STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

Mr. Robert Davis of Plumville Attacked While at Church.

Mr. Robert Davis, the well known blacksmith and Postmaster of Rectortown, was stricken with paralysis about 8 o'clock last evening.

He was attending services at Stewart's Chapel on Bull Creek when the stroke came.

He was conveyed to a residence near by where at last accounts he was still unconscious, with but faint hopes of his recovery.

Mr. Davis is one of the most respected citizens of his community, and it is to be hoped that he may be restored.

FORBEARANCE.

The water supply gave out one day, and the city was filled with grim dismay. Men walked abroad and they tore their hair, and uttered remarks of grim despair. And only one in the mighty crowd joined not in the wailing long and loud. And he asked his neighbor, quite amazed, why this horrible hubbub was raised; and when they told him, he simply smiled with the far-off gaze of a gentle child. And he murmured: "Home is the place for me. I'm going back where I ought to be. "There in Kentucky we're too well bred to notice a thing like that," he said. —Washington Star.

MAYSVILLE WEATHER.

What We May Expect For the Next Twenty-four Hours.

THE LEDGER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

White streamer—FAIR; Blue—RAIN or SNOW; With Black ABOVE—TWIL WARMER GROW; If Black's BENEATH—COLDER 'TILL BE; Unless Black's shown—no change we'll see.

The above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

We respectfully invite the comparison of THE LEDGER with any other daily newspaper in all Northeastern Kentucky. If any one can find a daily paper printed in the Ninth Congressional District that has a Larger Circulation, or More Original Reading Matter, we will take pleasure in presenting him with a year's subscription to THE LEDGER.

And this paper is furnished at same price as inferior ones.

It requires only $150 more to insure the new pike between Aberdeen and the Adams county line.

Before going to the Fairs call and see the pretty hats and headgear at Mrs. L. V. Davis's.

People with hair that is continually falling out, or those that are bald, can stop the falling and get a good growth of hair by using Hall's Hair Renewer.

Dr. John Fleming of Elizaville, well known here, has passed his 81st birthday and bids fair to be a useful citizen for several years to come.

Mr. Joseph L. Day, father of Colonel Fletcher L. Day, Editor of The Felicity (O.) Times, died at that place Monday night, in his 79th year.

The Fleming News, under the control of Mr. James F. Hinton, comes to us again, filled, as of yore, to the very brim with live local news—but the dearest sort of politics.

Shepard Lucas, colored, was run down by the "Flyer" on the C. and O. Bridge at Cincinnati shortly after 9 o'clock Wednesday night, receiving injuries that will prove fatal.

It speaks well for an article when the longer it is used the better it is liked. Such is the case with Ayer's Hair Vigor. People who have been using it for years could not be induced to try any other dressing for their hair, because it gives such perfect satisfaction.

Colonel John Wheeler the Fruiterer and Confectioner has THE LEDGER'S thanks for a luscious watermelon. Mr. Wheeler can always be relied upon for the earliest and the best in his line.

I have sold my entire stock of boots, shoes and rubbers to the Progress Shoe Co. of Cincinnati, who will open in a few days with a complete line of boots and shoes in my old stand. All persons owing me will please call and settle at once, as I desire to close up my business as soon as possible. W. C. MINER.

Professor Jo Bode, Professor Eli Greenlee and Professor William Setters were before Squire Bramel yesterday for invading Mr. J. G. Wadsworth's apple orchard without his consent. It cost them $14 95 apiece. This is a new law, and the penalty for its violation is a fine of from $5 to $30. These intruders got the lowest fine.

Miss Florence Wadsworth entertained delightfully last evening in honor of her guest, Miss Lillian Armstrong of Flemingsburg. There were about thirty couples present—and there would have been more if the eight bashful young men who went alone had taken an equal number of charming young ladies who couldn't go for lack of escort.

SERVICES POSTPONED.

But There Will Be Work in the Initiatory Degree.

The memorial services announced to take place at DeKalb Lodge I. O. O. F. next Tuesday evening have been postponed one week.

Instead there will be work in the Initiatory Degree, and members of all sister Lodges are cordially invited to attend.

There will be visitors from the new Lodge at Helena.

