IT WAS A VERY CRUEL BLOW!

What the "Bums" Think of the Withdrawal of Col. Ben. D. Parry.

The withdrawal of Ben. D. Parry from the contest before the Democratic Primary to-day was a wise move on the part of Mr. Parry, but it was a sad blow to the bummers.

Mr. Parry entered upon his duties as Circuit Clerk nearly twelve years ago, succeeding Mr. Thomas A. Respass. It is the testimony of the members of the Bar that he has discharged the duties of the office in a most acceptable manner, and as a member of the press we are prepared to bear witness to his uniform courtesy and obliging manners.

He will retire from office with the satisfaction of carrying with him into private life the esteem of his associates and all who have had business with his office.

But we started out to say something of the sadness which his unexpected withdrawal caused in the ranks of the rustling bummers.

It was worse than if a bomb-shell had fallen among the devoted voters at Orangeburg.

Nor was the mourning confined to Orangeburg alone.

The weeping and execrations went up from the Fourth Ward as well, and there was no effort made to conceal the disappointment and wrath of those who had sized themselves up as worth at least ten dollars apiece as "free independent floating voters" in to-day's contest.

One outraged citizen went so far as to proclaim publicly that it was unpardonable, and that a few more moves of this sort would break up the Democratic party!

Another sought a prospective candidate for judicial honors and demanded to know if he intended to run the race to a finish—declaring with well meant vehemence that he didn't want any more of this "Uncle Ben" racket.

And so it went throughout the entire "brotherhood of bums," whose influence is always measured by their stomachic capacity for whisky and their willingness to take all that offers, and vote for the side that gets the last whack at them with a seductive silver dollar.

Mr. Parry deserves the thanks of all decent people for removing, even for one day, all possibility for the recurrence of the scenes that once made Mason county a reproach throughout the length and breadth of the state.

Let the "bums" howl.

G. L. COMBS, Perry County Superintendent of Schools, was shot from ambush and probably fatally wounded.

J. FLETCHER MARCUM has severed his connection with THE KENTUCKY DEMOCRAT, a weekly paper published by his father at Catlettsburg.

WHILE practicing target shooting with pistols, Sam Casseday, a merchant of Caldwell county, was accidentally shot in the arm, the ball shattering the bone.

THE annual forest fires are raging in sections of Carter county. At Laurel Furnace Joshua Kelley, who has the furnace lands rented, is a heavy loser by fire getting into his fences. Second growth timber has been damaged.

R. F. WILLIAMS filed suit at Catlettsburg against the Ohio and Big Sandy Railroad for $10,000 damages. Williams belongs at Hendricks, Magoffin county, but he had been painting things red and was put off a train for bad behavior.

Mrs. THOMAS JONES, who lives six miles below Catlettsburg, was struck by a South-bound Ohio and Big Sandy passenger train while crossing a trestle and thrown a distance of thirty-five feet into a ravine, sustaining internal injuries that, together with a broken leg and fractured skull, will doubtless prove fatal.

ROBERTSON ADVANCE.—We did not receive a copy of Maysville's new paper, THE PUBLIC LEDGER, in time to criticize it in our last issue. It is a bright, newsy, readable paper, and will probably perform its mission in being of great benefit to the Republican party in Kentucky during the approaching campaign.

Rev. B. W. Mebane will preach at 11 o'clock to-morrow before the Knights Templars a special sermon on "The Resurrection of Christ." The usual services at night. The Y. P. S. C. E. will meet at 6:30 p. m. Everybody cordially invited to all of these services.

That Doesn't Trouble Us, Courteous Brother.

Big Sandy News.—Thomas A. Davis, one of Maysville's old and able newspaper men, has begun the publication of THE PUBLIC LEDGER as a six-column daily. It is a good paper except the political part of it. His object is doubtless to establish a job for himself to take the place of the Postmaster when a change shall be made next fall.

Attention, Sir Knights!

The Sir Knights of Maysville Commandery No. 10 are requested to meet at their Asylum to-morrow (Sunday) morning at 10 o'clock to attend Easter services at the Central Presbyterian Church. No uniform. Visiting Sir Knights are invited. L. C. BLATTERMAN, E. C. A. H. THOMPSON, Recorder.

Here's Another Courteous Democratic Editor.

The Kentucky Journal.—THE PUBLIC LEDGER, of Maysville, the new venture of Thomas A. Davis, has made its appearance, and is up in every requirement to all that was to be expected, from its topographical make up, its bristling local columns and its dyed-in-the-wool Republicanism; and save in that regard THE JOURNAL welcomes and wishes THE PUBLIC LEDGER abundant success.

