ROGER WILLIAMS UNIVERSITY ENTERTAINS RECORD-BREAK-ING CROWD.

Sacred Concert Captivates Audience. Prominent among the attractions of the year at the university which have called forth tavorable comment by critics of first rank was the sacred concert given at Roger by a chorus of well selected voices under the special direction and training of Mrs. A. M. Townsend, wife of President Townsend.

The program was in keeping with a policy adopted three years ago in that an annual concert is given, the compositions of the best known authors being used.

The hour for the concert was 6:30 o'clock, Sunday morning Dr. A. M. Townsend, accompanied by A. M. Townsend, Jr., motored to Castalian Springs to preach a special sermon, and at late eventide he had not come. The crowd steadily gathering from all directions, quietly but (tgerly filled the spacious Morehouse Chapel. Men and women of all walks of life were seen among the visitors who had not the least hesitancy in expressing the fact that Roger Williams, an "old star," was shinging with unsurpassed brilliancy. One big Hudson Super Six bringing

Dr. and Mrs. Hale was parked among the many cars in the campus, while slowly driving through the iron gates President Hale, of State Normal, accompanied by Mrs. Hale, many teachers and students in cars, all coming on account of their regard for Roger. The halls were filled. The orches tra under the direction of Dr. Hampton was ready for the opening march, for ten minutes would bring the hour for starting the program. From with out the old bell cried out in assemblage. From within the tick of the clock alternated with a tiny zephyr which moved the verdant ferns to a whisper. Above the incessant roar of the mighty Cumberland the deafening noise of a motor was heard, and the dazzling light of a highpowered "Oldsmobile" was seen. It was President Melvin Townsend, who quickly brought his "purring" motor to a stop and making his way through the crowd bowing and smiling to a host of friends stepped upon the stage at 6:29, called for a program, quickly scanned it and at 6:30 said, My friends, we rejoice to see you here, and we are now ready to begin our program." The setting was one of resplendent beauty. Beautiful palms and lowering ferns adorned the stage, while creep ing moss entwined the win low sills. At a given signal by Mrs. Townsen t, the strains of music, "Last Hope," by Gottschalk, were heard, with Miss White at the piano and the orchestra accompanying. The end of the overthe stage with ease and grace. Rev. A. O. Kenney then invoked the divine blessings.

"Gloria" (Twelfth Mass) by Mozart began the program, while "Whisper-"Oh Divine Redeemer" ing Hope. and well selected numbers from Mas-cagni, Gounod, Parks and Pinsuti followed in regulated succession.

"Steal away to Jesus" by Perkins and "His eye is on the Sparrow," the latter by Miss M. Geneva Bender were unusually pleasing an i effective. The recessional was impressive and marked the close of a program long to e remembered. Many efficient critics of music showered Mrs. Townsend with congratulations for the artistic grace, skill and richness of tone her singers

The marked success of the music department is due to the untiring work of Mrs. Townsend.
