

COL. CANADY,

Ex-Sergeant-at-Arms of the United States Senate,

Commits Suicide in His Room at Washington, By Shooting.

His Partner Threatens Him With Arrest When a Sum of Money is Reported Missing—The Suicide Declared That Burglars Stole It.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—There was considerable excitement Tuesday morning when it was found that Col. Canady, ex-sergeant-at-arms of the U. S. senate, had shot himself through the head, causing instant death. There have been startling developments in connection with the suicide of ex-sergeant Canady.

He was in partnership in the brokerage business with J. Q. A. Houghton, who had invested $10,000 in the concern. Of this $2,000 were in the safe Monday morning and told him colored burglars had taken the money, gagged him and bound him to the office door.

The story was disbelieved and Houghton threatened Canady with arrest. A Mr. Stevenson, whose apartments were above Col. Canady's office, says Canady called him about 4 o'clock and told him robbers had overpowered him and taken his effects.

All the evidences of this were very flimsy. It was after that Canady sent for Houghton. When the officers came later to serve a warrant they found Canady had committed suicide. He left a note for his partner saying: "After your conduct this morning I have no further use for life."

Charred paper, said to represent great value, was found on the office floor.

Col. Canady has been separated from his wife for some time. His name has been connected with a young woman for whom the police are looking to get some trace of the missing $2,000. Canady has been in financial trouble for some time.

In the self-inflicted death, Tuesday morning, of Col. Wm. P. Canady, of North Carolina, the recent sergeant-at-arms of the senate, the old readjuster party lost one of its most conspicuous figures. Col. Canady was a confederate soldier and came into public life with the advent of Mahone and Riddleberger of Virginia.

He was the "southern manager" of Senator Sherman for some years prior to that period and was chosen sergeant-at-arms of the senate upon the earnest solicitation of Sherman. He was a close political friend of Mahone and Riddleberger for some time, and then they became enemies. It was he who took charge of Riddleberger at one time.

TAKING IT SERIOUSLY.

Canadians Talk War Between England, Russia and the United States.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 28.—It is reported here that the captain of one of the British Columbia sealing vessels seized by Russia in the Behring sea is here for the purpose of furnishing the government with affidavits of his seizure and information as to others also. He makes the following statement. Having been in the Baltic, he understands the Russian language, and while a prisoner on board a gunboat learned from the conversation and acts of the Russian officers that they were instructed to make only a pretense of seizing American vessels, the real object being to assert such rights in Behring sea as would materially assist the United States in the approaching arbitration. He thinks it may, cablegrams regarding these seizures are passing daily between the British and Canadian governments, and the sending of a British gunboat to the scene is regarded as ominous. The contingency is certainly contemplated of a war between Russia and England, and if these seizures constitute violations of the treaty of 1825 by Russia and England and regarded as an ossus belli, with the United States assisting Russia, the possible consequences to Canada are very serious.

The west-bound fast express ran into some wild cars loaded with cotton, which had broken out of the switch at Opelika and ran down the track. Engineer Lewis Willis and Fireman Tom Willis, brothers, were instantly killed and buried beneath the wreckage. Postal clerks Carter and Landrum were fatally hurt.

Six passengers were seriously wounded. The wreckage took fire, and 100 bales of cotton burned with the postal car and mail matter. The wounded passengers were pinned down by the wreckage, and they shrieked with terror as it burst into flame. The Wisconsin Gerrymander.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 28.—The supreme court at Madison rendered a decision Tuesday morning in the second gerrymander case. It holds that the court has jurisdiction in the case and overthrows the demurrer of Senator Vilas, based on the claim that suit should have been brought by the attorney-general instead of by Petitioner Lamb. It holds that Lamb is entitled to bring suit and that the bill of plaintiff contains sufficient ground for action. This is practically the overthrow of the last gerrymander. The defense is given until Friday to answer the bill of the plaintiff.

FIVE NEW CASES

Of Cholera Taken From the Steamship Bohemia,

And Placed in the Pest House on Swinburne Island.

These Are the First Cases Since the 20th of September—There Has Been No Case of Cholera in the City since September 18.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Late Tuesday afternoon Dr. Byron reported three additional cases of cholera on board the Bohemia.

These are the first cases since the 20th of the month, and quarantine, which was sinking into a state of lethargic quietude, is once again brisk with excitement. At an early hour Tuesday morning Superintendent Byrnes and Inspector Williams arrived at Upper Quarantine on board the Patrol. They were joined by Dr. Jenkins and started for the lower bay, where they remained for some time. Dr. Jenkins was landed at the pier at the upper station just after 9 o'clock, and his face showed that there had been some new developments. When questioned at that hour, Dr. Jenkins gravely said that there were two new cases on board the Bohemia. He had expected to have moved the steerage passengers from her Tuesday, but the heavy gales of wind that was blowing prevented it being done.

At 11:50 Dr. Byron telegraphed that he had removed three more cholera patients to Swinburne from the Bohemia. They are Wilhelm Latz, 4 years; Johanna Milkzarie, 6 years and Carl Gassman, 24 years.

The first cabin passengers of the Scandia and Bohemia arrived at quarantine at 11:55 on the tug Everts, of the Hamburg-American line, en route for the company's dock in Hoboken. There are twenty-eight from the Scandia and ten from the Bohemia.

The board of health in its 4 o'clock bulletin Tuesday says there has been no cases of cholera in this city since September 18. There were 512 immigrants landed at Ellis Island Tuesday from the steamships Rugia, Wyoming and Scandia. The business of registering the new arrivals showed the ravages the cholera had made in several families. Augusta Zimmerman landed with her eight-year-old son. She lost three children during the voyage. Anna Zhiga landed when two days in port her husband was stricken with the plague. Petronella Sterr had a three-year-old son. Her husband and two children died at sea. Hans Housen, who is going to Perth Amboy, N. J., lost his wife and three children on the Scandia. Caroline Cruger started with five children. She had only two when she landed. A fund has been started by Col. Webster for the relief of the immigrants.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Sept. 28.—Lena Schmitt, a woman of this place, Tuesday afternoon murdered three small children by choking them to death in her house, at No. 4 Chestnut street, in this city. One of the victims was her own son, and the other two were the little sons of Wm. Bowker, a neighbor. The children's ages range from 1 to 3 years. The woman, who is believed to be insane, after killing the children, went to Marshal Jobes and told him that he could find three dead babies in the house at No. 4 Chestnut street. She admitted that she had killed the children, but said she could not tell why she did it. Marshal Jobes notified the police and the woman was locked up. The crime has caused much excitement in Bordentown.
