

GEN. GORDON

Re-Elected Commander-in-Chief of the Confederate Veterans.

The Thousands of Delegates Present Cheered and Waved Their Hats.

The Committee on Credentials Reported That 7,000 Delegates Were Present and 1,000 Camps Represented—Confederate Memorial Association.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 24.—When the business meeting of the confederate association met in the Tabernacle Wednesday was called to order by Gen. John B. Gordon, prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Kelly, of Columbia, Tenn. The report of the committee on history, was presented and referred. Gen. Gordon then delivered his address, prefacing it with an announcement of his intention to resign as general commanding. There were cries of "no," "no," from all over the hall, and when quiet had been restored, Gen. Gordon proceeded with his address.

When Gen. Gordon had concluded, a motion that Gen. Joseph Wheeler be requested to nominate Gen. Gordon for re-election, was made and carried. Gen. Stephen D. Lee, who had been called to the chair, declared nominations closed, and Gen. Gordon was unanimously re-elected. The thousands of delegates present cheered and waved their hats and handkerchiefs, and the scene was a most impressive one.

The committee on credentials reported 7,000 delegates present and 1,000 camps represented.

Gen. Chipley, of Florida, chairman of the Confederate Memorial association, presented the first report of the committee.

The report of the board of trustees of the Confederate Memorial association was read and adopted. The meeting then adjourned until 3 o'clock.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 24.—Atlanta gets the next reunion. At the business meeting Wednesday afternoon it was voted to meet in Atlanta next year. The afternoon session was held for the purpose of winding up the business matters before the association. The unanimous refusal of the association to allow Gen. John B. Gordon to retire as commander-in-chief had put an end to possible difficulties and entanglements and paved the way for a speedy disposition of the remaining business. A resolution commendatory of the reign of Queen Victoria was voted down and the resolution of praise for the queen's jubilee was defeated.

The business matters are all disposed of and Thursday the old confederates and their friends will devote themselves to social recreations. There are 15,000 of the old soldiers in attendance. Official badges have been issued to more than 12,000 and regularly delegated attendants from camps and bivouacs number, according to official reports more than 8,000. There never before has been so large a gathering in this city. Hotels are jammed, business houses are full, temporary lodging places are crowded and yet Thursday will witness another invasion. The great parade occurs Thursday.

YALE FRESHMEN

Win the Two-Mile Race Over the Harvard and Cornell—Record Breakers.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 24.—Three crews of freshmen on the Hudson Wednesday evening smashed to smithereens all previous records for freshmen on a two-mile course, and put up one of the hottest intercollegiate races ever witnessed in this country. A crew of sturdy Yale freshmen rowed the two-mile course in 9 minutes, 19 1/2 seconds; a trifle lighter crew of Harvard freshmen fought them every inch of the way and finished a trifle over two lengths behind them, in 9:26 1/2, and the Cornell freshmen, whose college record is that none of its freshmen crews has ever been beaten before, finished a length behind Harvard in 9:29 1/2.

The best previous record for two miles was 9:41, made by the Columbia freshmen crew of '94 at New London, in 1891.

While the conditions here are better for fast time than they are upon the Thames, and while, therefore, some allowance should be made for the much better exhibition Wednesday, the day's race was a very remarkable one, all three of the crews having lowered the record, the last crew in the race—Cornell—doing so by 1 1/2 seconds. All three of the three crews used every pound of power in their boats at every stage of the two miles and each crew at some period of the race was in the lead.

Blown Up With Dynamite.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 24.—An Italian laborer's shanty near Brilliant station, on the Allegheny Valley railroad, was blown up by dynamite shortly after midnight and Gaetano Antinello was instantly killed. Tignorina Sartorilla was fatally injured and a number of others received injuries of a less serious nature. The police believe the explosion was the result of a plot against Antinello and 13 Italians have been arrested pending an investigation.

Consul Baker Injured in a Wreck.

ST. LOUIS, June 24.—A special to the Republic from Alton, Ill., says: A message has been received here saying that Col. Edward L. Baker, United States consul at Buenos Ayres, Argentine Republic, since 1874, was terribly injured there Tuesday in a railroad wreck. The colonel lost his right arm and was otherwise so badly injured that he is in the government hospital.

Disturbances at Oveido.

MADRID, June 24.—Disturbances have taken place at Oveido, capital of the Spanish province of that name. The gendarmes who were detailed to suppress the disorder fired upon the rioters, killing two workmen and wounding five others. A renewal of the disturbance is feared.

BIMETALLIC LEAGUES

Of West Virginia, Kentucky Ohio and Indiana Adopt a Constitution.

CINCINNATI, June 24.—At 10 a. m. Permanent Chairman Brown opened the convention with an address. He spoke of the great extent of territory represented by the large gathering and said it was indicative of the growing interest in silver.

