

The Result Seems to Have Been as Much of a Surprise to Democrats as to Republicans - Now For the Offices.

The best that can be counted for Harrison this morning is 112 Electoral votes.

The people who elected Cleveland may have made a blunder which will cost them dearly.

There are already six candidates for the Postmastership. Oh, no; Democrats are not hungry for office. Oh, no.

We have no definite information on the subject, but it is possible that Pennsylvania may be counted for Harrison.

The Maysville Democrats were very jubilant all day yesterday. Some of them went so far as to make themselves ridiculous.

Whenever a Democratic candidate asks you to vote for him, just ask him if he would vote for you if you were a candidate?

When we return to the wildest banking system, the present generation will understand some of the beauties of the ante-bellum methods of finance.

It now remains to be seen whether the Democratic party will fulfill all its pledges made to the people—repeal the McKinley Tariff law and re-establish wildcat banks.

Mr. Harbeson is probably rid of an unpleasant incident, as the Master Commissionship muddle has been eliminated of one "claimant," who now lays claim to the Postoffice.

It will now be demonstrated, if the Democrat party keeps its promises, for the first time in the present generation—whether Protection or Free-trade is most beneficial to America.

If the election had only been held yesterday it could all have been laid on the weather. The old proverb, that a clear, pretty day insured a Republican victory has proven itself false.

In the Fourth Ward ten citizens wasted their time at the polls for nothing. That many blank ballots were thrown out, there not being a mark on any of them. A campaign of education is what is needed.

THE LEDGER hopes the Democrats will have the courage of their convictions, and that they will, as soon as Congress assembles, begin the repeal of the "odious" Republican laws that have made this country prosperous.

Now let us have a clean sweep. Down with the "force" bill, the Federal Election bill, the McKinley bill, the National Bank law and all pension laws, and up with the shotgun policy, Free-trade, wildcat banks, and let the old soldiers go over the hill to the poorhouse. This is all in the line of Democratic policy.

Yesterday's extra edition of THE LEDGER was gobbled up in a hurry, and many subscribers were not served. This was an oversight in the carriers who attempted to supply the extra demand before the regular patrons were reached. We regret the occurrence, and the only consolation is that people are as anxious to hear bad news as they are to hear good news.

Several aspirants have already blossomed forth among the local faithful for each of the Government offices hereabout. So far only thirty-six hours have elapsed since the indications pointed to a change in the administration. In this short time three candidates have announced themselves for the Postmastership, six for the Deputy Collectorship, four for each of the Gauger's places and twenty-five want to be Storekeepers. For Colonel Forman's place there are eighteen applicants.

A thousand charms I now recall Of maids I once have known, For memory makes them beauties all Since chastening years have flown; But one more beautiful than the rest In fancy I can see, And time has made her doubly blest That girl who sat on me.

'Twas well deserved, I know it now. Puffed up with youth's conceit I gave offense none might allow, And never dared repeat. Boy never needed lesson more, As I must now agree; In all this world none stand before That girl who sat on me!

Where she is now I do not know, We've never spoken since. Her glance and words laid pride so low I scarce had nerve to wince; But whoso'er her path may tend May ever blessing be The portion of my truest friend, That girl who sat on me!

THERE is no use nursing disappointments.

SOME cannot realize it. It seems like a dream.

THERE were several killings in Kentucky as usual on election day.

NOT less than twenty ballots were found in the boxes in this city without a sign of a mark on them. There was hardly a precinct in the county that the same thing did not occur.

THE great rollers at the Ashland steel mills are so heavy that when rolling the large buildings in the city tremble, the cisterns crack and the water runs out in a single day. It is now thought the city is built on a bed of quicksand.

LAST week the chemistry class of the academy spent a very pleasant time at Dr. Phillips's office performing experiments and listening to the most interesting explanations given by Drs. Phillips and O'Brien, who kindly offered to continue the lecture until the course be completed.

ON account of the increased number of pupils at the Visitation Academy the Sisters have been necessitated to secure a teacher in the departments of music, stenography and bookkeeping. The young lady who assumes the position is not only an able pianist and harpist but a fine vocal teacher. Those who have heard her exquisite soprano voice, pronounced it very sweet and perfect.

THE word "pig" as applied to iron is a mere play on the word "sow." When iron is melted it runs off into a channel called a "sow," the lateral branches of which are called the "pigs." Here the iron cools and is called "pig iron." Now, "sow" has nothing whatever to do with the swine, but is from Saxon "sawan," to weather, German, "sawen," to rush, and ought to be written "saw" (sows). Having a sow for the parent channel it required no great effort of wit to make the lateral grooves the little pigs.

ECHOES OF THE ELECTION.

Surprising Number of Ballots Spoiled—New Law Not Understood.

