The Paris Bunco Man.

Detective John T. Norris visited Paris yesterday afternoon with his kodak and rogues' gallery to take a peep at the noted confidence men in jail there. They at first refused to see Norris, but H. A. Welch, the Jailer at Nicholasville, and Fountain Land of Jessamine county saw the prisoners and identified them as the men who bunked Land of $5,000 several years ago. Norris positively identified Richard Doe as Daniel Brutus Scribner, the noted confidence man, who is known as "Hog Dan" and "Tspeworm Dan." He claimed to know Devine well, but would not say who he was. Jailer Welch says he is Walter Haines.

Dan Scribner warned Jailer James not to let Norris in or he would try to kill the detective. Norris fled an affidavit with Squire Gutzeit charging Dan Scribner with robbing Fountain Land out of $5,000 and being a fugitive from justice in Ohio, where he is wanted for swindling Sidney Ward of Circleville out of $5,000; William Burris of Steubenville out of $5,000; Samuel Stenowitz of Moscow out of $2,000.

It is thought that Scribner's wife will be in Paris to bail him out. Norris says that he doesn't want Scribner until the authorities of Bourbon and Jessamine counties are through with him.

SHE REFEREED.

An Unsuccessful Lover in Hungary Follows to America.

A Fight Takes Place Between the Lover and the Husband.

The Wife is Appointed Referee, Herself Being the Prize.—The Decision Causes a Riot, in Which Fifty Participants are Badly Wounded.

Mt. Carmel, Pa., Dec. 23.—A desperate battle took place here Wednesday night, which may result in the death of several of the participants. The combat of was caused by a jilted lover, who followed the object of his affections from the old country to America, met his rival, and a fierce fight ensued. Until six months ago John Rotoski, Michael Lincevitch and Mary Donsky lived in a small town in Hungary. Both men were desperately in love with Mary, who finally agreed to flee to this country with John.

Upon their arrival in New York they were married, and have lived in peace and happiness until about one week ago, when it was learned that Lincevitch had followed them to this country with the intention of being revenged. A pugilistic encounter was chosen as a means of deciding the justice of the claims. Wednesday night was the time set for the duel. About fifty railroad workmen witnessed the fray. Mary was selected as referee, and, it is alleged, agreed to take the victor for her husband. The men were stripped to the waist, and when time was called, started in to punish each other. Five rounds were fought, during which time both men had their faces battered into jelly. The fight lasted forty minutes, when, completely exhausted and bleeding profusely, Lincevitch was unable to stand up any longer.

A foul was claimed on account of Rotoski obeying his opponent's ear during which time a fierce and brutal struggle began. The girl sided with her husband's friends, and she was knocked senseless. What resembled a riot followed. Weapons of all kinds were used, and ten or twelve were felled with clubs, while several bullets found their way among the crowd. Nearly all of the fifty were badly out and bruised, and six of them are in a precarious condition. Rotoski, with his face all bandaged up, left Thursday for Shenandoah, accompanied by Mary.
