CONCORD CULLINGS.

The Ledger Correspondent at That Point Sends a Batch of Good Items.

New corn, 30 cents a bushel.
Three great big cheers for W. O. Bradley!
John Sparks is at Higginsport visiting relatives.
Lank Ashenburt is in Cincinnati buying some goods.
Rev. W. H. Adams went to Cincinnati to sell some lumber.
Ed. Edgley has moved to Covington. Hate to lose a good citizen like Ed.
Clyde Carr, employed as brakeman for the C. and O., is home on the sick list.
Joe Mann is building a new car factory, also new cooper shop. Let the good work go on.
W. E. H. Curran sold a fine piano to Mr. John Gillipin. There will be music in the air now.
Mr. Jack Frost came in on a good many farmers last night and destroyed many an acre of tobacco in our county.
The woods near here have been on fire for a week. Close watch is kept on it, and there is no damage to amount to anything.
John Wilson last week, while playing ball, ran into a young man, knocking John down, and the neck proved fatal, as he died and was buried Thursday.
N. A. Doolittle of Concord and Jack Hendrickson of Tollyboro got into a quarrel about a yoke of oxen, and ended by the former cutting the latter in the neck and once in the breast. The cuts are not serious. Now, Jack, when you get well regard the Concord people as tough citizens, and they won't do to monkey with.

BOSTON BREAKS LOOSE.

A Tough Wave Strikes the City of "Cutehah" Amidships.

If it had been any other place, we would not have been so much surprised, but when the sedate and cultured town of Boston suffers from a wave of toughness which shakes even the hidebound conservatism of its advertising methods, we don't know what to think of it. How it started or how long it will last we don't know, but it is surprising that the first advertiser to be inoculated with the virus of the slams was the Paine Furniture Co.
Now, this company is one of the largest institutions of its kind in the country, and a very high-toned and dignified house. The proprietors have always been known as awfully good people, so good, in fact, that they wouldn't advertise in a Sunday paper.

Imagine the excitement, when, a few days ago, this staid and sober firm published this newspaper ad:

"One moment, 99! We want to open our face to you about your dormitory outfit. Let us talk in the vernacular. The footless public may not get on to the scheme, but we are not jollying the public on this trip.
"You want to get together on some furniture. Now, don't fool yourself on prices and qualities. If expense cuts any ice, come to us. We are easily in the push on price.
"We mark our standard goods to students at prices to beat the band. You'll get cold feet if you are too keen after cheap furniture. You want comfort and you're not in it with cheap stuff. Remember we push the baggage wagon free in any part of Cambridge.
"This double library desk will give you a line on our position: $13.50 in solid oak, and it has nine large drawers, two full length slides and is finely made throughout. They'll strike you for 21 elsewhere.
"What do you say? Are we in it?"
We thought this was about as bad as it could be, but it wasn't. Last Sunday H. R. Plimpton & Co., another sober and self satisfied firm, has an attack of a still more virulent and malignant nature. Here are the results of it:
Youse fellers!
Youse Harvard College fellers!
Are yer harkin'?
'Cause we're hootin' at yer!
We want ter put yer onter a soft snap—see?
"When it comes ter set downs er lay-downs fer yer put ups, er rags ter tramp yer trotters on—w'y we don't take de 'row down fom any oder feller in de bizness—y' un'erstan'?"
Not even if he comes fom the Nort' End—see?
Ef any bloke tells yer dif'rent, w'y, give 'im de laugh—see?
We've got de goods, an' we make de price.
We know w'at we kin do, betcher life!
See?
Dose fellers at de Nort' End puts up a great bluff, dey does; but when de scrap is on dey ain't in it wid us.
Wot 'e'll!
We await the further developments of this malady with an interest which is not unmix'd with alarm. In the meantime we want to make a few remarks. These ads are evidently directed at the Harvard students. Now, the Harvard men are gentlemen, and this is a very queer way to approach them. If these firms wanted to send a man to personally solicit the custom of the Harvard students, would they search out an ignorant, loud-mouthed tough, with protested check clothes, a four days growth of beard, and

The advertising columns of THE LEDGER speak for themselves. They show that people who know how to advertise know also WHERE to advertise.

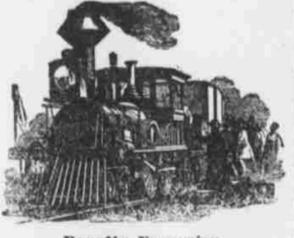

Here's something of interest to our society belles. The latest addition to big sleeves is a seven-inch ruffle from the shoulder to the elbow, starched to a frazzle and braced with a whalebone. In case you don't have the ruffle, the blade of an old cross-cut saw may be substituted.

The great reduction in the price of sterling silver ware brings it within the reach of those who heretofore have been obliged to use plated articles. We can show a large stock comprising the latest and best ideas of the most prominent manufacturers.

That Parade.

The most splendid display the Queen City ever had.
Cincinnati is justly proud of her first centennial. Easily the best in America, and its police department, which stands first in all that appertains to efficiency, the fire department is modernly equipped, and the splendid army of horses alone that draw the great machines and ladder-wagons and march in reserve, is a sight to be rarely witnessed. Animals chosen only for their strength and intelligence. They almost talk, these Cincinnati fire horses. The police force marches like a phalanx in blue down the street, six footers, neatly every one, clean looking, well dressed, intelligent men, who surpass in drilling any similar force on earth. Four Governors of four of the best states in the Union—Governors McCorkie of West Virginia, Brown of Kentucky, Matthews of Indiana, and McKinley of Ohio—will be at the parade. The city will be adorned profusely, and the fan parade of half a hundred bands will saturate the air with sweet sounds. See the C. and O. Agent at your Station for further particulars.

An exchange says that Rev. E. H. Pearce is the only Methodist preacher in the United States upon whom the title D.D. was conferred by a Presbyterian school, Center College, Danville, conferring the degree upon him.

Over Thirty Years Without Sickness.

Mr. H. WETSTEIN, a well-known, enterprising citizen of Byron, Ill., writes: "Before I paid much attention to regulating the bowels, I hardly knew a well day; but since I learned the evil results of constipation, and the efficacy of AYER'S Pills, I have not had one day's sickness for over thirty years—not one attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife had been, previous to our marriage, an invalid for years. She had a prejudice against cathartics, but as soon as she began to use Ayer's Pills her health was restored."