In his speech Chairman Brown mentioned the name of James G. Blaine. It brought forth as loud applause as when he referred to William J. Bryan.

After Chairman Brown's speech Secretary Clark read an invitation from Mayor Taggart, of Indianapolis, to hold the next convention in that city. The Big Four promises low rates and the Indianapolis Commercial club promised co-operation in entertainment. He also read a communication from the centennial at Nashville, inviting the convention to visit the exposition.

The communications were received and filed pending further action, upon motion of D. L. Baumgartner.

A delegate moved that the roll be called, but was ruled out of order by the chair.

A motion was then made to have the committee on constitution report. Chairman Casset read the same, which was adopted with one amendment.

The constitution provides that the name of the organization shall be "The League of Ohio-Valley Bimetallic Clubs." It shall consist of bimetallic clubs of West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana. Its object shall be to encourage and assist in the formation of bimetallic clubs for organized work in advocating the principle of "the free coinage of silver and gold upon equal terms."

The constitution after considerable discussion was adopted.

The report of the committee on nominations was then called for. Chairman Cushing then read the names proposed as follows:

For president, Dr. R. H. Reemelin; Cincinnati; vice presidents, C. J. Bronston, Lexington, Ky.; W. D. Wilson, Osgood, Ind.; W. O. Frazier, Wheeling, W. Va. (Ohio has no vice president, having the presidency); Secretary, John E. Owens, Cincinnati; treasurer, J. P. Tarrin, Covington, Ky. The executive committee is to be composed of A. W. Clark, Greensburg, Ind.; G. D. Downing, Aurora, Ind.; Ramsey Washington, Newport, Ky.; J. L. Rhinock, Covington, Ky.; D. L. Baumgartner, and R. M. Shearer, Cincinnati. There being but one delegate from West Virginia, the vice president from that state was recommended to be empowered to appoint the two members of the executive committee from that state.

Eloquent speeches were made by the leaders in the silver cause. The convention adjourned Wednesday afternoon to meet in Indianapolis next year.

IN THE SENATE.

The Wool Schedule of the Tariff Bill Completed in the Senate.

AT THE OPERA.

The Scene in the Covent Garden Was a Most Gorgeous One.

Women Blazed With Jewelry and the Men With Brilliant Uniforms.

The Queen, Empress Frederick of Germany and Princess Beatrice Were Absent—The Audience Included All the Leaders of Social England.

LONDON, June 24.—Wednesday night was a gala night at Covent Garden opera house, where the whole programme and performance reflected the greatest credit on Maurice Grau.

The event fairly rivaled the procession as an attraction to Londoners. For miles around Covent garden the streets were crowded and the crush of carriages was so dense that many men, wearing gorgeous uniforms and covered with jewels, had to walk for long distances with the varying comments of the crowd. Many others, like the duke of Marlborough and the duke of Devonshire, drove to the opera house in state carriages, with coachmen and footmen resplendent in state liveries.

In front of the opera house was a mounted guard of honor; inside the car of Latham, with a lot of gold sticks awaited the arrival of the royal party, while Beefeaters lined the stairway and mounted guard outside the royal box.

Meantime the house filled and the scene was most gorgeous. The women blazed with jewelry; nearly every man wore a uniform of some sort, while the Indian princes, dressed in native costume, occupied prominent boxes and were curious spectators of the glittering display.

At length the royals began to arrive, the princess of Wales coming first. Her costume was white, embroidered with silver; upon her head she wore a beautiful diamond tiara, pearls around her neck and a long row of orders across her bodice. As she entered the royal box the audience rose and the band played the national anthem.

The rest of the party then filed into the box, each preceded by the earl of Latham walking backward. Among them were all the visiting princes and all the members of the English royal family except the queen, Empress Frederick of Germany and Princess Beatrice.

As soon as they were seated the curtain rose, disclosing the entire cast of the opera, among them Madame Melba and Mme. De Reszke, grouped upon the stage. Then followed such a rendering of the national anthem as it never had before, after which was carried out Mr. Grau's carefully arranged programme, including the second act of "Tannhauser," the third act of Gounod's "Romeo and Juliet," and the fourth act of the "Huguenots."

The efforts of the singers and the orchestra were received with the greatest enthusiasm and the performance surpassed in every way the famous Gaiety performance given at Covent Garden for the emperor of Germany.

The scene was one of incomparable loveliness. The whole interior of the structure was hidden by freshly cut flowers, principally roses. The upper tier of boxes was a mass of pink roses and the bottom tier of rich dark red roses. White flowers adorned the royal box, which was surmounted by an enormous floral crown of crimson roses and golden orchids.

