The following team of bowlers representing Ort's Alley's challenge the Electric Park team, or any team in the city, for a series of games, one game to be played on the Electric Park Alley, one on the Ort Alley and the turn of a coin to decide the odd game for the championship of the city: Wm. Watkins, Lee Cullen, J. B. Roper, Clark Rogers, Geo. Ort.

M. F. Marcus, a wealthy Jewish clothier, went to jail for ten days at Vaneburg rather than pay a judgment for $100 obtained against him by Ed Foster, a druggan. Marcus had, without getting into full possession of the facts, accused Foster wrongfully of stealing a coat, for which the latter sued the former for $1,000 damages. The judgment could not be collected by civil process because it is alleged his business is conducted in his wife's name.

GLENN D. CHUNN.

After a Lingering Illness His Death Occurred Last Evening.

Mr. Glenn D. Chunn, mention of whose serious and fatal illness has been chronicled in THE LEDGER, died last night at 8 o'clock at the home of his mother on West Second street, 25 years of age.

A young man, just having his years bud into life and usefulness, he is cut down by the Grim Reaper. Not only that but his being the prop of his mother since early childhood, the blow is much more severe and lamentably sad.

Glenn Chunn was of a quiet disposition, gentle as a child and as noble in act and deed as it befalls to earthly vessels to be. Caring for his mother in tenderest acts and ministrations, his sins or faults are all covered in the fulfilling of the injunction, honoring Mother.

Conscious to the last and with farewells upon his pallid lips, he sweetly smiled and passed to the Haven of Rest.

His physical condition has been extremely delicate for years and when a year ago he had the misfortune to have his hand lacerated by a saw with which he was working at the Maysville Manufacturing establishment his health began to decline and going into consumption his death has been expected for weeks and only overcame him after a heroic struggle.

His parents and one sister, Mrs. Charles Hall, survive him. His mother has the deepest sympathy of this community for the boy who so faithfully cared for her while he could and over whom she watched with that solicitude which only springs from motherhood.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

SALE OF SEATS.

Result of Yesterday's Auction at the Opera-House.

WEATHER KEPT MANY AWAY.

The bad weather was alone responsible for the limited attendance at the Opera-house yesterday afternoon; but as it was quite a good number attended the auction for first choice of seats on the opening night.

Mr. J. Y. Dean of the Maysville Produce Company was the most liberal patron, paying $15 for one of the boxes, and it may be said that Col. L. S. Harris got the bargain of the day.

Below will be found the list of buyers, with the number of seats taken, the premium on each and the total amount:

|                                |         |

| Total.....                 | $1,510 75 |

Mr. Robert A. Cochran appeared before Council on behalf of the Board of Education and stated that the Board had purchased the county's interest in the Sixth Ward School-house, and as the Board had no power to purchase property without the concurrence of Council; and Council unanimously concurred.

Following building permits were granted: Martin Spencer, Forest avenue, Sixth Ward, addition to storehouse; also outbuildings. Louis Joergel, Bridge and Second streets, Fourth Ward, one-story frame building.

C. Helmer, Second street, Second Ward, raise roof of shed.

Alice Yazell, Second street, Sixth Ward, one-story frame kitchen in rear of residence.

Ben T. Smith, Sixth street, Fourth Ward, remove residence 35 feet East of where it stands and add one-story metal roof.

John Brisbois, Second street, Fifth Ward, one-story frame building, to be used as a cold storage.

There was a protest presented against the building of a cold storage house by Mr. Brisbois by Mrs. John R. Rudy, signed by her, Miss Bertie Rudy, Mr. Duke A. Rudy, Mr. Frank Ryder, Mr. C. T. Huff and Hester Stanton, claiming it would damage the value of their property. The permit was granted.

The Central Telephone Company petitioned Council that it was willing to pay for the advertising of the long distance franchise, but it could not pay the $50 bid by that company for the franchise. Council ordered the Mayor to collect what he could from the company.

A letter from Rev. W. Shoemith, Superintendent of the Kentucky Children's Home Society, stated that Frances Collins and Lyda Grayson, who had been released to the Home, had been placed in good homes, but Irene Gray, who had also been placed in the Home, was subject to epilepsy and could not be placed in a home. He asked Council to take the child back and send one in good health. Referred to Alms Commission.

The Curfew Ordinance was read for the first time. But the City Charter says that for only two reasons can a person be arrested by a police officer without a warrant, that of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The ordinance provides that no person under the age of 16 years is allowed on the streets between the hours of 9 p. m. and 4 a. m. without a parent or guardian in charge. If upon notification by the Police Judge, the parents or guardians do not stop the children from running the streets, then a warrant shall be issued and the children fined not less than $1 nor more than $5. This did not quite suit Council, and it was laid over until next meeting.

An ordinance repealing the ordinance passed in 1897 licensing parks was repealed. All parks except baseball parks can now run without a license.

The City Council, in conjunction with the Neptune Fire Company, donated the old Neptune engine to the Washington Fire Company. The Amazon Fire Company thought that if the city wanted to give this engine away it could give it to the Amazon Company. Council ordered the Fire Committee to sell the engine and let the proceeds go towards supplying necessary apparatus to the Amazon Company.

The report of City Attorney Wood on the settlement with the city officers showed that every cent handed by the various officers for the past five years had been accounted for, and it showed that there had been a large saving of the city's funds last year. It will be published for the benefit of the citizens.

The Claims and Accounts Committee reported that it did not see how it could refund Mr. John I. Winter his taxes, and Council accepted the Committee's report.

An invitation from Washington Fire Company to attend the opening of the new Opera-house Thursday night was accepted and as many of Council as can make it convenient will attend.

A petition, signed by all the residents of Front street, protesting against the shanty-boats that are now lying in front of the city was read and referred to the Proposition and Grievance Committee.

A protest against James Clark occupying a shanty-boat at the foot of Schultz street was read and referred to the Proposition and Grievance Committee.

Washington Fire Company petitioned Council to have Mr. Frank Purnell sworn in as Special Policeman, to be stationed at the Opera-house and receive no pay from the city. Granted.

Your Boy or Girl

Will be better for having a watch. There will be fewer tardy marks and fewer broken appointments. They will learn the value of time, that life is made up of time, just moments of time, and those moments put to good use make life a success or failure. Teach them to be at school on time, to meet the train on time, in fact, do everything on time and thereby shorten the cares of life. We have Watches to suit all sizes and conditions, for boys, girls, ladies and men, from $1 up. Come in and look at them.

BALLENGER,
 Jeweler and Optician.

John Burkhardt petitioned Council to run a coffee-house on Wall street, which was refused by a vote of 8 to 4.

James Sullivan was granted a license to run two pool tables.

The coffee-house license of John Wells was transferred to Wells & Mitchell.

James Sullivan was refused the donation of $10 for taking care of a fellow who was knocked in the head with a bung-starter on Christmas Eve.

The Christian Church and Y. M. C. A. were donated $5 each for licenses paid for entertainments.

Crossings were ordered across Forest avenue from the West side of Poplar street and the East side of Commerce street.

The Ways and Means Committee was ordered to have thirty $50 bonds printed.

A crossing was ordered placed across Second street opposite Broadway in the Sixth Ward.

Judge Wadsworth presented a claim of $153 for costs of the Police Judge in the suits filed against the delinquent poll-tax payers. Referred to Committee on Claims and Accounts.

Chenoweth's Cough Syrup never fails to cure a cough. Try it.
