Street Baptist Church Monday night, August 21. The principal numbers on the program, and possibly the most attractive ones, were the two drills, the flag drill by the larger girls and the doll drill by the little tots. They showed exceptional training and executed orders in the formation of the drill with precision and ease. Miss Jennie Dunson was the manager of the concert and much credit is due her for the showing made. She had selected children from all churches and all parts of the city, thus drawing upon a large number of visitors who spent the evening very pleasantly. Some special numbers, recitations and solos were also rendered pleasingly. The affair was a financial success.

REV. W. L. LAUDERDALE TO VISIT NASHVILLE.

Rev. W. L. Lauderdale, D. D., of Birmingham, Ala., has practically decided upon a trip to Nashville. Dr. Lauderdale has not been to this city for more than five years. His business connections have kept him confined solely to the state of Alabama. He is president of the great Southern Industrial Home and Insurance concern that has written over two million dollars' worth of insurance this year, and which has branch offices in most of the cities of the state of Alabama. He is also president of the People's Package Company of Birmingham, which institution although young, is doing a remarkable business. Dr. Lauderdale possesses a 1906 model gasoline auto-car and is one of the best chauffeurs in Birmingham. He drives the car with speed as well as perfection. He is the only Negro in Birmingham owning an automobile. His trip to Nashville will be one purely of business. He contemplates opening a branch office of his insurance company in this city, and will do so if he can get the co-operation of business men in this city.

RUN DOWN AND BADLY INJURED.

Mr. William McHenry was run down and badly injured in the un-town district Monday by one W. A. Conner (white), who whipped up his horse and sped away, without stopping to ascertain the injuries of the victim of his careless driving. Mr. McHenry received severe external bruises and it is thought internal injuries. Mr. McHenry is from Spring Hill, Tenn., where he is well and favorably known. Judge Baker fined Conner $10, which was light in view of the almost criminal mischief he had done, and his heartless indifference toward his victim in not stopping.

DR. DENNY ILL.

Dr. W. D. Denny, pastor of Bethel A. M. E. Church, on Tenth avenue, South, is very sick at his home, 1306 Fourth avenue, South. Dr. Denny is one of the leading physicians in Nashville, and a very prominent minister in his church.

GEORGE KING PAINFULLY HURT.

George King, a workman in the National Baptist Publishing House's manufacturing department, was run down and painfully injured near the intersection of Jo Johnston and Third avenues, about 6:30 o'clock Monday morning while on his way to work, by a white man driving a delivery wagon. King was assisted to his room at 318 Jo Johnston, where he is now doing fairly well. The driver of the wagon had King's wounds dressed and compensated him for his loss of time to his satisfaction.

SUDDENLY CALLED HOME.

Miss Laura S. Harris, of Memphis, who has been spending some time visiting in Chattanooga and on Lookout Mountain since the adjourning of the Baptist State Convention, arrived in the city Saturday Morning last to spend a few days as the guest of Mrs. Lillie M. DeWecs, of 1027 Ament street. Tuesday Miss Harris had the misfortune to receive the sad intelligence of the death of her younger brother, who had been ill only a short time. She had been informed as to his illness, but it was not known that he was approaching the brink of eternity, and therefore her people did not urge her to cut short her vacation and return home immediately, as they were desirous of her finishing her stay as she had planned.

Miss Harris left Tuesday night for home. She was accompanied to the station by a number of young people who tried to make her as comfortable as possible preparatory to taking her leave on the sad journey.

MEETS DEATH IN A CELL.

A prisoner was found dead in a cell at the station house Sunday. His name was T. F. Peyton, a native of Columbia, but he had resided in this city for some time. He was an employee of the Schlitz Brewing Company. It is said. Peyton was arrested Saturday on the charge of being under the influence of liquor, and disorderly conduct. He made no complaint when the key of the cell door was turned upon him and the police had no idea that there was anything wrong with the man until Sunday morning, when he was found dead.

The lady with whom Mr. Peyton boarded declares that he was not under the influence of liquor on the day of his arrest. She says he was subject to fits and on Saturday he seemed demented and spent a part of the time in lying in prayer and crying. She thinks he died in a fit.

M'NEAL-ELLIOTT WEDDING.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Elliott and Mr. A. E. C. McNeal, of Tuskegee, took place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. J. Bright, of North Hill street. About seventy-five relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Father Kuhns, of Jamaica, and Rev. T. W. Johnson. The plan of the wedding, though quite simple, was very artistic in effect. Ferns and trailing vines festooned over the doorways being banked with magnolias and vines festooned over the door ways and windows. Under an arch of foliage and ferns the impressive ceremony of the Episcopal Church was performed.

