

OUR DAILY MAIL

MASON COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT.

Gleanings From Late Yesterday's and Early To-Day's Docket.

Julien R. C. Kirk presented an account of $192.60, which was approved and ordered to be certified.

Lena Tolle vs. Thomas Cooper; defendant was allowed until 10th day of next term of court to file his bill of exceptions.

Commonwealth vs. Ed Kelly, carrying concealed weapons; fled away.

Ben Louqueker vs. George Gibson; fled away.

REPRESENTATIVE FRAZEE is on the committee appointed to prepare suitable resolutions on the acceptance of Philadelphia's gift to Kentucky.

A MASONIC HALL will probably be erected at Dayton, Ky. A company has been incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000 having that end in view.

GEORGE HARRINGTON died in Lexington Saturday night from the effects of a shock received in the power house of the Electric Street Railway Company.

REV. JOHN BARBOUR is a delegate from Maucketo Presbytery, Minnesota, to the Presbyterian General Assembly which meets this week in Portland, Oregon.

At Winchester the jury in the case of John C. Eversole, charged with complicity in the murder of William Gambrell in Perry county, could not agree.

J. B. CUMBER and wife have moved from Flemingsburg to Mt. Carmel to enjoy the summer shades from the grand and picturesque old Sugarloaf mountain.

PARKER THOMPSON, a preacher and a married man, eloped with Mrs. Arch McGuire from Kingston, Madison county, and was arrested in Cincinnati for bigamy. He also stole $500 belonging to George Sharp, his partner in the cattle business.

THE steel rails and necessary fish-plates, bolts, &c., to be used in the extension of the street railroad to the Fair Grounds arrived yesterday. J. H. Erion, the contractor for the trestle work, will arrive this morning, and will beg in to-day.

ALLAN D. COLE, son of Judge A. E. Cole, will on Wednesday, May 18th, wed Miss Clara Beardsley, daughter of Rev. D. A. Beardsley, at Hardinsburg. Ky. Miss Beardsley was formerly of this city, her father being Pastor of the M. E. Church, South.

THERE came near being a serious mishap with THE LEDGER Saturday. Just as the steam press was making its second revolution, one of the plate columns became detached from its base. Another revolution of the cylinder would have played "hob." As it was, a few moments delay and a few battered type were the only injuries.

W. C. PELHAM has an assortment of house letter boxes of various styles and prices, which he will be pleased to put up where desired at very reasonable rates. They are made of iron and provided with locks and keys, and will be not only great savers of time to the letter carriers, but also a convenience to housekeepers that will add to the safety of the Free Delivery System.

THE pool-room men of Covington do not like the idea of closing up while the Latonia races are going on. They are talking over the matter. The intention was to close for the entire month, but now some of them want to let half the rooms stay open for two weeks and the others for the remaining two weeks. The pool-room men are saying it is only a question of time when they will have to shut up shop permanently, anyway, and that they may as well make hay while they have a chance.

"An old restaurant bill of fare," says The Bourbon News "printed in Richmond, Va., in January, 1864, gives the following war-time prices in Confederate money: Soup $1.50, chicken $3.50, roast beef $3, ham and eggs $3, raw oysters $2, coffee $2, bread and butter $1.50, a bottle of champagne $50, a drink of rye whiskey $2, a bottle of ale $2, and a cigar $2." The Editor of THE LEDGER stopped at the Warren Green Hotel, Warrenton, Va., in November, 1862, and paid $24 a day board, with burnt rye for coffee and no salt or shortening in the bread. The general landlord said Confederate money was good enough for him, and he refused greenbacks. As almost everyone had a saddlebag full of Confed scrip there wasn't much trouble in paying the bills.

On and after July 1st, paid locals will be inserted in THE LEDGER at 25 cents per line for each insertion.

Arthur P. Thompson, who holds credentials showing that he is a regularly ordained Baptist preacher, was arrested in Cincinnati charged with bigamy, getting away with his partner's money, and a few other items of general cussedness. He is wanted at Barbourville, this state, for bigamy, and at Richmond for crookedness. At the latter place, about the 1st of May, he left his wife, eloped with another woman, and took $500 belonging to George W. Harp, his partner in business. The day before leaving he sold $1,000 worth of cattle and pocketed the money. The woman who went with him is the wife of Arch McGuire, and it is claimed that he married her in Tennessee.
