CAUSE UNKNOWN.

I am standing on the threshold of eternity at last. As reckless of the future as I have been of the past; I am void of all ambition, I am dead to every hope, The coil of life is ended and I'm letting go the rope. I have drifted down the stream of time till weary, sore, oppressed, And I am tired of the motion and simply want a rest. I have tasted all the pleasures that life can hold for man; I have scanned the whole world over till there's nothing left to scan; I have heard the finest music, I have read the rarest books; I have drunk the purest vintage and tasted all the cooks; I have run the scale of living and sounded every tone, So there's nothing left to live for, and I long to be alone— Alone and unmolested, where the vultures do not rave, And only refuge left me is the quiet, placid grave. I am Judge and Jury mingled, and the verdict that I give Is, that minus friends and money, it is foolishness to live. In a day or two my body will be found out in the lake, The Coroner gets a fee, the printer gets a "take," The usual verdict, "Suicide, from causes yet unknown," And Golgotha draws another blank—a mound without a stone. To change the usual verdict I will give the reason now Before the rigid seal of death is stamped upon my brow; 'Tis the old familiar story of passion, love and crime, Repeated through the ages since Cleopatra's time— A woman's lips, a woman's eyes—a siren all in all, A modern Circe fit to cause the strongest man to fall; A wedded life, some blissful years, and poverty drops in With care and doubt and liquor, for whisky down to gin. The story told by Tolstol in comparison with mine Is moonlight unto sunlight, as water unto wine. The jealous pangs I suffered, the hideous nights of woe, I pray no other mortal may every undergo. But I've said enough, I fancy, to make my reasons plain— Enough to show the causes of shattered heart and brain. What wonder then that life holds not a single thread to bind A wish or hope to live for, an interest in mankind? Already dead, but breathing—a fact that I regret! A man without desires, now, excepting to forget; And since that is denied me, why should I linger here— A dead leaf of the forest of a long-forgotten year? So, au revoir, old cronies! If there's a meeting place beyond, I'll let you know in spirit and I know you will respond. I'm going now, old comrades, to heaven or to hell— I'll let you know which shortly—farewell, a long farewell. —A Chicago Suicide. Mrs. Wyatt Owens was no better yesterday. It rained all the afternoon at Lewisburg yesterday. Mrs. L. V. Davis is showing correct styles in Felt Hats for fall. Mrs. William R. Gill is now able to walk about, having nearly recovered from her fall.

The Misses Thomas of the county, who were so ill with flux, have about recovered, but a married sister from Fleming county who came to attend them was taken with the disease and is not expected to recover.

The land around Washington stands a dry spell better than any land in Kentucky, as there hasn't an inch of water fallen there this summer and some fields of early corn will make from 50 to 60 bushels per acre, while tobacco is looking very well.

The Ohio Valley Electric Railway, which is to operate an electric railroad between Huntington, W. Va., Catlettsburg and Ironton, O., filed articles of incorporation with the Kentucky State Railroad Commission yesterday. The capital stock is $1,000,000.

A., and who sailed on the transport Grant for service in the Philippines, returned home yesterday, he, after lying in the hospital for three months, having received a disability discharge. He does not like the new possessions; they're too hot; but thinks the United States should keep them because of rightful ownership.

Mr. Allie Worick, in a recent letter to his relatives here, tells of his promotion in the Army, with which he enlisted some eighteen months ago. He is still in Cuba, his particular station being Corporal of the Eighth Cavalry, now quartered at Ceigo de a Villa, a beautiful village by the sea, as its name implies. Allie was given his place through the competitive system, where fifty privates strove for the honor, and it is a pleasure to note his success and to congratulate him upon his effort for promotion.

ECHOES OF THE FAIR. The Dover News Pays the Management a High Compliment.

Anent the late Mason County Fair The Dover News says:

The Mason County Fair at Maysville passed off pleasantly last week, and was a success in point of attendance and displays. Those who denominated it a "Sunday-school affair" because no drinking or gambling was allowed on the grounds have had it fully demonstrated that thousands of our best people prefer a clean, moral show, and went away happy and well satisfied because the management gave it to them. It was a clean, moral exhibition, patronized by clean, moral people, and the foundation has been laid for the building of one of the very best fairs in Kentucky.

The river combination is negotiating with a number of pilots in reference to making contracts for the coming year. The pilots are holding out for the yearly scale of $1,500.

The river leech has made its appearance, and is eating out the oakum between the crevices of loaded craft, allowing the fleets to take much water. A good rise in the river would be of benefit to floating property.

Willows, straw and other materials have been placed between the wickets at the Davis Island Dam to hold the water in the Pittsburgh pool and the employes there are keeping the pool up to a very good stage. Many of the larger towboats are pumping at the coal fleets.

Pattin Bros. of Marietta have written a letter to Captain John S. Wheaton, master of the Francis J. Torrance, telling that parties of New Orleans desire to build a duplicate of the steamer. Captain Oscar F. Barrett, proprietor of the 500 yards at Levanna, received word from the yards that another big coal barge 140 feet long and 28 feet wide was launched Wednesday. Captain Barrett is building quite a number of these big barges. They will carry 16,000 bushels of coal on five feet six inches of water, and Captain Barrett thinks they may often make a trip when a heavier barge will not.

The towboat Eagle, owned by the Convoy Towboat Company, Pomeroy, and now laid up on account of low water, will be extensively repaired. Besides being given a general overhauling, she will have new steel cylinder timbers, or frames, put on, and at the same time will be equipped with a steam steering gear. The Eagle is one of the best boats of her power on the river, and since she got her new boilers a short time ago, she has been working up to her power. She does an immense amount of work.

Does It Pay To Buy Cheap? A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles. The ground about Lewisburg is so wet that water might be wrung out of it, while all that could be wrung out of the soil of some of her neighbors would be tears of anguish at not being so favored.

The story of the smokehouse door ajar, related by Rev. George S. Savage, was laid at a time when some "gemmen" were hewers of wood and drawers of water, and it would not do to apply it to the doors of chicken-coops today.

Among the good institutions of Maysville is the Manhattan Restaurant of Mr. Jas. A. Wallace, Front and Market streets. During the Fair it afforded prompt and satisfactory service to a vast number of strangers; and visitors will always find there quick service and moderate charges.

Question Answered. Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and had with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by J. C. Pecor.
