

A MOB

At Crystal Springs, Miss., Disposes of a Negro Murderer.

Taken From Jail and Hanged Before the State Troops Arrived.

The Crime for Which the Negro Was Strung Up Was a Most Cowardly One—He Brained an Aged Farmer and Then Robbed the Body.

JACKSON, Miss., June 26.—The Crystal Springs mob which assembled to hang William Mosley, colored, for the murder of John H. Strong, white, got its man at 9:45 Friday morning and lynched him. Acting Gov. Jones was found at 8 o'clock Friday and wired Adj. Gen. Henry to send troops. The Capital light guards of Jackson, were at the depot preparing to go by special train when, at 9:50, came a telegram that the Negro was dead. The troops disbanded.

The crime for which the Negro was lynched was most cowardly. He asked permission to ride with Mr. Strong, who had been to Crystal Springs and sold $5.55 worth of tomatoes. He crawled into the wagon, brained the old man with a stick, robbed the body, took to the woods and let the team go home with the corpse.

After three days' search the murderer was captured. The mob was small, and had the troops been ordered Thursday night, it could have been thwarted easily. But neither the governor nor lieutenant governor could be reached Thursday night.

KEY WEST, FLA.

The City Virtually in the Hands of a Negro Mob—One White Man Killed.

KEY WEST, Fla., June 26.—This city was virtually in the hands of a Negro mob Thursday night and a white citizen was killed by the mob. At 4 p. m. Thursday, Silvanus Johnson, charged with assault on a white woman, Mrs. Margaret Atwell, was conducted to the courthouse for a hearing. The courtroom was crowded, and C. B. Pendleton, a well-known citizen, arose and asked:

"Are there enough white men present to hang the Negro?"

There was a chorus of "Yes," and the crowd closed in on the prisoner. The sheriff and his deputies drew their revolvers and held the crowd at bay while Johnson was at once hurried back to jail. A mob gathered in front of the building, and one of the Negroes cried out to lynch Pendleton, and a rush was made for him. Through the efforts of himself and his friends, Pendleton made his escape in a carriage.

The Negro mob then gathered again about the jail building to prevent the lynching of Johnson, and often threats were made by them to kill any white man that might come to the jail. About 11 o'clock Friday night, Wm. Gardner, a white man, was sitting in front of the courthouse, when several of the Negro mob approached him and ordered him to move on. He arose to obey, and as soon as his back was turned there rang out the crack of a number of rifles, and Gardner received a mortal wound, from which he died two hours later.

The whites are inclined to avenge Gardner's death, and another attempt to lynch Johnson is expected to be made. A serious conflict between the whites and the blacks is feared.

The militia is in readiness for any disturbance, having been ordered out by the governor, and the United States troops are at the orders of the sheriff.

While the queen and Empress Frederick were dining Friday evening, a thousand Eton boys, with bands of music, entered the quadrangle of the castle and gave an exhibition of torchlight evolutions and fireworks. The charming spectacle was watched by the queen and the members of the royal household from the castle windows.

Well Pleased Over the Part Taken by the United States in the Diamond Jubilee.

NEW YORK, June 26.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: The favorable impression produced in England by President McKinley's action in appointing a special embassy for the historic occasion of the queen's jubilee is emphasized by the distinction with which it has been received at court and in the highest social circles. All the members of the special embassy shared in the exceptional honors and attentions paid them as representatives of the United States. Royalty has set the style, and every reference to America in the public press is sympathetic and appreciative. The fact is generally recognized that America has departed from her usual half-hearted methods of diplomatic intercourse with foreign nations and taken her place with dignity and distinction in the world's court of honor opened in London for the purpose of congratulating the queen and her empire on her long and prosperous reign.

LIGHTNING

Flays Havoc With Life and Property in Georgia.

Two Girls Slain by a Bolt at Powder Springs, a Summer Resort.

Thrashing Machine Torn to Pieces and Its Operators Badly Injured—Two Men Killed at Carrollton—Negro Slain and Two Others Hurt at Milner.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 26.—Lightning played havoc with life and property in Georgia Friday. The daughter of the mayor of Powder Springs, a popular summer resort in this state, Miss Hattie Scott, was slain by a bolt Friday evening, and at the same place a powerful thrashing machine was torn to pieces by lightning, its operators dangerously injured and the draught oxen killed.

At Carrollton, the center of the stock-raising industry in the state, James Downs, jr., and Samuel Connie, both white, were struck and killed by lightning, the bolt tearing their clothes and discoloring their features. Damage to property at this place will be immense.

At Milner, in the northern portion of this state, a bolt struck on Mr. J. A. Farley's farm and killed Samuel Lawrence, a colored farm hand, badly burned another, and injured Mr. Farley's son. The storm which accompanied the electrical display flooded all the water ways, and the loss of property owing to fires originating from lightning resulting from the floods will range very high.

The lightning played curious freaks, sometimes merely touching an old ruin and again destroying some pretentious planter's residence. The damage in the large towns was comparatively light.

'VARSITY RACE.

Cornell Wins by Five Lengths; Time, 20 Minutes and 34 Seconds.

POUGHKEPSIE, N. Y., June 26.—There was little betting aside from private wagers on the Cornell-Yale Harvard varsity race Friday afternoon. Bookmakers' offers of 12 to 10 against Harvard went without takers.

At 3:45 p. m. all crews were in position at the stakeboat, and at 3:45 they were off, Cornell leading slightly.

First mile—Cornell, first; Harvard, second; Yale, third. Yale is gaining on Harvard. Yale fought up gamely from last place. Harvard's long stroke is telling on Cornell.

Second mile—Cornell, first; Yale, second; Harvard, third. Time at second mile, 10:30.

At the third mile Cornell is two lengths ahead, Yale second, Harvard third. Harvard is apparently getting very tired. Cornell is rowing easy.

The stroke of Yale's eight at the start was 38, but gradually dropped to 32 and worked up and down from that point.

Harvard's start about 35 and dropped to 31.

Cornell wins by five lengths; Yale second; Harvard third, four lengths back. Time 20 minutes 34 seconds.

The official time was as follows: Cornell, 20:34; Yale, 20:44; Harvard, 21:00. The time last year of Cornell's winning crew was 19:29, but there was a great deal heavier tide in their favor. The finish Friday was marked by a great demonstration upon the part of the boats and people.

CLARK LEWIS

Pays the Penalty at Fayetteville, W. Va.

FAYETTEVILLE, W. Va., June 26.—Clark Lewis was hanged at 1:45 p. m. (eastern time) Friday. He died in 12 minutes.

At noon there were 10,000 people in this place to witness the hanging of Clark Lewis, and the streets were filled with vehicles of all kinds.

A mountain hanging is a sight that one will never forget. People came from everywhere, and the natural amphitheater surrounding the scaffold was filled to overflowing by 1 o'clock.

Conspicuous in the crowd was Leebie Lawson, of Loup Creek, ten miles away, a woman who chews tobacco like a man. She has not missed a hanging in the last 50 years.

At 12:30 Sheriff McVey and his aid, J. R. Koontz, adjusted the rope on the scaffold and looped it well.

Revs. Light, Farr and Adams spent the entire time with the condemned man. Before being led to the scaffold Lewis said that he would advise all young men to leave women alone, for they were what brought him to the gallows. He had no use for his brother Wiley and frankly said so.