The new election law possesses many merits. It relieves election day of the turbulent excitement which has been so conspicuous and renders bribery and corruption and bull-doing at the polls almost impossible. With the people properly educated as to its workings, the system will be a satisfactory one.

In some of the Precincts the number of ballots utterly spoiled by not having been marked at all or being illegally marked was surprising. A large number also were marked so that it was impossible for the officers of election to determine for whom the elector wished to vote.

These latter will have to be examined and passed upon by a board consisting of the County Clerk and County Judge.

The following is the number of ballots rejected and spoiled in each of the Mason county Precincts:

Table showing the number of rejected and spoiled ballots in various precincts like Maysville No. 1, 2, 3, etc.

cratic candidates carried the county by various majorities ranging for the most part from 500 to 600.

The Prohibition ticket polled 74 votes in the county and the People's 41.

In the ballots spoiled there is no doubt but that the Republicans were the losers. It was in their strongest precincts that the greatest number of these ballots appeared. The colored voters were not sufficiently educated, although every effort had been made to make the new system plain to them. However, under the old viva voce style, it is probable that the result would have been the same. It was a Democratic day all over the country and Mason county was affected just like the balance.

The Democratic majority shows quite an increase over that of 1888.

STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

A Clean Sweep.

The news from the counties in this Congressional, Appellate and Judicial District is scarce.

The Democratic candidates were all successful with the possible exception of Hazelrigg for Judge of the Court of Appeals. It was confidently predicted that Judge Holt would be re-elected and even the Democrats generally conceded this but the chances are against him.

Paynter for Congress and Harbeson for Circuit Judge are undoubtedly elected, the former by a large majority.

Harbeson's majority in the District is probably 500 and Paynter's 2,000.

THE Masons and Oddfellows of Beattyville are erecting a joint building for lodge purposes.

CALIFORNIA has shipped this year 3,600 cars, or 88,840,000 pounds of fruit—an increase of 830 cars or 14,680,000 pounds over last year. Railroad charges to Chicago were $1 25 per hundred pounds, or $2,110,900.

ALL men who play the races do not makes failures. Tom Shannon of Lexington, who started in life as a newsboy, but who had followed the races for some years, bought a farm of one hundred and twenty acres at $258 per acre.

TRACY & WILSON of Lexington shipped to New York Monday night thirty-one head of yearling colts and fillies, the property of the Meadowthrope Stud Farm. They will be sold at the great sale in that city Saturday.

Death of an Ex-Maysvillian.

In The Journal of Logan City, Utah, of November 5th, 1892, we find the following announcement:

"The funeral of T. J. Throop took place yesterday. All the members of the Bar in the city met at the house of the daughter and marched to the Presbyterian Church where the services were held."

Mr. Throop was for many years a resident of Maysville and has many relatives and friends here.

The American Flag R-spected.

The effect of the firm and patriotic foreign policy of President Harrison is seen in a dispatch from Caracas, Venezuela, published on Saturday last. When Provisional President Crespo was informed that the United States had recognized his Government, he said: "I would rather have that satisfaction than the knowledge that all the rest of the foreign powers had acknowledged me." This is most significant evidence of the position to which the United States has been elevated in the esteem of South Americans by the resolute and courageous course of President Harrison.

Mrs. Harrison's Last Work.

Mrs. Harrison could not have left a more loving memento to the women of America than the work she did for them before her last sickness. It is a magnificent work of art, a bunch of Ornaments, painted by her in the White House, from an orchid raised in the White House. It is lovingly dedicated to the mothers, wives and daughters of America; and the reproductions are so perfect that last August, when a proof was submitted to Mrs. Harrison at Loon Lake for her approval, she thought it was her own original painting. Demorest's Family Magazine has the honor of being the medium through which these valuable pictures (12x15) were presented to the women of America.

American Cholera.

From The Daily Revue, Whatcom, Wash.—T. C. Burnett, the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, was taken violently ill at Clearbrook. He had all the symptoms of Asiatic cholera, and for an hour or two it was feared he would die. They finally gave him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which revived him until a physician arrived. That is precisely what the manufacturers of that medicine recommend for cholera. Send for a physician but give their medicine until the physician arrives. If cholera becomes prevalent in this country next summer this preparation will be in great demand because it can always be depended upon. For sale by Power & Reynolds, Drugists.

Some Believers.

Not a few Republicans who are strong in their convictions and party loyalty favor Tariff reform—not the false pretense of Mr. Cleveland—but genuine reform of the Tariff laws from time to time, as they appear to need it. They indorsed the McKinley Tariff bill as a whole, but would have been glad to see some of its parts modified. They claim that a less radical, though no less wise and beneficent, measure might have been adopted, which would have met with less popular objection and not invited a Democratic tidal wave or two. Happily the reciprocity appendage was adopted and was to a very great extent a redeeming feature. The people of this country are for industrial protection. It is for their good and they believe in it. But we are forced into the confession that legislation upon this subject, to be politic and successful, must be upon principles of the greatest care and conservatism.

