WHILE banks are a-bustin' all over the country Maysville's four financial institutions are as solid as the eternal hills that fringe our city on the South. BRENNING this morning Maysville runs on Standard Time. This doesn't prevent a back-number citizen from having any kind of time he pleases, however.

OWENSBORO cranks are paving the way for perjury and free whisky in that town. They will request the City Council to refuse any more saloon licenses. THE LEDGER is under many obligations to R. B. Lovel the Grocer for a mess of delicious strawberries, grown in the great State of Lewis. They were perfect beauties.

It is said by the Cincinnati papers that the large increase in passenger traffic on the C. and O. is due mainly to the energy of Assistant General Passenger Agent C. B. Ryan. ATTENTION, S. of V. NEARLY all the big furniture factories of Cincinnati have shut down for an indefinite period, and 200 men will have to get along without $100,000 a week paid out for wages for some time to come. Case Submitted. In the Court of Appeals Saturday, in the case of the Elizabethtown, Lexington and Big Sandy Railroad Company vs. the Ashland and Catlettsburg Street Railroad Company, affidavits were filed, rule for contempt argued by D. W. Fairleigh and T. L. Edelen for appellee and A. M. J. Cochran and A. P. Humphrey, and case submitted on response to rule.

The former received forty-six votes and the latter nineteen, giving I. H. Natas a majority of twenty-seven votes. Mr. Smith has served as a member of the Board of Trustees for a score of years, and those who came in contact with him cannot do him justice otherwise than to say that he was faithful in discharging every known duty, and while the citizens showed by their choice that they desired a change, we trust that they were wise in their decision, and that his successor will prove a man of like qualities.

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES. A Few Pointers About Chicago Well Worth Remembering. As a great many readers of THE LEDGER will make their first trip to Chicago during the World's Fair, a few pointers regarding the geography of the city will be appreciated. In the first place, fix firmly in your mind the fact that Lake Michigan forms the Eastern boundary of the entire city, and if you stand facing the lake with both arms outstretched the left hand will point to the North Pole and the right hand will point straight down the tracks of the Big Four Route to the World's Fair Buildings, situated at the Southern end of the city. Paste this in your hat and you have the key to the entire situation. Coming into Chicago on trains of the Big Four Route, which is the only railroad having an entrance on the South Side along the lake front, where all the hotels and boarding-houses are located, you will find yourself passing practically through the Exposition Grounds and a magnificent panoramic view of the fair is obtained.

At the World's Fair Station of the Big Four Route, if you step off at the right side, you are at the entrance gate to the exposition and can begin "doing" the fair at once; if you step off on the left side you will find yourself in the finest residence portion of Chicago, and right in the midst of the World's Fair Hotel and Boarding-house District. The chances are ten to one you will be within a few minutes' walk of the very place you have selected for your headquarters. If you prefer to go down town, ten minutes ride will bring you to the new Twelfth Street Station in the heart of the city. Now bear in mind the manifest advantage of entering Chicago on the Big Four Route. In the first place you avoid entirely the bother and trouble of a tedious transfer across the city, which is necessary via all other lines, being landed directly at the Exposition Grounds, an advantage offered by no other line; and in the second place you can so fix the geography of the city in your mind that you will at once become as familiar with Chicago as you are with your own town.

Another point in favor of the Big Four Route is found in the fact that if you enter Cincinnati on the Queen and Crescent Route, Louisville and Nashville Railroad, Kentucky Central Railway, Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, or Baltimore and Ohio S. W. Railroad, connection is made at Union Depot, avoiding the disagreeable transfer necessary via all other lines. For full information address D. R. Martin, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati.

Mrs. L. V. DAVIS, who has conducted the Millinery business in this city for the past twenty-five years, has only one store in Maysville and that is located in Zweigart's Block, Second street below Sutton. Be sure you got into the right store. THE famous "bonnet show," which is held annually near Owensville under the auspices of the White Oak Church, was attended by 2,000 people. The rivalry among the women of a large region as to who shall wear the finest bonnet on this day is something wonderful, and seems to be on the increase. It rained almost all day and as a consequence many fine gowns were soiled and some ruined.

GLASGOW contemplates voting upon the prohibition question again. The town has been under the prohibition regime for twenty years, but that doesn't mean quietude. The Times says that lawlessness is rampant. Exciting outbreaks are frequent. The public peace is continually endangered and fully as often broken. In view of the fact that prohibition doesn't make a heaven out of the place but the Glasgow Times very properly suggests that saloons be licensed, the revenue to be derived therefrom devoted to a better police force.

HON. JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES. He Will Not Appear at the House-wood Commencement.

On reaching home late Saturday afternoon I found the following thoroughly disappointing letter awaiting me: "Professor Hays—My Dear Professor: An official call to Washington, on business so imperative and important that it cannot be denied, renders it absolutely necessary that I should cancel my engagement at Maysville on the 7th, as well as two or three which follow in Ohio."

"I beg you to believe that it gives me regret to make any change in your program at this hour, and that nothing but the importance of the business in hand would induce me to do so. I wish to bear to you the most hearty testimony to the strenuous endeavor which the Southern Lyceum Bureau at Louisville has made to induce me to keep my engagement. They have been particularly concerned in the matter, and have exhausted every effort that you might not be disappointed. I regret as much to disappoint them as to disappoint you, and you cannot possibly blame them for any failure to keep my engagement. I am sure the Southern Bureau will be able to find you immediately some substitute who will deliver an even better address than I could have done at this time."

"I hold myself bound to you if you should want me at any-time during the coming fall, even if I have to come to you as some inconvenience to myself. With a profound apology for the necessity which compels me to disappoint you, I beg leave to remain, with best wishes, very truly yours, JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES."