The waiting guests were entertained with a musical programme. Miss Martha Wells sang, "I'd Live For Thee, I'd Die For Thee," and "Love Me and the World is Mine," was rendered by Mrs. H. A. Cameron. The wedding march was played by Miss Alberta Smith. During the ceremony she played the "Flower Song." The bridal party was led by two little ribbon bearers, Jeannette M. Bright and Aileen D. Streater, who wore pretty white organdy dresses and blue sashes. Through the aisle thus formed entered the groom with his best man, Mr. F. J. Work, followed by the maid of honor, Miss Lillian A. Bright, who walked alone. Miss Bright's gown was pale blue mull trimmed with val lace and tucks. Her gloves and slippers were blue, and she carried a bouquet of pink dahlias. The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her nephew, Dr. J. W. Bright. The bride is a strikingly beautiful brunette, and was very handsome in a gown of French mousseline. A beautiful creation of fine lace and dozens of tiny tucks. Over it her tulle veil fell from a bunch of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white orchids. She wore a gold necklace and the wedding ring, gifts of the groom. During the reception which followed the guests were registered by Miss Carrie E. Walker. Mr. and Mrs. McNeal left on the four o'clock train on the wedding trip and will be at home after September 1, in Key West, Florida. Her going away gown was a brown check taffeta, with a white silk blouse, tan hat and gloves. Mr. McNeal has charge of St. Albans Episcopal Normal School at Key West. A large collection of valuable and useful presents were received.

DEATH CLAIMS NOBLE WOMAN.

Mrs. Adella Mills, the Popular Jefferson Street Grocer, Passed Away Last Saturday Night—Funeral at St. John A. M. E. Church.

The many friends of Mrs. Adella Mills will miss her pleasant smiles, for on last Saturday night she breathed her last at her home, 1806 Jefferson street. Her husband, son and daughter-in-law and a few friends were by her side during the last moments, and looked on eagerly as the soul took its flight to the unknown beyond.

The funeral services were conducted at St. John A. M. E. Church, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, by the pastor, Dr. T. W. Haigler, assisted by Revs. Felix Mays and W. S. Ellington. Each speaker said words of high praise concerning the life of Mrs. Mills, which seemed to impress the large audience deeply.

The obituary read by Dr. Haigler sets forth a life that was beautiful and worthy of emulation.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Adella Mills was born in Augusta, Ky., September 20, 1862. She was the daughter of Richard and Harriet Bean, and lived happily in the home of her girlhood until she was sixteen years of age, when death called her mother from labor to reward. A short time after this sad occurrence, Adella went to Cincinnati to live with relatives. It was in that city that she met Mr. Frank Mills, and they were married in 1885. They lived happily together twenty-two years. Last Saturday night at the hour of 12, the loving tie that bound their hearts as one was severed, and the spirit of Adella Mills went to meet its Maker, the God who giveth and who taketh away at his will.

Mrs. Adella Mills was a Christian woman. Her church and its interests were a part of her daily life. She was always a help to the weak and a support to the poor and needy and sick and afflicted. She had a kind word, an encouraging word, a message of love for every one with whom she came in contact. Surely a good and noble woman has fought the good fight, won the victory, and is now at the throne of our Maker.

Next to her religion Mrs. Mills placed her family circle. She was a devoted wife and loving mother. True as the needle which points to the North Pole was she to everything that was of worth to her domestic interests.

Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Mills, William Franklin and Howard Clio; the latter and her husband survive her. In conversation with Mrs. Childress, a dear friend and neighbor, she said that she had two experiences during her sickness, and felt that there was something she had not given up. After deliberating upon the matter she reached the conclusion that it was her boy she was clinging to. She prayed to God to relieve her mind of him, which he did. She was conscious of her death. Every time she closed her eyes she would see them arranging for her funeral and she asked the Lord to remove that from her mind, and her prayer was answered. On Tuesday of last week Mrs. Mills said to her daughter-in-law, "Mattie, take care of Clio; take him to church, for you will never do any good unless you live close to the Lord. Take care of your father, and he will be a friend to you both if you will treat him right." Mrs. Mills was a member of Rebecca Court of Calanthe, No. 3, I. O. O. C., and Eastern Star Chapter, No. 8. Her last official act was to attend the State Grand Session of the Court of Calanthe one month ago. Although her physician advised her not to make the journey to Knoxville, she felt that her duty must be fulfilled. After the session she returned to her home and took her bed. Although under the care of the best physicians nothing could be done to save her life.

