LECTURE TO MEN ONLY.

Chas. Stewart, the Celebrated Newspaper Correspondent, to Deliver a Special Address.

Arrangements for a special address to be delivered to men only at the Mount Olive Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon, December 22, were completed last Friday, when Rev. C. H. Clark, the pastor, agreed that the meeting could be held in his church. Mr. Chas. Stewart, an associated press correspondent, a man of wide experience who travels continually throughout the United States and a man who is possibly known better than any other layman in either of the denominations among the Negroes, will deliver the address on this occasion. Mr. Stewart is a speaker, a writer and a business man. The securing of his services for this occasion was a decided hit for the men of Nashville. His personal acquaintance with conditions and his wide experience with every section of the country fit him for the duties he is to perform. The various organizations of Nashville, benevolent, secret and religious, will be asked to send their male members out on this occasion. The meeting will be held at 3 p. m. Some of the speakers already engaged are Prof. John Burrus and Rev. R. H. Boyd. While no lengthy addresses will be delivered by either, they have kindly consented to help out during the day. Male voices in the choir and the organist of Mount Olive Baptist Church will furnish music. Hence the indications are that the meeting will be a success. A special invitation to call churches, regardless of denomination, is extended through the columns of the Globe. It is hoped that the male citizens of Nashville will attend and fill the auditorium, which is the most spacious in the city.

WHERE IS BEASLEY?

Some weeks ago a white rape fiend, an agent for pictures and living in this city, entered the home of Mr. Beasley, who, with his three little motherless girl children, lives near Greenwood Park, and finding no one there but the little girls, pounced upon the eldest child, who is but 12 years of age, and raped her. That devil has not yet been arrested, as the public knows. Because he is white is no earthly reason why he should not be hunted down and made to stand answer to the people for his "nameless crime." He is none the less of a brute because he is white. He has outraged the public, and the outraged public demands that punishment be meted to him for his brutal deed. Where is Beasley, the father of the little girl? Had he been as active as he should have been, long ere now that scoundrel who butchered his little innocent child, would have been behind the prison doors, the object of the contempt and scorn of every law-abiding citizen of this community. There is not a decent white citizen in this city who would have objected to Beasley bringing the villain who desecrated his home to justice.

NINE O'CLOCK SUPPER.

The United States Club gave their annual entertainment at the residence of Miss Mary L. McGhee, 1213 Alabama street, last Thursday evening. The officers are as follows: President, Mr. Overton Carter; Vice President, Miss Mary L. McGhee; Miss Mammie O. Johnson, Treasurer; Miss Mary E. White, Secretary. The table was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and ferns. A three-course menu was served. Games and dancing were the enjoyment of the evening. Those present were Misses Jennie McCrea, Cassie Bryant, Annie McCullough, Louise Hunt, Ruth Toads, Mammie Ashford, Perilla McCruthern, Tennie Gilliam, Manie Miller, Katie Overton, Hanner Perkins, Fannie Johnson, Willie B. Davis, Messrs. George Harris, James Fly, Lark Williams, Samuel Bryant, Nolan Spann, Ino. Overton, Horace Vaughn, Porter Roberson, Charlie Watkins, Arthur Flemming, Lawrence Buford.

SHOPPING FROM THE MOON.

If you could sit in the most comfortable seat in all "Moonodom" with a search-light as powerful as the sun which you could direct at will upon each of the world's great toy stores as they paraded, panorama-like, before you; with a telephone at hand through which to ask prices and place orders; with a glass at your eye which would reveal the "teeniest" detail of each toy in each shop, you would, in twenty-four hours, see just about every variety to be found in the Phillips & Buttorff Mfg. Co's great Toyland, 217-223 Third Ave., N., and scarcely anything more.

Neither would you get a price that would tempt you more than theirs. Remember they buy direct through resident buyers who take whole factory outputs for distribution among six mammoth establishments. The world, both old and new, contribute their best to this vast exposition of the very things the children chose.

THANKSGIVING AT A. & M. COLLEGE.

A Great School at Normal, Ala.—A Noble Man at Its Head.

Rev. W. S. Ellington has returned from Normal, Ala., where he went to preach the Thanksgiving sermon before the faculty and students of the A. & M. College. He was delighted with all that he saw and heard. He says that the A. & M. College is one of the best disciplined schools under the tutelage of colored teachers. He was greatly delighted with the enthusiasm and scholarly zeal of the students, and with the culture and refinement of the teachers. The various industries are given their merited place, while the intellectual and religious life of the students are assiduously cultivated. Rev. Ellington is especially loud in his praise of Prof. Council, the honored President of that great school, who has done a magnificent work and is worthy of the confidence and the profound respect which he enjoys.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON HERE.

According to previous plans, Pres. J. W. Johnson of Roger Williams University, has moved from Columbia, Tenn., to this city. Prof. Johnson will have his office and headquarters out at the new school. He has already begun active work, completing many little details necessary for the opening, which has been agreed upon. He was very busy Wednesday, as President Haynes of the State Convention, Rev. A. O. Kinney and others were looking about the grounds and building trying to arrange for the installing of heating apparatus. Steam heat will be used in the present building. Work on this will begin within the next eight or ten days. Prof. Johnson is determined to have the opening of the school on the date agreed upon, and to have everything in readiness for that time.

CHAS. H. CALLOWAY VISITS NASHVILLE.

Mr. Chas. H. Calloway, one of the leading members of the Kansas City, Mo., legal fraternity, has been a visitor in the city this week. Mr. Calloway arrived here Friday, being called home on account of the illness of his father, Mr. Calloway, of Tenth avenue, South.

Mr. Calloway is an old Nashville boy, having graduating from the city High School, after which he finished the collegiate course at Fisk University, graduating with the class of 1901. From Fisk he went to St. Paul, Minn., where he took a course in law at the University of Minnesota graduating with high honors. Locating in Kansas City, he began the practice of his chosen profession and is now making an enviable reputation on account of his legal ability. He not only stands high among the most learned members of the bar in Kansas City, but is rapidly pushing to the front in all lines in which the welfare of the race is concerned. He has been repeatedly honored by the various secret societies of which he is a member, being at present the Grand Attorney for the U. B. F's, one of the strongest fraternal organizations in that state.

Mr. Calloway possesses a host of friends in this city and though the mission upon which he came to Nashville forbade any formal social affairs in his honor, he was entertained informally by several of his intimate friends. His father's condition having improved so much, Mr. Calloway left Thursday for his home.

ACCEPTS NEW POSITION.

Mr. Fred J. Ewing, who for a number of years has been assistant foreman of the composing room of the Baptist Publishing House, has severed his connection with that institution to accept a position at Tuskegee Institute. Mr. Ewing will leave early Sunday morning for his new place of duty.