SHOE FACTORY SOLD.

Purchased for Local Parties Who Will Continue Business.

This amount does not include the accounts and finished shoes on hand.

It will be good news to many to know that this establishment is now on a sure footing, and it is thought the business will prosper and grow.

"UNLUCKY THIRTEEN."

How It Figures in the Case of the Late Mr. Dieterich.

13

THE LEDGER was first to call attention to the fact that the late Mr. C. P. Dieterich of this city was one of a party of "13" that sat at a supper table in Helena on the 27th ult.—the occasion of the institution of a Lodge of Oddfellows at that place.

The fact was commented on at the time, and a gentleman from Flemingsburg, who was at the table, became exceedingly nervous.

Now, while THE LEDGER takes no stock in superstitions, it must be confessed that the "unlucky thirteen" figures unpleasantly often in connection with the latter days of Mr. Dieterich.

First, there were 13 applications for membership acted upon by Helena Lodge in the afternoon;

Then 13 Oddfellows sat at one of the supper tables—Mr. Dieterich being one of the number;

It is 13 miles from Maysville to Helena;

The first meeting night of Mr. Dieterich's Lodge after the return from Helena, there were just 13 members present who had attended the Helena meeting, Mr. Dieterich being one;

He died early on the morning of last Tuesday, and at his Lodge meeting that evening next Tuesday night—the 13th day of the month—was designated as a time to pay tribute to his worth as man, citizen and Oddfellow;

There are, including the President, 13 members of the City Council, of which he was one;

He lived on the 13th square from Market street, which divides the city East and West;

Lastly, he was buried on the 13th day following his participation in the Helena supper!

Here are eight circumstances, mostly occurring within two weeks, in which the "unlucky thirteen" figures prominently;—affording, to say the least, ample scope for the contention as to the fatality of that dreaded number.

TODAY'S GREAT GAME!

THE CINCINNATI REDS WILL BE HERE FOR REVENGE.

"What Will The Corn Crop Be?"—Our Fans in Fine Fettle—Diamond Dust From All Points.

There was no game yesterday between the Maysville and Vanceburg clubs.

It started all right, and at the last half of the third inning the umpire made a rank decision, giving Maysville the worst of it by calling a man out at the plate, and the boys did not feel like taking such treatment from all the farmer teams in the country, so they quit, the score standing 4 to 0 in favor of Maysville.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the Cincinnati Reds and the Locals will try again to see which is really which.

The Locals will only have to use a little team work and not do any fooling, and the game will be theirs.

The Reds will arrive on the "P. D. Q." at 1:30, and with them will be Umpire McDonald, a League man. There will probably be two umpires in today's game.

However, it will be a great game, and the crowd promises to be the largest of the season.

SHORT STOPS.

All vehicles that stop at the ball ground and all boys who climb the fence today and hereafter at the Ball Park will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

W. S. WATSON, Manager.

Every one of the Maysville Baseball Club that makes a home run today come to Dawson Bros. grocery and get $1 for every one they make.

DAWSON BROS.

The St. Louis Browns play at Huntington this afternoon.

VanWinkle couldn't get to hit the ball at Ashland—he had to "walk."

In the second game with Ashland Wellner and Wadsworth were the homerunners.

Outside the Cincinnati boys the Vanceburg team know nothing whatever about the game.

The "haymakers" found their match yesterday when they encountered the Maysville boys.

The Murphysville ball team and a picked nine of Maysville will have a game at the Park tomorrow afternoon. Admission 10 cents.

Danville's colored baseball team went to Lexington Monday and beat the team there by a score of 23 to 12. From there they went to Versailles and cleaned up a nine by a score of 13 to 9.

The Fleming News is fair enough to say this of the recent so-called game between Maysville and Flemingsburg:

"The Maysville Baseball Team came up Monday, according to program, to play an exhibition game at this place. They carried fifteen men, and adding three of our local players, made the two nines requisite for a contest. The playing was very good at times, as if to show us that the Maysville team can play ball when it wants to, but the score was purposely kept at about a stand-off all the while, which rendered it necessary for an occasional fumble or wild throw that was a dampener upon the spirits of the spectators—25 cents a spec. The final score was 12-13 against the regular Maysville team. Our people would have enjoyed the game more if the score had been allowed to run as it might. They paid their money and would like to have seen the champions play ball."

