Trains on the C. and O. were delayed several hours yesterday evening, caused by the parlor car attached to Eastbound Flyer No. 2 leaving the track near Vanceburg and tearing up road. The wrecking train from Huntington was taken to the scene and after several hours work cleared the track sufficiently for the trains to resume.

John Bennett, a colored wife beater, was a few days ago fined $8.65 by Squire Grant, and the collection suspended on condition that John would keep away from his spouse.

OH, MY! OH, MY!

FLED FROM ARREST.

'Captain' Longmire and Sergeant McClure 'Fugitives From Justice.'

Capt. C. W. Longmire, Lexington. Sergt. B. R. McClure.

That's the way it is spelled and that's the way it is written on the register at the New Central.

And thereby hangs a tale. Captain Longmire will be remembered as one of the deserters from the troops on duty at Frankfort last winter.

Subsequently he gained a stock of cheap notoriety by seizing the armory and a lot of arms at Lexington, defying his superior officers, and finally going to Frankfort in command of a lot of 'Beckham Guards.'

Some days ago he was commissioned by Pretender Beckham to muster out three Companies of State Guards, among them the Company of Captain Horace J. Cochran of this city.

It was for this last purpose that he arrived here Monday night, and scarcely had he arrived ere he sought the congenial company of 'Colonel' Red Newell.

The Captain and the Sergeant, under the leadership of their 'Colonel,' were soon making the rounds of the ginmills, and they had more fun than a tobacco hoghead full of ring-tailed monkeys.

During their visits to the saloons, many a belated boozer was treated to a recital of the Captain's brave deeds—recited by himself—and some wondered how it was that a single Republican militiaman got away from Frankfort with his life.

One after another of the saloons closed, and the circle becoming all too narrow, the Colonel led his military band into pastures new. The first place visited was a bawdy-house kept by a quiet widow East of Limestone; but the landlady had too much respect for her boarders to admit such a crowd as that; then they sought 'Dusty Avenue,' and other avenues with no better success.

All the while old 'Tempus' was 'fugiting' at a lively gait, and it was long after the noon of night when the command ran up against officer Harry Ort. Harry had his memory with him, and the sight of the 'Colonel' reminded him that an old capias hung heavily over his head;—so he collared him. The Captain put up a kick, while the Sergeant shuffled a few; but Harry told them their kicks didn't carve any congealed river water with him, and the 'Colonel' was marched to jail. In the softness of his heart, however, he permitted the sorry remnant of Beckham's Jackass Battery to hold down one of the New Central's spring mattresses.

Morning and headaches came to the military men; and between drinks Longmire notified Captain Cochran that he would be ready to muster out his Company at 7:30 last night; and Captain Cochran accordingly ordered his men to be at the Armory with all their belongings.

Then Tempus fugited some more, and it was 11:30. Longmire and McClure had ordered their dinner at the hotel—the dinner that they never ate!

Why? Somebody had gone before Police Judge Wadsworth and sworn out a warrant for their arrest on a charge of 'drunk and disorderly,' and before Chief Donovan could hustle down to the hotel a sympathizer had 'tipped it off,'—and the heroes of all the bloody mouth-battles fought at Frankfort had skipped across the river—had sought the protection of Governor Nash of Ohio—were and are, in fact, fugitives from justice!

It didn't take long for the news to get scattered, and there was considerable fun on one side, while the other was in a hell of a fix.

About the center of the afternoon a telephone message came from Aberdeen for Mr. 'Pints'—to send over a quart, perhaps; and later the wireless telegraph carried an appeal to 'Little Boy Blue'—

SKIPPERDEEN, O., June 5. Dear Beck: 'Phone me a pardon p. d. g. I'm afraid Governor Nash will honor Judge Wadsworth's requisition. Your brave sojor boy, LONGFIRE.

'Pints' didn't go, but T. Democracy Slattery and Policeman Wallace did; and this is what they brought back. It is dated at Maysville, but it was written in Aberdeen—

MAYSVILLE, KY., June 5, 1900. Mr. John P. Wallace: You will receive all arms and equipments belonging to the state which are in Mason county and forward the same to Sergeant Henry Lillis at Frankfort, Ky. C. W. LONGMIRE, Captain Second Kentucky.

P. S.—You will give Mr. Horace Cochran receipt for same. C. W. L.

Just think of a brave Kentucky soldier, bearing a commission from the Pretended Governor of this great and ga-lo-ri-ous Commonwealth, being a fugitive from justice and issuing military commands to an ordinary Policeman, over whom he has no more control than he has over the Gulf Stream!

And does he think Captain Cochran will pay any attention to such a farcical 'order'? When Phister Wallace receipts to 'Mister' Cochran for 'them guns' Andy Craig will be a Methodist Bishop.

If Beckham has any more rare birds he can send them this way. Maysville people are proverbial for taking good care of strangers.

Meanwhile, Captain Cochran last night had his men turn in all their arms and equipments, and will hold them subject to orders from the Adjutant General.

If the parties in interest are not satisfied with this 'sketch,' there's more that can be added to it.

Messrs. McClanahan & Shea of this city have been awarded the contract for roofing the new L. and N. Station. There were four bidders and $30 covers the difference between them, the successful firm being $10 less than the next highest.

What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles. 'Boschee's German Syrup.' Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by J. C. Peacor.
