

A BATTLE.

Ten Thousand Miners Surround the Fort.

A Fight Rages Throughout All of Thursday Afternoon.

Capt. Anderson Captured and in Danger of Lynching by a Mob—Men Who Are Thought to Possess Dynamite—Troops Gathering for Business.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 19.—On every hill top in Eastern Tennessee, Eastern Kentucky and Southwestern Virginia, and in every valley Thursday night there was expectancy, woe and tear-shedding, but, encouraged with the victories over the state authorities last year and the stirring scenes of the past two days, the miners have increased their forces until they now number fully 10,000 men who have vowed to respect the law or fear death.

All Wednesday freight trains on the Cincinnati Southern, Knoxville and Ohio and Walden's Ridge roads have been run regularly. The looked-for attack on the military camp and stockade did not take place Thursday morning. The miners were strong enough to openly defeat the troops and release the convicts, but their plans had not been completed and their schemes consummated. Coal operators, who have many large orders for fall delivery, have given up all idea of carrying out their part of the contracts and turned their mines over to the miners.

Business men of the Coal Creek valley closed up their stores and factories Wednesday night and were not open Thursday except to sell ammunition. The troops from Chattanooga, who have been side-tracked at Harriman for two days, were brought to this place in the forenoon against their wishes. They were put upon a special train, and in connection with nearly two hundred volunteers, including the leading business and professional men of this city, left for Coal Creek. All were heavily armed and mostly experienced fighters.

They reached Clinton in safety, and were warned there not to proceed further. The leaders in charge, Messrs. Anderson, Carpenter and Ledgerwood, all officers in the late war, said that the honor of the state had to be maintained at the cost of lives if necessary. They started on to Coal Creek, but have been checked, and may not reach that place to-night. Thursday night at 8 o'clock a special train carrying 600 additional troops and three pieces of artillery passed through this place from Chattanooga, Memphis and Nashville for the scene of trouble. They may reach Coal Creek in time to save the handful of militia that has been fighting the miners there Thursday afternoon.

Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock the miners commenced firing at the military force at long range. The troops returned the firing, and it has been going on ever since. Capt. Keller Anderson, in command of the troops, was surrounded early in the fight. He was taken to the Coal Creek hotel, where he was surrounded by an infuriated mob, and a half dozen attempts have been made to lynch him. The miners say that if there are more troops sent to protect the convicts who have been placed in the mines they will surely kill Anderson. The Gatling gun and mountain howitzer have been used freely Thursday afternoon. But outside of a dozen wounded miners there is no definite information as to the result. The troops are thought to have suffered the loss of a few men, but no one can get from the Coal Creek depot up to the fight, nearly a mile distant, as the firing continues incessantly. All Thursday afternoon and night miners in squads of fifty and one hundred have been arriving in the mining region from Eastern Kentucky and Southwest Virginia. They all come heavily armed and declare that the war must be carried on to a finish.

No telegraphic communication can be had with Coal Creek, and all in the mining region is in doubt. An effort was made here Thursday night to secure a thousand volunteers to go by government or special train to Coal Creek to aid the men who have already gone there. There were 200 men responded, but, having no ammunition or arms, refused to go empty-handed. Thousands of people are parading the streets of Knoxville and discussing the situation. Rumors are thick, but all lack confirmation.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

One Hundred and Fifty Soldiers Whip Three Thousand Miners.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 19.—A Nashville special to the Commercial Gazette says that one hundred and fifty soldiers whipped three thousand miners. Twelve miners are dead, and nearly twenty wounded. The fight began Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the carnage is still raging. Gen. Keller Anderson with his little garrison is holding Coal Creek until the arrival of the First and Second regiments, a thousand strong, and the posse of three thousand under six sheriffs, who are moving swiftly on special trains to the scene.

Gen. Carnes, in command of 500 men, left Clinton Thursday night after 9 o'clock to march to the rescue of Gen. Anderson, seventeen miles away. About five miles from Coal Creek a thousand miners burst from the woods and attacked his column. The onslaught was so fierce and furious that the soldiers were taken completely by surprise, and four soldiers were killed under the raking fire from shotguns and pistols, and ten were badly wounded. Carnes recovered the equilibrium of his column as soon as possible, but the miners took to flight, and were a hundred yards away and on the run when he commanded his troops to fire. None of the miners were killed, but several were wounded and were carried away by the miners. The miners swear they will take Anderson at the fort and hang him, even if the convicts are released and withdrawn.

A great indignation meeting was held in Nashville Thursday night, and

Gov. Buchanan's inactivity denounced. In Knoxville the people say they will have him impeached for treason and being in league with the miners. In many of the small towns public meetings are being held and volunteers enlisted.

THE CHOLERA PERIL.

Calls For an Official Order From the Authorities Regarding Immigration.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—An order has been issued by Supervising Surgeon Walter Wyman, of the marine hospital service, calling attention to the cholera epidemic in Russia. As there is danger of immigration introducing the disease, it is ordered that from September 18 no vessel having on board personal baggage, bedding, clothing, etc., belonging to immigrants from Russia, or having on board personal effects, baggage, etc., belonging to any immigrant coming from any cholera infected district shall be admitted to entry into the United States unless accompanied by a certificate from the consular officer at the port of embarkation to the effect that said personal effects, baggage, etc., have been disinfected. The chief reason for this order is that cholera was introduced into this country in 1833 by infected baggage from foreign countries.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS.

Stolen by a Cleveland High Flyer—His Fast Horse Mauled.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 19.—Stanley A. Austin, the young paymaster of the Upton Nut Co., was arrested Wednesday night at his home for embezzlement. He is accused of falsifying the pay-rolls of the company during the past three years. Austin confesses to have taken $20,000, and the real amount will probably prove to be greater. High living and fast horses are the cause of his downfall. A few days ago he purchased an interest in the great pacer Elmonarch, and when arrested he was preparing to go to Chicago with a heavy sum of money in his pocket to bet on the races there.

Mars' Canals.

LICK OBSERVATORY, Cal., Aug. 19.—Up to the middle of August many of the canals of Mars, discovered in 1877 by Prof. Schiaparelli, were mapped here this year, but no one of them was seen to be double. On the night of August 17 Prof. Schiaparelli, Campbell and Bussey made three entirely independent drawings, each of which shows the canal marked Ganges on Schiaparelli's map to be distinctly double. Thus the Lick observatory has the pleasure of confirming the discovery of Prof. Schiaparelli in 1892 as it already has done by its observation of 1890.

The Weather.