Sons of Temperance Entertainment.

The entertainment last night at Mitchell's Chapel under the auspices of the Sons of Temperance was a success, both dramatically and financially, if the persons present is any criterion. The house was packed to the doors, and many were unable to gain admission.

The following is a list of those who took part in the exercises: Misses Stella Bowen, Ella Bowen, Maud Geis, Lillie Dunbar, May Lane, Miss Haney and the Misses Hill. The gentlemen were Messrs. Joseph Geis, William Rudy, Edward Hill, John Stevens, Arthur Haney, Mr. Todd, Robert Politt, Lennin Parnell and Rev. George McNeely.

The different parts were good and showed that a great deal of care had been taken by the participants.

As is usually the case on such occasions, there were a number in the audience who did not go there to listen to the entertainment, but rather to indulge in all sorts of hilarity to the annoyance of those who wished to hear all that was said. Now, boys, after this when anything of the kind is going on in a like place, please bear in mind that it is the house of God, and have the same respect you would have in your church on the Sabbath.

CIRCUIT COURT will resume business at the old stand Monday.

THE question of annexation is now being considered by Newport and Dayton.

INQUIRIES continue to come from all quarters regarding the Maysville Fuel Gas plant.

THE foundation for the house of Mr. Lee Gray on West Second street is about completed.

THE "bummer" politician looks this morning like something lost with no reward offered for it.

TEN carloads of earth were removed from the Pleasant Valley tunnel yesterday—a pretty good day's work.

DR. J. W. GUTHRIE of Aberdeen is again very ill, and it is not expected that he will survive many days.

J. BARBOUR RUSSELL, of M. C. Russell & Son, came in this morning from a successful "fly" for the house.

J. F. McSHANE, a handsome young New Yorker, suicided by the pistol route at the Waverly Hotel, Louisville.

THE bill to prohibit the playing of baseball in Kentucky on Sunday has been made a special order for next Thursday.

THE Primary election and the Butler-Gilligan race, the two great Democratic events of the season, both fizzled.

THE great Democratic Primary has dwindled to a test of popularity between Woodward and Jefferson. Who will win?

A TRAIN ran over a valuable setter dog belonging to James Simpson, in the West End yesterday, cutting off one of its forelegs.

THERE have been many compliments bestowed upon THE LEDGER, and nearly a hundred names have been added to the list this week.

MISS MATTIE THOMPSON, daughter of Hon. Phil Thompson, will sail for Europe in the course of a fortnight, to remain abroad for a year to perfect herself in the French language.

WILLIAM ROSSER returned last night from Dwight, Ill., where he had taken a patient to be placed in the Keeley Institute. He brings good reports of the Maysvillians there.

CAPTAIN T. H. N. SMITH requests a full attendance of members of Canton Maysville No. 2, P. M., Monday evening. The annual election for officers will be the feature of the occasion.

H. P. FELTY, formerly a section boss on this division of the C. and O. Railroad, was the victim of a railroad accident at Staunton, Va., in which his leg was so badly crushed that amputation was necessary.

THE Democratic Primary is progressing very quietly to-day, but very little interest being manifested. The "bums" are roosting on the Front street viaduct, gazing listlessly at the river and cursing their ill luck.

A REUNION of the family of Dr. Stephen Yerkes is being held to-day at the house of William Yerkes Paris. Mrs. J. Street Van Meter of Hot Springs, Ark., Mrs. John M. Van Meter and John W. Yerkes of Danville, are present.

THERE will be a grand rally at Scott Chapel, M. E. Church, to-morrow, for the benefit of the church, and all the members are expected to give $1 each. The Pastor, Rev. Alexander McDade, hopes every one will help the good work along.

JOHN CORNWALL, a young man of 23, living at Burges Station, ten miles from Catlettsburg on the line of the Ohio and Big Sandy Railroad, was crushed to death by a frightened horse that he was riding to water. The horse reared and fell backward upon him. The whole weight of the animal fell upon his breast, crushing him so badly that he lived but a few hours.

MR. CARROLL of Louisville has offered in the Legislature an amendment to the article on assessment, which is of vital importance to the merchants in this state. The amendment is in line with the one proposed by the Louisville Board of Trade, and allows the deduction of debts from credits in the assessment of property. It was made a special order for April 27th.

PURE WASTE

Of Good Powder and Bullets at Coal Creek.

