

SAFE IN CANADA.

Defalcation of Assistant Cashier Brown, of the German National, of Newport, Ky.

IT AMOUNTS TO MORE THAN $191,000.

His Peculations Will Go Down in History as a Wonder Among the Bank Looters.

Made Two Entries in His Books, One in Ink, Another in Crayon—Gambling and Women the Cause of His Downfall.

Ft. Wayne, Ind., Nov. 20.—Frank Brown, the defaulting cashier from Newport, is in Canada. This information comes from Fred J. Stone, of Cincinnati, a traveling man who is an intimate friend of Brown. Mr. Stone is at the New Avaline hotel, arriving Monday evening.

A newspaper correspondent succeeded in locating Stone through the medium of a conversation he had had with guests in the hotel, in which he mentioned having known Brown intimately. Mr. Stone had retired and declined to be seen, but finally consented to receive Police Superintendent Homer Goraline, and to him stated that Brown was in Canada.

He said it was true that Brown, after leaving Newport, had fled to St. Louis, and there parted with his mustache and made other changes in his personal appearance which rendered him unrecognizable, even to his closest friends. He then left St. Louis, and, doubling back on his tracks, traveled through Indiana and left Winchester on the Big Four Monday morning, arriving in Canada at 9:30 o'clock Monday night.

Sought by Detectives.

Newport, Ky., Nov. 20.—The late assistant cashier of the German National bank of this city, stole from the bank $191,500 in 18 months time, and is now being sought by the detectives. He left Cincinnati last week with about $500 in his pockets, and is now thought to be on the high seas bound for South America. Brown spent the bank's money on women, horses and cards, and his stealings amounted to more than the bank's capital and surplus.

Bank Examiner in Charge.

A United States bank examiner is in charge of the German National, and several thousand depositors are clamoring in vain for their money.

Brown was one of the best-known men in Newport. His father is Paris C. Brown, the wealthy riverman, honorary member of change, a former director of the bank and well known in connection with many Cincinnati and Kentucky business enterprises.

About 18 years ago Frank M. Brown entered the bank as a clerk. He paid attention to his work and gradually rose to be bookkeeper and later assistant cashier, having charge of the individual ledger. For several years his salary has been $1,500.

Brown's First Gambling.

Eight years ago, as far as known, he did his first gambling. His companions were men of the world, who knew how to spend, and he was ambitious. He cast about for ways to increase his bank roll.

He studied conditions carefully, and concluded to take a whirl at Latonia. A few of his friends went in with him, and they engineered a deal on Lady Cartwright, one of the speedy sprinters entered in the races. The good thing "went through" all right, and Brown cleaned up $4,000 for himself.

A little later he worked Abuse, another race, through the Oakley foreign book for between $5,000 and $9,000. The winnings were supposed to go to the agent of an eastern gambler, but in reality they went into the pockets of the Newport bank employe.

And Then Women.

After that he was a familiar figure at the tracks, and his money "flew."

No race was too poor and no odds too short for his money.

From fast horses to women he found a narrow step. He did the thing up in prodigal fashion, too. At one time he had three establishments running at the same time in Cincinnati.

He was a rounder, and was known in all the resorts of Cincinnati. He was a favorite with the women of the half-world, for though he only drank moderately, he spent his money freely on women.

How Brown Worked the Bank.

Brown will go down in history as a wonder among bank looters. His scheme worked on a hair trigger. He had an individual book on which he recorded deposits as they came in. This book he posted with the general bookkeeper at the end of each day. If a person, for example, deposited $1,500 and another $2,500 at Brown's window, Brown entered the amounts correctly in ink opposite the depositor's name. Maybe he wanted to hold out $1,000 from the first and $1,500 from the second deposit. He would mark down the remainder in crayon just above the amount as recorded in ink. It was the sum in pencil that he read to the general bookkeeper. But when he "read back," that is, when he wanted to know what the real deposit was and when he had to work on that he read the record in ink.

WEDDED FOR LOVE.

Marriage of the Duke of Manchester and Miss Zimmerman Outcome of a Romantic Attachment.

London, Nov. 20.—An inspection of the register of the Marylebone parish church, Monday, shows that the reported marriage of the duke of Manchester to Miss Helene Zimmerman, of Cincinnati, is true. The ceremony occurred last Wednesday afternoon. The couple are now in Ireland.

According to the Daily Mail, the marriage was the outcome of a long and romantic attachment, but it was only last July, to use the words of the duke himself, that they discovered they had been in love with each other all the time.

"Then the duke," says the Daily Mail, "seeing that many suitors were pressing their attentions upon Miss Zimmerman, claimed her for himself. The engagement was announced but was denied by the relatives.

Will Sail For New York. Not being in a position to marry, they decided to wait awhile. A fortnight ago Mr. Zimmerman was expected to arrive in London and they had decided to see him and to get his consent. He had not come and, therefore, they agreed to marry without delay. They will sail for New York next Saturday.

"The duke wishes it to be known that he married for love. He has not asked and does not hope for a dowry with the lady. The couple will settle at Tanderagee."

