In Lyeonmg county, Pa., the total industrial wages paid in 1880 amounted to $1,321,510

In 1890 the industrial wages paid in Williamsport, the leading city of Lyeonmg county, were $2,315,811

In the opinion of Mr. Cleveland and his friends this increase in wages was "uncon-stitutional."

THE CAUSE OF THE EARTHQUAKE.

New York Press.—An Administration organ in this city remarks that "our own financial earthquake has had a plain and unmistakable cause, and it was fortunate indeed that it is thus unmistakable. The cause of the recent panic in commercial and industrial circles is beyond question. It is a cause that began to operate from the hour at which it was known that Grover Cleveland had been elected on the Chicago platform, and that a Congress pledged to overthrow all Protection as "unconstitutional" had been elected with him.

For twenty-eight years this Nation has been at peace. Surrounded by the shield of Protection its manufacturers, its farmers and its mechanics have healed the wounds of civil war and built up a vast and complicated system of industries which has made the American people the most prosperous people on the face of the globe. A new Declaration of Independence has been carried into effect. The Republic is to-day as independent of Europe in industry as in politics.

Democratic triumph has loosened the keystone in the arch of our National prosperity. The Democratic party threatens to revolutionize our whole industrial system. Its platform demands that the bulwark of Protection shall be abolished; that American markets shall be surrendered to foreign monopolists; that American manufacturers shall be brought into direct competition with foreigners who pay less than half the scale of American wages.

I called in my family physician and gave him every attention, but the doctor finally told me there was no hope, and the only thing that could be done was to make him comfortable until the end.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS Organize a Bible Class in the Y. M. C. A. Rooms Last Evening.

A few days ago a call was published in the papers to the Sunday-school teachers and scholars and good people in general to meet in the Y. M. C. A. Rooms in the Cox Building for the purpose of organizing a Teachers' Bible Class, through which the teachers of our various Sunday-schools could study the lesson for the following Sunday and become better acquainted with the teachings of the Bible.

A goodly number responded to the call last evening. The meeting was opened by J. T. Kuekley, who, in a brief address, announced the objects and workings of the organization about to be effected. L. M. Mills was chosen Secretary, while Miss Hays presided at the organ.

After the singing of a hymn and Rev. E. B. Calk offered a prayer, those present, as well as the future organization, were welcomed by the President of the Y. M. C. A., after which Rev. Calk delivered a brief address, setting forth his views, followed by Rev. Cochran, both of whom were heartily in favor of the organization. Those present feel greatly encouraged at the start made last evening, and on next Friday evening at the same hour it is hoped that all the Sunday-school teachers in the city will be present and make the Sunday-school Teachers' Interdenominational Bible Class a success.

A special train will start from Ronoverte at 8:05 a. m. August 21st, and run through to Chicago, following a few minutes behind F. V. No. 5. Tickets will be good returning for ten days, which will give ample time to do the Fair. The train will be in charge of the well known Passenger Agent, T. A. Garrigan, who will do everything possible to make the trip a comfortable one, and under his guidance the excursionists will be enabled to secure the best and cheapest hotel arrangements and to visit the Fair in a systematic manner, which will insure seeing everything in the shortest time and at the least expense. THE BOTTOM RAIL ON TOP. The South Appears to Be in Full Control of the Nation. Colonel Fred Mussey, in a Washington letter to The Commercial Gazette, says: Among the Congressional Representatives the South sends up, the Confederate veteran still has the call. Of the 194 of both Houses from that section, 77 are soldiers of the army of the ex-Confederacy. The other law-makers are only 340, and only 74 served in the Union army. Of these 18 are Democrats. The 104 ex-Confederates embrace exactly 104 Democrats. Two of the law-makers, Senators Pugh and Vest, made laws for the Confederacy. Two of the Northern Democrats, Fellows of New York, and Harris of Kansas, served in the army. But Harris was born in the South, a Virginian, while Fellows is a native of Troy N. Y. Surely our Southern brothers cannot complain that they are not getting their share in all branches of the Government. They hold the Speakership and control in the most powerful committees. The man who would be President if Cleveland should die is of direct Southern ancestry, and Southern men hold three of the most important Cabinet portfolios.

In the choicest places of foreign representation of this Nation the Southern Democrats far exceed their Northern party fellows in numbers and importance. The South, as shown in the last census, has one-third and the North two-thirds of the population, and the last National election was about in the same proportion. Therefore it would appear the proper distribution of good things to give the South one-third. But the South is solid, sends solid delegations to the Congress and casts a solid vote in the Electoral College. Of thirty-one leading foreign appointments the North has fourteen and the South seventeen. If you will consider the relative importance of the appointments given the two sections, it will appear wherein the Southerner has the bulge on the Northern brother, and as in the olden time, the Southern dog was the Northern tail. As an illustration, the present Administration has given the Northern Democrats the following appointments: Gray, Indiana, Minister; Risley, New York, Minister; Runyon, New Jersey, Minister; Baker, Minnesota, Minister; Dun, Ohio, Minister; Tripp, South Dakota, Minister; Ewing, Illinois, Minister; Collins, Massachusetts, Consul General; Morse, Indiana, Consul General; New York, Consul; Meeker, Ohio, Consul; Dickinson, New York, Consul; Neal, Ohio, Consul.

The South takes the choicest buns, after this fashion: Eustis, Louisiana, Ambassador; Bayard, Delaware, Ambassador; Parker, Tennessee, Minister; McKenzie, Kentucky, Minister; Young, Georgia, Minister; Alexander, North Carolina, Minister; Broadhead, Missouri, Minister; Taylor, Alabama, Minister; Terrell, Texas, Minister; Judd, Missouri, Consul General; Crittenden, Missouri, Consul General; Dillard, Mississippi, Consul General; Townes, Virginia, Consul General; Chancellor, Maryland, Consul; Williams, Maryland, Consul; Dobbs, Georgia, Consul; Eckford, Mississippi, Consul.

Recently a prominent Northern newspaper commenting upon the appearance of the South on horseback in the Government arena, said: "History is repeating itself. All the signs indicate that we have entered upon another period when the alliance between the Southern gentleman and the Northern 'mud-sill' is to rule the country. The old mercantile spirit of the North is abroad, and is willing to condone a suppression of suffrage as it did the existence of slavery if it can only get rich. The South is willing to remain poor, as in 1850, so long as it can control the Government and direct the Nation's policy."