Truly a good woman has gone. May we emulate her good traits, serve our Master as she did, and at last meet our dear friend, sister and comrade in that home which is prepared for the final faithful.

The body was laid in a beautiful black plush casket, which was laden with many wreaths of flowers. The following were active pall bearers: D. A. Hart, Charles Porter, M. V. Buford, Levi Adams, James Pepper, Charles Dangerfield. Interment at Greenwood Cemetery.

LOOKS SUSPICIOUS.

It looks from the prolonged visit of Hon. A. N. Johnson that he intends going into the undertaking business in Nashville. He has been gathering up data from the Board of Health and has been seen about the Boyd Building a deal and only smiles when told that it is reported that he is going in business here. He bears the reputation of being the ablest business man in Alabama, and having sold out there, it is believed he is about to stop in Nashville.

SPORTING NEWS.

BY LEON.

Owing to the strike of the Knights of the Key, the sporting news is somewhat shy this week.

The Next on Tap.

As both the National Baptists and the Nashville Butchers claim the championship of the city league it has been decided to play for the coveted honor on Monday, August 26, at Athletic Park. As these teams are equally strong a hard battle is on tap. The pitchers of both aggregations are of the spit-ball variety. It is to be hoped that while the Baptists love water and plenty of it, it will not rain on that date, as was the case on their last outing. In order to see the last and best game of the season of '07, come out on the above-mentioned date at 3:30. There will be an old timer on the side lines.

We would like to hear from some of the fast skaters. That is sport, too.

What is the matter with the Utopia Gun Club? Has it ceased to be so soon, or have all the members gone to the resorts?

It is rumored that the entertainers of Nashville have a plan on foot to uncork one of the biggest social events that was ever attempted in the South on or about Oct. 15. So get your good clothes ready as you will need them if you wish to cut any ice.

The game of Monday, August 12, between the Stars and Butchers would have been a good game had not the Stars made errors at critical times; but after all, the score was close—5 to 4 in favor of the Butchers. The Butchers have challenged the National Baptists for a game to be played not later than August 26.

Special to the Globe.

Mr. S. M. Dickson, the president of the North Nashville Tigers, says that he intends to have one of the fastest minor teams in the city of Nashville next season. It will be headed by E. Whittaker, the swiftest second baseman in the squad, with Warner, Vaughns, the heavy-hitting first baseman, as captain.

The N. N. T. played 30 games last season, winning 27 and losing 3.

GANS EXPECTS ROUGH BATTLE WITH BRITT.

Champion Will Take No Chances on Coming Bout with Californian.

"Everybody tells me that this fellow Jimmy Britt is a hard man to whip," said Joe Gans when he arrived from San Francisco yesterday. "While I never say I am sure of winning a fight, I can say now that I am always trying, and that ought to count some. I have been training for eight days up north and I will be at weight inside of a week without hurting myself. "Take chances? Not for mine. Nelson took chances the other night. He could have signed with me for a $40,000 purse, but he went against Britt for a little money and Britt whipped him. That was Nelson's hard luck, for he may never get a chance to fight for a big purse again. I have a big purse in sight with Britt, and it would mean a big loss to me to let him win. That is one reason why you can bet that I will be ready to put up the best fight that is in me."

Asked about his physical condition, Joe said: "Some people think that the Goldfield fight has affected me. I have not been in the ring since the Herman fight at Tonopah and I don't know, to be dead certain. I can say, though, that I have found no traces of it so far. One reason why the Nelson fight did not hurt me is that I did not take any punishment. All I had to do after the tenth round was to stay there and let him shove me around the ring. He wouldn't fight, so that is all there is to it."—Clipped.

Get in line, you pigskin hurdlers.

ADJOURNED SESSION.

The District Conference of the A. M. E. Church, which recently met in Gallatin, Tenn., will hold an adjourned session at Payne Chapel A. M. E. Church on Monday, August 19, 1907, to wind up the unfinished business. A special effort will be put forth in the interest of education. The churches are endeavoring to raise a sufficient amount of money to complete the main building at Shelbyville, Tenn. Several of the leading ministers in the Tennessee Annual Conference will be present and a successful meeting is anticipated.