The morning papers publish columns of gossip regarding the duke of Manchester's romance, with long dispatches from New York.

A MURDER MYSTERY.

A Pastor's Wife Dies Under Peculiar Circumstances—The Minister Pined Under Arrest.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 20.—A sensational murder mystery has developed at Wyoming, near here, and the principal figure in it is Rev. D. O. Stuart, a former pastor of the Wyoming Baptist church.

The pastor's wife died suddenly two weeks ago at the home of her daughter in Plymouth. She had been married but three months, and was ill only ten days. Her illness was not considered serious, and she died suddenly after her husband had carried dinner to her bedside. An empty bottle, having the label of "carbolic acid," was found near the bed, and suicide was suggested.

An Autopsy to Be Held.

Numerous suspicious circumstances, having been brought to light, the body was exhumed and an autopsy will be held. The reverend gentleman was asked to account for some money belonging to the church, which he failed to do, and he resigned his pastorate and left for Philadelphia. A warrant has been issued by "Squire Hies," of Wyoming, for the missing pastor, charging him with murder and abduction.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—Rev. D. O. Stuart, who is wanted by the police of Wyoming, Pa., in connection with the death of his wife, was arrested late Monday night by a city detective and a Luzerne county constable. He was found in bed at No. 1309 Vine street.

There are 958 inmates taken from the army, navy and marine hospital service, of whom 256 were received during the past year.

MILD PUNISHMENT.

Prince Tuan and Prince Chwang Are Only Banished and Not Imprisoned.

DUKE LAN IS MERELY DISMISSED.

Pier Will Be Built at International Expense, Costing $200,000, at Ching Wong Tao.

The Allies Have Captured Two Passes Leading From Chi Li Into Shan Si—Peace Is Restored in Chi Li.

London, Nov. 20.—The Morning Post's Peking correspondent, writing Sunday says: "The edict inflicting punishment is milder than the first reports suggested. Prince Tuan and Prince Chwang are only banished and not imprisoned. Duke Lan is merely dismissed.

The foreign envoys can not accept the edict owing to the inadequacy of the punishments.

"Count Von Walderssee officially announces that he has stopped looting and restored peace in the province of Chi Li."

To Establish a Winter Port.

Tien-Tsin, Nov. 20, via Shanghai.—Brig. Gen. Charles F. Humphrey of Gen. Chaffee's staff who left about a week ago for Shan Hai Kwan, on the Gulf of Liao Tung to inspect that place with a special view to the availability as a winter port, returned on Monday. He says that a pier will be built at international expense, the cost to be $200,000, at Ching Wong Tao, eight miles from Shan Hai Kwan, owing to the greater ease with which that port can be kept open for winter communication.

The railway to Tien-Tsin is expected to be ready about the beginning of January.

The Pei Ho River Freezing.

The Pei Ho north of Tung Chow is freezing rapidly, and river communication is likely to close at any time.

London, Nov. 20.—"A Chinese official report," says the Shanghai correspondent of the Standard, "that the allies have captured two passes leading from Chi Li into Shan Si.

"The German consul has returned from Nankin. He reports that he asked the viceroy to permit foreign troops to ascend the Yang Tse Kiang and to stop sending supplies to Shan Si."

EXCITES RIDICULE.

Illness of Sentences Strengthens the Determination of Ministers to Demand Death Penalty.

London, Nov. 20.—Dr. Morrison, writing to the Times from Peking Sunday, says:

"In communicating the punishment edict, dated Sian Fu, November 13, to the foreign envoys, Li Hung Chang submits it as the final punishment the court is able to inflict and repeats the stereotyped plea of all Chinese plenipotentiaries, namely, that the emperor threatens himself and Prince Ching with severe punishment if they fail to induce the representatives of the powers to accept the compromise.

"The mildness of the sentences excites ridicule and strengthens the ministers in their determination to demand the death penalty.

The Punishments Are Illusory.

"The punishments are illusory. Prince Tuan is merely banished to his own home and others undergo a merely nominal lowering of rank. Perpetual imprisonment means a life of honor and retirement.

"Large numbers of southern Chinese now residing in Peking fearing further retribution during the winter, are preparing to leave for the south."

According to the Shanghai correspondent of the Times, it is asserted on good authority in Tien-Tsin that there are still some missionaries surviving at Tai Yuen Fu under the protection of the Mandarins.

THE NEXT-DOOR NEIGHBOR.

Testified He Saw the Showman's Wife at the Window Anxiously Watching For Her Lover.

Columbus, O., Nov. 20.—The hearing in the Sells divorce case was resumed Monday morning. It is thought the trial will cover at least three weeks more.

William H. Fish, next-door neighbor of Sells, was the first witness. He is at the head of the Fish Pressed Brick Co. He saw a man answering Harris D. Lyon's description enter the Sells residence in the fall of 1897, about 8 o'clock in the evening, as the witness was going to a Shriners' banquet, and he saw him leave when Fish went home in a cab long after midnight. He told of other occasions when he saw this same man come out of the Sells residence after midnight. Fish said Sells was not in the city at the time he saw these things.

