THE BEE HIVE

Comforts and Blankets!

Prepare for cold weather. Jack Frost will be here before you know it. Don't be caught napping without a good Comfort or a warm Blanket. Come and see us now about them. You'll find an immense stock with splendid values marked at very small prices. We have Comforts as low as 50c and as high as $2.75. At 98c, $1.25 and $1.50 we have Satine Comforts that are special bargains at the price; some are knotted and all are full size and come in choicest designs. The Blanket stock is particularly strong this season. Full ten-quarter Cotton Blankets, so soft that they feel like wool, at 85c the pair; in the eleven-quarter size at 95c, $1.25 and $1.35; the all-wool Blankets range in price from $2.89 to $4.98. Special leader is an all-wool Plaid Blanket, worth at least $4.50, priced here at $3.49.

Some Cloak Items!

We have had so many customers "look all around" and then come to us and select one of our Cloaks that we feel sure of our position as leaders in cloak selling. We invite the most critical comparison. Mark these few items and ask to see them: A Tan Kersey Jacket, full lined, worth fully $5, is marked here at $3.98; an all-wool Black Kersey Jacket, lined throughout, not equalled elsewhere at $6.50, is lowly priced at $4.25; a superior Castor Kersey Jacket, with a guaranteed satin lining, we want you to compare with $12 garments sold elsewhere, our price $9.95. We guarantee a fit with every Jacket.

Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Millinery!

We are having busy days in this department. On every hat purchased here there is a saving of 30 to 40% as compared with prices of others. Give our Hats a look and you'll be convinced of the truth of this assertion. Prices from $1.98 to $5.50.

HON. SAMUEL J. PUGH.

Present and Next Congressman From This District.

Hon. Samuel J. Pugh of Vanceburg, serving his third term in Congress from the Ninth Congressional District, was born on a farm in Greenup county, Ky., January 28, 1850.

Judge Pugh acquired his education in the public and private schools of Kentucky, spending some time at Center College, but leaving before graduation. He afterward took private instruction in French and German and became quite learned in those tongues.

He entered the law office of Judge George M. Thomas, ex-Congressman and ex-United States District Attorney, at the age of 19, developed a remarkable faculty of legal acquisition, and was admitted to the Bar in 1872. About that time he married Miss Mary Araminta Thomas, only child of Judge Thomas, a young lady remarkable for graces of mind and heart as well as for loveliness of person. Four children are the fruits of this marriage—three lovely daughters and an accomplished son, Bruce, a manly youth of 16.

In 1872, soon after his admission to the Bar, he was elected City Attorney, and, though since then he has aspired to many places of honor and trust, he has never yet known the sickening sensations of defeat. From the office of City Attorney he passed to the Commissioner of the Lewis Circuit Court.

In 1874 he offered himself for County Attorney, and though the two parties at that time were pretty evenly divided, he was triumphantly elected over his Democratic opponent. In that capacity he served for eight years; then, in 1880, he was elevated to the County Judgeship, serving four years.

In 1880 he was chosen by the people of Lewis county as their representative in the Constitutional Convention, administering a crushing defeat to his opponent, and incidentally, crippling the Democracy to such a degree that the party has floundered in defeat ever since, a majority of 800 Republicans loading its broken back.

In the Constitutional Convention he rendered signal service to the people of the state. He was author of a section requiring the Legislature to establish Reform Schools, one for boys and one for girls, and when, in 1883, he became a member of the State Senate, he introduced a bill finally carrying that philanthropic measure into effect. As a champion of the cause of the poor, he led the opposition against the poll-tax, against the infamous system of imprisonment for debt, and favored equalization of burdens between mortgage and mortgagee. All movements having reform and philanthropy for a basis received his prompt and untiring championship.

In 1885, though with an overwhelming Democratic majority against him, he was elected to the Fifty-fourth Congress, receiving a majority of 700 over Hon. Rolla Hart, a wealthy politician of Fleming county. At the election before the District, in favor of Judge Thomas H. Paynter, Democrat, had gone 3,000. On the assembling of Congress he was made a member of two important committees, namely, Education and War Claims.

In 1896 he met the Hon. W. LaRue Thomas in the Congressional lists and defeated him by a handsome majority.

In 1898, in a fiercely contested campaign, he met and overthrew Hon. Mordecai Williams of Boyd county. He is now for the fourth time the nominee of his party, his opponent being James N. Kehoe of Mason, who acquired some note as a Goebel champion in the celebrated Music Hall Convention.

The high character Judge Pugh early acquired by integrity, energy, upright-ness and ability has followed him to Washington, and made him a power for great good in the councils of the Nation. He has long been a member of the Appropriation Committee. In all kinds of ways, known only to him who feels himself a servant and not a master, he serves and benefits his people. The humblest constituent writing on any matter receives the same courtesies and eager attention as would the highest. His work in committees is untiring and effective. Needed appropriations for the Big Sandy, etc., though noticed passively by several predecessors, became facts through the ceaseless efforts of the present Congressman.

Judge Pugh, for 35 years, has been a devout member of the Christian Church, and has been Sunday-school Superintendent for a score of years.