MARLBOROUGH.

His Grace, the Duke, Found Dead in Bed.

His Widow, Formerly the Rich Mrs. Hammersley, of New York,

Restores Blenheim Palace in York, as it Goes to the Duke's Son—The Duke Retired Apparently in Good Health the Night Before.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—A dispatch from Blenheim, the seat of the duke of Marlborough, at Woodstock, Oxfordshire, announces that the duke was found dead in bed there Wednesday morning.

The duke retired Tuesday evening as usual, and when a servant went to his apartment Wednesday morning to assist in his toilet, the duke made no response. The servant approached the bed and at once saw that the duke was dead. A physician was promptly summoned and an examination showed that the duke had been dead for several hours.

On Saturday last the duke was in London, and then appeared to be enjoying good health. The duke recently seemed to have been in better health than usual. All summer he was working hard over a telephone scheme and other ventures in the city. He was the head of a new telephone company which was to revolutionize the existing system, but this company joined the telephone pool a few months ago.

WON AN ELEPHANT.

A Young Chattanooga Democrat Bet With a Circus Man With That Result.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Nov. 10.—One of the most remarkable election bets in the campaign was made here. Miles Orton's circus is playing in the city, but is minus an elephant. Hal Devine, a young sport, now claiming the animal. Tuesday night Hal had fifty dollars which he wanted to put up with Orton's manager on the presidential result. The man had wagered all his money, but said he would bet the elephant against Devine's fifty dollars. The bet was closed, and now, from all indications, Devine owns the elephant. Devine's friends advise him to ride the elephant in the democratic ratification procession, and turn it loose.

A Fatal Feud.

SPRING CITY, Tenn., Nov. 10.—At Melville, Tenn., in Blount county, a fight occurred between the Tollets and Swaffords, in which A. Swafford, sr., was shot dead, and Jim Swafford, a son, was shot and is dying. Bill Swafford, another son, is badly wounded. John Swafford and Goly Swafford were shot, but not fatally. Mose Tollett was fatally shot, and will die. Mark, Bill and Pete Tollett escaped unhurt. The row was the outcome of an old feud, a grudge having existed between the two families for years.

Tennessee's Returns.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 10.—The election returns are coming in rather slowly, but enough have been secured to guarantee the success of the state and national tickets by from 35,000 to 50,000 plurality. The legislature is overwhelmingly democratic in both branches. The First and Second congressional districts go republican, as usual, while the other eight are democratic.

Bookkeeper's Woe Surrenders.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10.—John C. Wolk, the absconding bookkeeper for Lanke-meyer & Sons' planing-mill, of Pitts-burgh, Pa., surrendered himself at the Four Courts Wednesday. On April 24 last he wound up a brief career of recklessness by disappearing with $600. Rewards were offered, and he wandered from place to place a hunted man. His wife and parents reside there, and he expressed a willingness to return.

Hogg Elected Governor.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 10.—Texans has elected Hogg by a small plurality. Nugent, populist, for governor, runs beyond expectation. It looks as though he will get over 100,000 out of a possible total of 300,000 votes. The democratic candidates for congress have been returned, except possibly, Gresham, democrat, who may be defeated in the Galveston district.

Filing It on.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 10.—Russell Harrison's paper, the Daily Journal, was closed this morning by the sheriff pending a settlement of indebtedness in dispute. The managers state that the paper will issue again in a day or two, with all claims adjusted. They say an unfair advantage was taken of the paper on a legal technicality.

Will the Senate Be Democratic?

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—The republicans in the present congress have 47 senators, the democrats 39 and the Farmers' Alliance 2. Of the 22 new legislatures elected Tuesday, seven or eight are already conceded to be democratic, with several to hear from, insuring the election of that many new democratic senators at least.

Blaine Declines to Talk.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Ex-Secretary Blaine declined to be interviewed on the result, and has had the telephone removed from his residence in Lafayette square so as to avoid the annoyance of perpetual calls.

Heavy Snow in Missouri.

DREXTER, Mo., Nov. 10.—Eight inches of snow has fallen here since Wednesday morning, and the storm is still raging. Such a fall is unprecedented, the mid-winter depth seldom exceeding four inches.

Snow in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—Indiana towns report a heavy snow fall Wednesday. At many places the snow is five and six inches deep.

Crushed to Death.

JEFFERSON, Ind., Nov. 10.—William N. Little, aged 32 years, while rolling logs near here, was crushed to death.
