mon at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. One of the most interesting features of the commencement exercises were the oratorical and elocutionary contest on Tuesday night. Two gold medals were awarded. One is offered by Dr. R. B. Brookings, of Ufala, Ala. Dr. Brookins's daughter is music teacher in Turner. A large number of the leading ministers of the A. M. E. Church in Tennessee were present at the Commencement. Bishop H.

B. Parks was also present, and presided over the Trustees' meeting. The new M. E. Church (colored) is nearing completion. Rev. Collier is doing a great work at Shelbyville. Elder Preston Taylor visited Turner Normal last Sunday, the guest of Dr. Jones. He was shown through the building and over the grounds, and expressed himself as being delighted with the work. The noted newspaper correspondent, Mr. Horace D. Slatter, was a guest of Turner College commencement week. Dr. Jones, of Turner College contemplates attending the Commencement at Wilberforce University, of which institution he has been for a long time a trustee.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC. From time to time news items intended for publication in the Nashville Globe have been entrusted to various individuals. They have been handed to different people in the streets reaching the office late, and sometimes not getting there at all. All matter intended for publication in the Nashville Globe should be sent to THE NASHVILLE GLOBE, 447 Fourth Avenue North. It should be signed by the party sending in the news item, so that it can be verified. The Globe desires to serve this notice that it will not be responsible for publication of news items sent to any other office outside of the Nashville Globe office or handed to some representative of the Globe. From time to time news items intended for publication have been sent to R. H. Boyd, to the National Baptist Publishing Board, to the A. M. Sunday-School Union, and other printing establishments in the city of Nashville. Take note of the above fact. Signed: THE NASHVILLE GLOBE, 447 Fourth Avenue, North.

ENTERTAINED. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Cannon, of 635 Allison street, entertained on Monday night in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Emma L. Thompson, of Shelbyville, Miss Johnnie and Miss Alice Esmond, of Tuskegee Institute. Music and games were indulged in until a late hour, when refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Bird Thompson, Esmond Cannon and Mrs. Fitzgerald, Messrs. Rucker, Cannon and Cook.

CLUB ENTERTAINED. The Ladies' Night Blooming Jasmine Art Club was beautifully entertained on Thursday night, May 27, by Mrs. Lucile Turner, of 615 Ninth Avenue, South. The meeting opened at 9 o'clock with a song, "Blessed assurance, Jesus is mine." It being the fourth Thursday of the month, a programme was rendered as usual in connection with our needle work. We were delighted to have present three visitors, Mesdames Mamie Turner, Moseley and Buford. After the programme the work was inspected by the ladies, and a few remarks of encouragement on club work from each one, after which we were invited to the dining-room and charmingly served with a two-course menu.

ROSE BUD CLUB. The Rose Bud Club of East Nashville met at Miss Etta Lee Bradford's, 626 Webster street. The meeting was opened with prayer by the chaplain, afterwards a song. The roll was called, then business transacted. Later on in the evening a three-course menu was served. Music was the principal feature of the evening, rendered by several members of the club. Next meeting will be held with Miss Nannie May Forest, 515 Lischee Avenue. The President requests all members to be present at Payne Chapel at the next meeting.

LADIES EXTENSION SOCIETY OF ST. JOHN A. M. E. CHURCH. The Ladies Extension Society held their monthly meeting at the residence of Mrs. Chas. A. Danzgerfeld, 1604 Alberta Avenue, Friday afternoon, May 28, 1909. The Society is doing a great work for the church in assisting the trustees to pay off the bonded debt and once more see this grand old structure free of all debts. The President of the Extension Society, Mrs. E. C. Coffey, being absent, the meeting was presided over by Mrs. E. Granberry. The Society was called to order by Miss M. B. Topp, Assistant Secretary. Singing was indeed charming by the society. No programme having been prepared, the roll was called and the amount reported was $9.12. This amount and $34.31 from the May Carnival with that already raised, neat sum in treasure, will enable this society to pay on her bonded debt $80.78. Mrs. Danzgerfeld, the hostess, served the society a two-course menu, which was enjoyed by all. The society then adjourned to meet the fourth Friday in June at the residence of Mrs. Mollie Burk, Cossack street, South Nashville.