The Ashland papers think well of our boys. The Sun says: "The Maysville boys can play ball, and don't you forget it. Hall, who played one season with the Mr. Sterling team, is playing shortstop with the Maysville boys, and he is a veritable peach in the field. McGann is a man that Maysville should be proud of. He does his share of the work. Sutherland is 'the boy for Willie.' He held down the first bag, and did it nicely. Tenley is a slick catcher, and he can rank with the best of the crack teams of the country. Wadsworth played center field, and he covered the whole of the outfield without any trouble. Cox has the reputation of being the kicker of the age, but he did not show it in yesterday's game." The News says: "VanWinkle is a neat, easy player at third. Hilleary was the bright particular star on the batting list of the Maysville team Tuesday. The Maysville's great hold on the game is the fact that they know every particular of it."

The funeral of the late Charles P. Dieterich was largely attended yesterday afternoon, hundreds of neighbors and private citizens attesting their esteem by their presence. About 150 Oddfellows were in line, and the members of City Council, the city officials and the Police force attended in a body. It was one of the largest funerals seen in Maysville for several years.

A Record Breaker.

Mr. Andy Madden, the West End dairyman, accomplished a feat Tuesday evening we challenge the world to beat. He ate a forty-five pound watermelon on a wager at one sitting. This was accomplished at a grocery in the presence of half a dozen witnesses.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM!

Driftwood Gathered and Split for Ledger Patrons.

A rise is looked for at Catlettsburg, due to the heavy rains along the Big Sandy.

New river at Hinton marks a rise of .1. The Kanawha is stationary at Charleston.

The Courier passed down last night. She will be out tonight in the Pomeroy business.

The Bonanza has been withdrawn from the Maysville trade and placed in the Pomeroy business.

The H. K. Bedford is again in the Maysville trade, she having been withdrawn from the Pomeroy run.

The rise in the upper Ohio did not materialize. No material change occurred at any point and the river continues slowly falling at all points.

The little towboat Wm. Wormald, with a tow or Pomeroy coal, hung upon the bar at Catlettsburg Wednesday night, and got her tow off only after considerable trouble.

The report published regarding the Sunshine running over a sailboat below this city on her last trip is untrue. The crew strenuously deny the fact and claim it was a towboat following them.

The Pittsburgh Packet Company will build a boat to take the place of the Scotia recently sold to Barrett's Independent Line. This will make three new steamers for the Pittsburgh Company building, and to be built.

The work on the Guyardotte dykes which has lately been somewhat delayed through the rise in the Ohio, has been taken up again and will be rushed through from date as speedily as possible, in order to escape the ill effects of the fall weather.

The burning of the Carrollton and the Big Sandy will compel the Big Sandy Packet Company to build some fine new steamers to take up their runs. The boats were among the best afloat, especially the Big Sandy, which held the record between Louisville and Cincinnati.

The Clara Cavatt is tied up at Portsmouth making repairs on her engines. She has in tow an immense steel transfer barge for Memphis and a Government dredgeboat. The latter is one of the most complete dredging machines ever built for river work, and is entirely of steel. Over 275 tons of steel were employed in the construction of this dredge, and when it reaches its destination, Cairo, it will receive over 500 tons of machinery. It has on board a filtering apparatus capable of filtering over 100,000 gallons of water per hour. The boat will be propelled by a large hydraulic pump, and will be used in the Mississippi river between Cairo and Memphis.

Cincinnati steamboat lines and companies have suffered heavy losses during the past year or two, and it seems the end is not yet. Among the boats lost are the State of Missouri, Tom Sherlock, Mary Houston, City of Madison, Longfellow, Golden Rule, and now the Big Sandy and Carrollton. The last named three were burned at the Cincinnati wharf. Louisville has been very fortunate. There never were but two fires at the city wharf there, both long before the war, the last one being the Elinora Carroll, burned at the foot of Bullitt street. The wharf-boat in which the fire started at Cincinnati Monday replaced the one which was burned to the water's edge three years ago, when the Golden Rule, which was lying alongside of it, was destroyed.
