CHARLES G. CADY.

His Death This Morning at His Home After a Lingerin Illness.

After an illness of paralysis, covering a period of two years, the death of Mr. Charles G. Cady occurred this morning at 4:30 o'clock at his home on Limestone street.

Deceased was born at Providence, R. I., August 25th, 1821, and early in life came to this city.

In the noonday of life Mr. Cady was one of the most prominent citizens of Maysville, taking the front rank in all public affairs.

Endowed with more than ordinary intelligence, at every public social gathering he was the central figure.

Prior to and during the first year of the Civil War he was Captain of the Maysville Home Guards, and in 1862-3 he was a Representative from the Grand Campment of Kentucky Oddfellows to the then Grand Lodge of the United States.

In 1867 he was Mayor of the city, and the same year was elected Grand Master of Kentucky Oddfellows, but has not been a member of the Order for the past thirty years.

Mr. Cady is survived by his wife and seven children,—W. S. of Washington, D. C., H. L. of Chicago, H. S., W. R., and F. D. Cady and Mrs. L. M. Mills and Mrs. J. T. Kackley of this city.

CAUSE OF THE CHANGE.

Free Turnpikes Responsible For the Crowds of Wagons Here.

THE LEDGER a few days ago mentioned the fact that an unusually large number of wagons had appeared in the city within the past two weeks delivering wheat, stating that the number was greater than ever before, even within the recollection of the veritable "oldest inhabitant."

During the past spring, also, more wagons had appeared in Maysville delivering tobacco than had ever been known.

The average citizen, perhaps, has not stopped to reason why these conditions exist.

If they will but reflect a moment they can easily see that they are traceable directly to free turnpikes.

Heretofore most of these same wagons have carried their products to Dover, South Ripley, Augusta and other shipping points along the C. and O. Railway, and as a consequence the supplies of coal, flour, groceries and household goods that have been hauled home on the return trip have been purchased elsewhere than in Maysville.

Now, however, thanks to the free turnpike system, which THE LEDGER originally advocated and so diligently fought to a finish, Maysville has become not only the entrepot of the great mass of farm products of Mason county but she has become the depot of supplies for almost the entire citizenship.

SHELBY P. CAMPBELL.

Death of a Former Maysvillian at Williamsburg, Ohio.

The Mutual News of Williamsburg, O., in its issue of Saturday, August 4th, says:

Shelby P. Campbell, the well known druggist who came to this place two years ago and engaged in business, died Tuesday night of this week and was buried Thursday at 10 o'clock a. m. in the Williamsburg Cemetery. He was born in Bradyville, Adams county, O., August 12, 1832, and was nearly 48 years of age.

His young manhood was spent in Maysville, Ky., in which city he learned the drug business with the old firm of January & Lloyd, and later engaged with the wholesale house of Hamilton Gray of that city, serving as book-keeper, traveling salesman and for a time as joint manager.

Mr. Campbell was a member of Maysville Lodge No. 52, Free and Accepted Masons, and of DeKalb Lodge No. 12, Independent Order of Oddfellows, also of Maysville. In that city he was widely known and popular.

Mr. Campbell was an intense American and an active worker in organizing Camps of Sons of Veterans throughout Southern Ohio. He was a member of Power Campbell Camp, S. of V., of Aberdeen, O. Mr. Campbell was a genial, big-hearted man and made warm friendships wherever he went.

He leaves a wife and one daughter, who have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement. He had been a sufferer from dropsy for several weeks. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Walker of this place.

THE BIG TEA FIGHT.

Extract From a Private Letter Written by a Southern Democrat to a Friend in the North.

It is a suggestive summary: "Your reflections upon the Yellow Terror in your recent letter are timely and just. But I fear the Americans are hopelessly predestinated to participation in the international scurrilage which must ensue. When other Nations are eagerly hunting world-markets—markets for their surplus products—a great commercial Nation, like ours, is simply obliged to take part. Its own necessities will not allow it to sit still; and, whatever we may think of the ethical aspects of the situation, we are incontestably in the same boat with the others, are hopelessly drifting, and almost over the dam. 'Imperialism'—as they term it—has certainly marked us for her own. China herself has put the cup to our lips, and, henceforth, our softest beverage will be Imperial and Gunpowder tea. What is to be the result? Who knows? In any event, let us hope that America may still— 'Be mistress of herself though China fall.' "Whether we are to assist in picking up the pieces is a question that can only be determined by the course of events. 'Prices, not Politics,' is the slogan in this scrap."

In the afternoon the Maysville Gun Club will have a live bird and target shoot, in which some of the best crack shots of the state will participate.

Does It Pay To Buy Cheap? A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boecher's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by J. C. Peacor.

I tried several advertised medicines with no benefit until I was recommended to take Foley's Kidney Cure. Two-thirds of a bottle cured me. J. Jas. Wood & Son and Armstrong & Co.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by J. C. Peacor.

The Mason County Fair under its new management will be a success. We expect big crowds, and as always heretofore all visitors to our store-rooms are expected to feel "At Home." Our place is, to all intent and purposes, "The Home Store." We will care for your packages and parcels—in short, we want you to make our house "Headquarters." Incidentally, if there is anything needed in our line you will find it here.