TEACHER HONORED. Prof. W. S. Reynolds, of Hadley School, was entertained by the members of his night school class on Thursday evening, May 27, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Woodard, 435 Eighth Avenue, North. A very delightful evening was spent in music and games. The members of the class were Messrs. M. F. D. Alexander, Edgar McAdoo, Walter Moppins, Barthel Choen, Misses Mary Polk, Ophelia Watson and Estella Norman. Others who enjoyed the hospitality of the class were Mr. Joseph Hall, Miss Lizzie Winston and Mrs. Martha Young. Cakes, ices and fruits were served. Prof. W. S. Reynolds was presented with a pair of gold cuff buttons by his class, with his name engraved on them.

PUBLIC MAY ATTEND CONGRESS SESSIONS. Some one has asked whether or not the general public would be permitted to attend the sessions of the Congress and Chautauqua. It is stated by the Secretary and chairman of the meeting that visitors are cordially invited to every session even in the departmental meetings. There will be no secret sessions or meetings behind closed doors. These meetings, according to the management's statement, are for the betterment of the religious and home life. Prayer services, as well as song services, will be held daily.

CONGRESS VISITORS. Rev. S. N. Vass, of Raleigh, N. C., one of the leading Baptists of the United States, and looked upon as one of the best Biblical scholars in the denomination, has arrived. Dr. Vass has many warm friends in Nashville. J. R. Oliver, Jr., of Tupelo, Miss., is attending the Congress. W. A. Clemons, Algiers, New Orleans, La., is representing a large Sunday-school in Louisiana. Mrs. A. D. Barnett, of Columbus, Ohio, is among the prominent Sunday-school workers, who are here for the work of the Congress. Rev. Dr. Robinson, of Little Rock, Ark., was an interesting speaker this morning, to the delight of the audience. Rev. J. M. Frost, D. D., of the Southern (white) Baptist Sunday-School Board, was the guest of the Congress at the noon hour. He spoke for thirty minutes, covering a large number of subjects, and paid a glowing tribute to the work of the Negro Baptists and the work being done by Negroes along religious lines. Rev. J. F. Thomas and wife, of Chicago, Ill., are in the city this week. Rev. J. Franklin Walker, of Cincinnati, O., is in the city a delegate to the Sunday-School Congress. The chorus of singers at the Congress is wearing Chautauqua caps with a simple, neat and attractive uniform of white shirt-waist and dark skirts. There is no doubt that the largest crowd that ever went to the Ryman Auditorium will be there Sunday afternoon between 2 and 5 p. m. at the special Mass-Sunday-School-Meeting under the auspices of the Sunday-School Congress. Among the visitors in the city is Rev. E. C. Morris, D. D., of Helena, Ark., the President of the National Baptist Convention. Rev. D. M. Coleman, D. D., of Selma, Ala., is here on a visit to the Congress. Rev. J. P. Robinson, D. D., of Little Rock, Ark., is among the numerous delegates at the Congress. Mrs. N. H. Plus, of Springfield, O., is the guest of Mrs. A. B. Carter, of 713 Gay street. The following delegates are in attendance at the Congress: Rev. J. H. Sims, Little Rock, Ark.; M. D. Wells, Marshall, Texas; Mr. W. M. Mitchell, Little Rock, Ark.; Rev. P. B. Oldham, Oakwoods, Texas; Prof. W. T. Poole, from Sixteenth Street Baptist Church, Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. C. M. Brooklyn, N. Y.—At 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning Rev. Wm. T. Dixon, D. D., of this city, breathed his last. Death came not unexpectedly, as he had been in failing health for the past twelve months. Yet this, the city of churches, is to-day mourning for one of its ablest and most profound exponents of Christianity. Dr. Dixon has for nearly a half century pastored the Concord Baptist Church, and thus men who are now old sat and listened to the deceased in their childhood. All Brooklyn knew him and as his remains lie in state this week they will be viewed by thousands of citizens not only from Brooklyn, but from Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Friends are expected from as far as Providence, R. I. The deceased was a member of the National Baptist Convention and although pastoring a
