FOOLING THE HEATHEN!

How a Beercheck Found Its Way to the Missionary Box.

"Say, old man, do you believe in Foreign Missions?" asked a Third street husband who has basked in the heat and cold of two score years or more.

"Well, that depends," answered the scribe. "If it is Home Missions, where the money is spent in feeding the hungry and clothing the naked in our own midst, we answer, yes; but if intended for foreign lands, no."

"You're right, old boy, and I am with you in your deductions in regard to that vital and all important subject, and believing as I do in the matter of Missions was a good reason why I played a practical joke on my wife the other day."

"Now, to fully appreciate the situation and trend of affairs, you must understand that my wife is a shouting Methodist and is orthodox in the belief of Mission work, especially Foreign Missions, hence she is one of the high priestesses in a local society for the advancement and propagation of this work in old as well as new fields."

"Not to make my joke a continued story I will come to the milk in the cocoanut at once."

"The other evening she donned her best bib and tucker for the purpose of attending a meeting of her beloved society, and with a smile that was 'child-like and bland,' she tackled me for a quarter with which to pay her dues."

"Reaching down in my trousers pocket I brought forth and handed to her what I supposed was a slice of one of Uncle Sam's wheels. She took the price and with a fetching smile departed for the meeting."

"The evening passed quickly, as it usually does at such places, in swapping gossip and telling funny stories, until it came time for paying dues. When my wife's name was called she walked up to the Financial Secretary's desk with the air of one who had money to throw at the birds. Flanking down her coin, she was about to return to her seat, when the Secretary—who, by the way, is a good motherly soul and a resident of Market—who had in the meantime inspected the contribution, informed her that it was not a quarter, and that she did not know what it represented. My wife, as well as the Secretary, were non-plussed, and calling a matron of more worldly knowledge as well as years, asked for her opinion as to its monetary value. Taking it in her hand she at a glance recognized what it was and with some vinegar in her tone said: 'Well, my dears, this is simply a beer check, good at some Maysville bar for a glass of beer.'"

"Oh, my!" exclaimed my better half, as she fell into friendly arms, 'this is horrid!'"

"I had given her one of Charley Owen's beer checks in mistake for a quarter."

"Maybe you think I didn't get a candle lecture that night—but I did."

Mrs. Mollie Allen of South Fork, Ky., says she has prevented attacks of cholera morbus by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets when she felt an attack coming on. Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are all caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 715 Central street, Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now 3 years old, and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers." Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, Inc. Hall's Family Pills are the best.