The box was decorated in the Louis XVI style, the chairs and settees being covered with white and yellow silk. The same material, fluted and patterned into diamonds formed the ceiling.

The box was a beautiful picture. The prince of Wales wore the red uniform of a field marshal and among all the other princes there were no two uniforms like.

The royal group seemed a collection of glittering orders and beautiful gowns. The princess of Naples wore some wonderful diamonds, and Grand Duchess Sergina displayed the largest emerald in the world.

It was noticeable, however, that the royals were less lavish in jewelry than many ladies in the other boxes, who were fairly plastered with gems.

The audience included all the leaders of official and social England and all of the ambassadors. Ambassador Hay, with Miss Jay and Spencer Eddy, occupied his own box.

After the performance in Covent garden, the prince and princess of Wales and the royal party were entertained at supper by Lord Rothschild at his town house in Piccadilly. A dance followed. There were 800 guests.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—SENATE.—After a session lasting throughout the day the senate completed the paragraphs of the wool schedule relating to raw wool, and advanced into features relating to manufactured woolen goods. The day was devoted largely to a discussion of the effect of the tariff rates in the price of wool and the speeches were on the republican lines in the main. At one main point, Mr. Hoar diverted technical discussion by reference to William J. Bryan's opposition to his tariff. This brought Senators Mantle Allen and Stewart to the defense of Mr. Bryan. Mr. Teller was drawn into the controversy, and in a few incisive remarks warned his former republican associates that their hopes of prosperity from his bill would be blasted. Mr. Quay made an effort to have the house ad valorem rates on third-class wools adopted, but he was defeated 19 to 11. The committee rates were then agreed to, viz: four cents per pound on third-class wool valued at 10 cents or less per pound and seven cents per pound on third-class wools valued at over 10 cents per pound. The schedule was completed up to paragraph 384, relating to cloths, knit fabrics, etc.

Fatal Shooting Affray in Okla.—SELMA, Ala., June 24.—Frank Riggs, a prominent merchant, was shot and instantly killed, and Wm. J. Reese was seriously wounded in a shooting affray at Belknap, Ala. A. Sewell, Riggs' father-in-law also took part in the shooting.

CONDENSED NEWS

The senate Wednesday confirmed W. Von Stegute as postmaster at San Francisco and Philip Gallagher as commissioner for the District of Alaska.

James T. Kilbreth, collector of the port of New York, died Wednesday night at Southampton, L. I. He had been ill for some time past with pneumonia.

Capt. Wm. H. Whiting, U. S. N., late commander of the naval station at Fugent Sound, has assumed command of the U. S. monitor Manadnock, relieving Capt. George W. Sumner, U. S. N.

The queen has ordered a special diamond-shaped medal struck in solid gold and silver for the presentation to all the lord mayors in the United Kingdom, the lord provosts and the provosts. It will be worn with a ribbon in the usual manner.

Dublin was gaily illuminated Wednesday night and there have been further disorderly scenes. Black flags were carried about on the college green and the police were frequently compelled to charge the crowd. Many arrests have been made.

About 80,000 pounds of tea brought to San Francisco since the first of May has not been allowed to be imported, because it did not come up to the standard of quality established by the secretary of the treasury in April. The importers are protesting.

All the London newspapers, from the Times down, express the greatest gratification at the kindly comments of the American newspapers on the queen's jubilee and at the vivid accounts of the celebration contained in the newspapers of the United States.

Yale and Harvard have reached an agreement upon the long standing question of time and place for the football match next autumn. It has been agreed to play the game on Saturday, November 13, at Cambridge. Paul Dashiell, the old Lehigh player, will act as umpire.

Capt. George W. Kingsbury, United States Army, retired, died at his home in Clifton Springs, N. Y., aged 58 years. He had an excellent record in the civil war, afterwards served in the west and had charge of the execution of the famous Indian chief, "Captain Jack," following the Modoc campaign.

At a meeting of the Merchants' & Manufacturers' association action has been taken toward advancing commercial relations of Los Angeles, Cal., with Mexico. It was the sense of the meeting that an independent boat line be established between San Pedro and the ports of Western Mexico and Central America.

The New York Tribune's London dispatch describing the jubilee parade, says: By a notable coincidence, through the glittering length of the cavalcade, only two figures were plainly dressed in black; one was the queen of England, empress of India, the other the special ambassador of the United States, White-Laird.

Several hundred British-born citizens of Milwaukee and other Wisconsin cities celebrated the queen's jubilee by a banquet at the Pfister hotel. The prevailing tone of the toasts was that naturalized British subjects can profess devotion to the queen of Great Britain without disloyalty to the United States. Toasts to the queen and to the president were drunk standing and a number of Scottish songs sung.