Fish told of Peter Sells one Sunday evening being driven to the depot by his daughter Florence for the purpose of going away from the city. A few minutes later Mrs. Sells appeared at a window at the rear of the house, as if watching for some one. Soon Lyons came up an alley and was admitted to the residence by Mrs. Sells. The man was covering his face with a handkerchief.

Lyons' Visits to the Sells Residence.

He saw Mrs. Sells several other times watch from this window for Lyons. He also told of Lyons' visits at a time when Showman Sells was seriously ill with a fever in 1898. On two occasions Miss Florence Sells was at the witness' home, and observed Lyons enter the Sells home.

She betrayed nervousness and looked in another direction. Lyons was seen to enter at the rear of the house at times when Miss Florence was sitting on the front porch with her company.

Fish also said that he saw William Bott call at the Sells home several times in the fall of 1899. He first came shortly after Peter Sells, on a Sunday evening, had left to take a train. Mrs. Sells was also watching from a rear window on this occasion.

Bott Also Made Calls.

Bott was seen to leave the Sells residence about midnight before Sells returned home before breakfast the next morning. After Bott started in on a series of three or four times a week visits Fish did not notice Lyons calling any more.

Fish said he first saw Lyons call at the Sells home in 1897 and Bott in the fall of 1898. Sells built his Denison avenue mansion in 1895. Prior to that he lived at the Park hotel.

Fish was always sprinkling his lawn when he saw Bott and Lyons call at the Sells residence. He sprinkled at any time from twilight until midnight. He denied that he was spying on Mrs. Sells.

Judge Evans Monday morning received a letter, mailed in Cincinnati and signed Justice, urging him to grant a divorce in the Sells case in such a way that neither may ever remarry. He advises that Mrs. Sells be given half of Sells' fortune. The writer accuses Sells for permitting the scandal to reach the public.

ANNIVERSARY DAY.

One Hundred Years Ago Monday the First Congress Assembled in Washington.

TRANSFERRED FROM PHILADELPHIA.

The Centennial Will Be Elaborately Celebrated in the National Capital on Wednesday, December 12.

The Governors of All the States, as Well as Many Other Distinguished Guests, Will Be Present on the Occasion.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Monday was the 100th anniversary of the meeting of the first congress which assembled in Washington after the capital of the republic was transferred to this city from Philadelphia. The centennial anniversary of the removal of the seat of the government to this city is to be elaborately celebrated December 12. Exercises will be held at the capitol and the white house of an appropriate character. The occasion in many respects is to be commemorative of the growth of the republic during the century.

The governors of all the states, as well as many other distinguished guests, are to be present. All the departments will be closed. One of the features of the celebration will be a military parade which will contrast the uniforms and accoutrements of the militia of 100 years ago with those of the present day. In connection with the event there is a project for an enlargement of the executive mansion to a scale commensurate with the present features and grandeur of the country.

GOV. ALLEN'S VISIT.

It is in No Wise Connected With the Project to Acquire the Danish West Indies.

Washington, Nov. 20.—It is learned that the reported visit of Gov. Allen, of Porto Rico, to St. Thomas is in no wise connected with any project that may be in contemplation, looking to the acquisition of the Danish West Indies by the United States. Mr. Constantin Brun, the Danish minister to Washington, called upon Secretary Hay Monday to say adieu preparatory to absenting himself from Washington for several weeks.

It is improbable that the Dutch West Indian proposition will come before congress which body has the sole power to complete such a transfer, during the coming short session.

APPEALS FOR AID.

Mexican Mormons Ask For Protection Against Further Raids By Hostile Indians.

Chihuahua, Mex., Nov. 20.—The Mormon colonies of Durban, Pacheco, Colonia, Diaz and Colina Suarez have appealed to the military authorities for protection against further raids from the bands of hostile Indians.

Preparations are being made by the war department to strengthen the military garrisons and to annihilate the force of Apaches which made the bloody attack on the Pacheco settlement a few days ago. These Apaches have taken refuge in the Sierra Madre and their pursuit will be difficult. The Pacheco colony was established by Mormons from Utah in 1840. It has a population of about 1,200.

A Party of Thirty-Seven Turks Crossing the Black Sea Met Watery Graves.

London, Nov. 20.—The Daily Express publishes the following from Odessa:

"A party of 38 Turks, wishing to leave Russia secretly, sailed at dead of night from Tschuruk to cross the Black sea. A storm arose and the boat filled. First the baggage was thrown overboard. Then the children and finally the women were committed to the sea; but this did not prevent the vessel from foundering, and all perished save one lad, who clung to the mast and was washed ashore."

An Inventor Dead.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 20.—John C. Carter, formerly of Boston, Mass., the inventor of a process for making a substitute for rubber from cotton seed oil, is dead after a brief illness. The process was known only to Mr. Carter, and unless he left written instructions and directions for the continuation of the work it is probable the secret died with him.