Another Bloodless Battle Fought Between Miners and Troops.

Very Serious Trouble is Ripening Among the Disaffected Miners—The "Dirty Dozen" Attempt to Hang Their Corporal—Building a Fort.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 16.—The first trouble at Coal Creek for nearly two months took place Thursday night. About 10 o'clock a number of persons, thought to be miners, opened fire on the sentries at close range. The troops were taken by surprise, but returned the fire. Shooting continued for three hours, but no blood was shed, although Camp Anderson Telegraph Operator Maddox is missing.

Some days since a hint was thrown out by the miners that the troops had to leave, and also the convicts. When the "leaves" came out yesterday afternoon all the miners quit work and have been seen conversing spiritedly in groups ever since. It is thought the report that convicts were to be worked on the streets of Nashville has incensed the miners beyond a peaceable control of themselves. The mines pay off Saturday and the troops will also get their monthly allowance. This means a lively time on the part of the miners, and the troops fear a conflict.

During Thursday night's shooting Lieut. Fyffe, who was out looking after the outposts, was cut off by a number of miners and fired at several times. He escaped by a circuitous route back to camp. In addition to the present trouble with the miners the officers of the army are having a lively time of it with their own men. A few days since twelve men from different parts of the state, led by an ex-convict named Durham, became unruly and made threats of violence against two non-commissioned officers.

They were arrested for this, and, refusing to obey orders further, court-martialed. The matter was compromised and all thought to be peaceful, but Thursday "the dirty dozen," as the men style themselves, took Corporal McGrath, of Chattanooga, and were going to hang him when detected and stopped. Eleven of these men, strongly guarded, were brought to Knoxville, Friday morning and dishonorably discharged. There is a positive agreement among these youths not to divulge any of their secrets and either one squealing will be foully dealt with. No names of the discharged soldiers could be secured, except Harry Middleton and Sam Prothro, of Chattanooga, Allie Moore, of Memphis; Walter Bridges and Walter Nelson, of Knoxville, Friday afternoon a number of troops got on a drunk and created a reign of amusement and terror throughout the city. A private named Pellem of Tullahoma, struck a colored bootblack in the face because the latter went into the same bar after a bucket of beer. A race war was narrowly averted by the immediate appearance of officers. Reports from Monroe county, this state, are to the effect that the mountain feud there is not at an end.

Although four men have been killed and a half dozen wounded, the warring factions are still in arms. The Murphy brothers, originators of all the trouble, are enlisting mountain outlaws to defend them, and are building a fort in the Smoking mountains. The sheriff of Monroe county left Friday night with a half hundred men, heavily armed, for the habitation of the desperadoes. There is no chance to make a capture of the mountain murderers without bloodshed, and the end is feared by all who understand the situation.

Infant Treatment of a Pupil.

ZANESVILLE, O., April 16.—Proceedings have been commenced against Edward Kreeger, a schoolteacher in Wayne township, who is charged with whipping ten-year-old Willie Spinks until he became black and blue. The punishment was administered with the open hand, and is said to have continued an hour and a half. The boy exhibits the marks on his person to substantiate his story.

Used a Counterfeit Label.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 16.—Joseph M. Ryder, a wholesale liquor dealer of this city, was arrested, charged with selling goods adorned with a counterfeit label of the Cigarmakers' International Union of America. The penalty is imprisonment not less than two years nor more than five. The accused was placed under bonds of $1,000 for a hearing May 4.

Heir to an Expected Fortune.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., April 16.—Mrs. John W. Noble, of this city, has fallen heir to a large estate left by a bachelor uncle in Oswego, N. Y. She was Jane Hart, of North Adams, and by chance learned of an advertisement which had been inserted in various papers asking information as to her whereabouts. Her husband is a poor carpenter.

All Got Away But One.

LIMA, O., April 16.—Several men were detected at work on the safe of the Coss Manufacturing Co., in the northern part of the city. The police were notified, and surprised the fellows at work, but they all escaped except one fellow who gave his name as Fred Crates, of Van Wert. A nice lay out of tools was found.

Mother and Son Executed for Murder.

BERLIN, April 16.—A woman named Kruse, convicted of the murder of her husband, and her elder son, Wilhelm, who was an accomplice in the murder, were executed at Dortmund Thursday. The prisoners confessed the murder, saying they were weary of keeping the victim, because he was unfit for work.

For Hill for President.

BOSTON, April 16.—The Ninth district democrats adopted resolutions endorsing David B. Hill as the democratic standard bearer, after a warm debate.
