STOLE SWEETS. Charles Warner Got a Bucket of Candy From the L. and N. Freight. Night before last Charles Warner, colored, sold a bucket of candy to a local merchant. With the proceeds he tanked up and got into a scrap with James Jones at the Wall Street Monte Carlo. Yesterday he was before Acting Police Judge Galbraith for drawing a knife on Jones and so forth, and was fined $10 and costs.

It now develops that the bucket of candy was taken from the freight depot of the L. and N., and there is promise of further trouble for Charles. FRIGHTFUL RUNAWAY. But, Thanks to Providence and the City Fountain, No One Was Hurt.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, seated in the family carriage driven by Mr. Thomas Neal, Mrs. J. Lewis Patton, two children and nurse, were coming down Market street. Just before reaching Third street the backstrap gave away and the vehicle ran upon the horse.

This caused it to plunge and kick and finally to run, but Mr. Neal held on manfully. In a twinkling the frenzied animal dashed onto the Esplanade, dragging the carriage and its precious freight after it. It was a moment of supreme terror;—but it was only a moment!

The driver kept the runaway in a straight course, and the vehicle dashed fairly against the City Fountain. The contact released the horse and it was caught on the next square. A rush was made for the carriage when it was found that not one of the occupants had sustained the slightest injury.

Mrs. Patton, however, as a result of the shock, fainted after stepping out of the carriage, and was removed to the home of Mr. Thomas A. Keith, where she soon recovered. Altogether it was a miraculous escape; And many feel that the City Fountain has already paid for itself thousands of times over.

Joseph Spelly of Vanceburg has been granted a pension. Mr. and Mrs. Amos Reeves of Robertson county, both over 90 years old, sick in the same room, talked of their approaching death and requested that they be buried together. Mrs. Reeves's death occurred one day earlier than her husband's, and her remains were kept and both were interred in one grave.

UNLUCKY NUMBER Thirteen Indictments Returned Against Thirteen Newport Toughs.

THE ORIGINAL CONFESSIONS.

13

As stated in yesterday's LEDGER Judge Wadsworth had gone to Newport to appear before the Grand Jury now investigating the charges against the gang concerned in assaulting Mrs. Thomas Gleason. The "confessions" of "Dad" Meiner and George Greer, made in the Maysville Jail, had been taken down by Judge Wadsworth, and his mission was to identify the papers, the originals of which were in possession of Commonwealth's Attorney Lockhart.

This he did, and returned home last evening. At 4:15 yesterday afternoon the Grand Jury found 13 indictments against the accused. The six principals who are subject to capital punishment are Frank alias "Dad" Meiner, George Greer, John Moore, Edward Stephens, Duke Croxson and Edward Hendig.

The seven aids and abettors were Andy Roehl, Harry and Frank Bushmiller, John Duhfoss, John Weaver, John Kuntzler and John Dumsall, all of whom are under arrest excepting Weaver and Kuntzler. Four of the men were released—Matt Meiner, Hubert Mittler, John Shannon and William Schoerle.

KICKERS' CORNER

If any one at any time for any reason has any cause to "kick" in any way at anything of any kind, here's the place to say his say. The door is open—walk right in and help yourself, free gratis and for nothing—but don't make your "kicks" too long—it's the short, quick fellows that count—and out. The name of the kicker must accompany the kick, or it'll be kicked into the waste-basket.

Editor Public Ledger: I am in favor of free turnpikes and always have been, and am also in favor of good streets instead of ruts and mudholes, but would like to ask a few questions: Would the citizens of Maysville be assessed to pay for those pikes? and, if so, would the farmers also be assessed to pay for our asphalt streets in case we get them? And if not, why not? They would be accorded the same privilege to use our streets that we would be to use their pikes. C. W.

Answer—THE LEDGER's querist gives opportunity for saying a few things that will serve to show just how considerate the taxpayers of Maysville have been and are towards our county friends. First—The taxpayers of Maysville have always paid their proportion of what is known as the "Turnpike and Bridge Tax," and have always had to pay for riding over the pikes besides. This "Turnpike and Bridge Tax" was for the exclusive benefit of county people, and the citizens of Maysville were under neither moral nor legal obligation to pay it.

Second—The taxpayers of the county have never paid a single penny toward keeping up the streets of the city, although they have always had the use of them free gratis and for nothing. Third—The taxpayers of the city now bear their proportion of the free turnpike tax of 20 cents on the $100, which is so largely for the benefit of the people of the county.

Fourth—And no matter how good the streets Maysville may have in the future, they will be paid for by the taxpayers of the city and given over to free use by the people of the county whenever they want to come and see us—and the oftener the better.

HOME RULE. An Amendment Allowing Cities to Regulate Their Own Taxes. Every person should vote "Yes" on the following proposed amendment to the Constitution. Its adoption will give cities the right to regulate their own taxing affairs, and enable them to provide money for internal improvements.

The proposed amendment is as follows, and THE LEDGER shows how it will appear on the ballot, and where the voter ought to put his X mark:

The General Assembly may, by general laws, provide for taxation by municipalities of property other than lands and improvements thereon, based on income, licenses or franchises, which may be either in addition to or in lieu of ad valorem taxes thereon.

Officers Elected. Who Will Head the Kentucky Oddfellows For the Next Twelve Months. In session at Owensboro the Grand Lodge of Kentucky has elected these officers for the coming year: Grand Master—John S. Gaunt, Carrollton. Deputy Grand Master—J. Whit Potter, Bowling Green. Grand Warden—Charles P. Hess, Louisville. Grand Secretary—R. G. Elliott, Lexington. Grand Treasurer—George W. Morris, Louisville. Representative to Sovereign Grand Lodge—Claude Buckley, Louisville. To build the Widows and Orphans Home in the state $15,300 had been raised, leaving the necessary fund short. The Grand Lodge promptly raised $6,500, thus insuring the building of the Home. Next year the Grand Lodge will meet at Winchester. Most of the Maysville Representatives returned last evening.
