Yesterday about noon as Mr. John Bond of West Third street was walking up Market and opposite Raap's tin store he reeled and fell to the pavement. He was picked up and conveyed in a carriage to his home, where he was given medical attention and in time was brought around all right. It is probable that it was caused from a slight paralytic stroke.

The audience at the Washington last night was not as large as the Howard Stock Company deserved. The play was "Ostler Joe," and the company played their respective parts well. The specialties were all new and were very much enjoyed and the moving pictures were as good as could be desired—the use of "hard carbon" making them so. At the matinee this afternoon at 3 o'clock "The Embassy Ball" will be presented. Prices—children 10 cents, adults 20 cents. Tonight "The Shadow of the Cross." Tickets for both performances on sale at Ray's.

One of the most important offices within the gift of the voters of Mason county is that of County Clerk. It is an office that requires peculiar adaptableness for the place. The incumbent should be an efficient, competent, obliging, painstaking, courteous and even-tempered gentleman. A boorish fellow is not the one to fill the office; the duties are manifold and at times irksome, hence you want a man with a sunny disposition, one who never becomes unpleasant, ever obliging, always the servant of the people and always the same. Such a man is Clarence L. Wood, whose card appears in this impression of THE LEDGER asking an endorsement of his past stewardship. He is the peer of all who have preceded him in office. In the language of another Democratic statesman he can proclaim—"I am a Democrat." The poorest man in the county who has dealings in his office receives the same polite attention that the rich one does. He is par excellence.

HAPPY ACTORS

Chinese Honeymoon Company Enjoy a Visit to Maysville

The Chinese Honeymoon Opera Company laid over here from 9 a. m. to 1:15 p. m. yesterday and during that time they rambled, rambled o'er the town until the butcher cut them down.

The company was made up of 70 people, the larger number being of the fair sex.

In their perambulations they wandered hither and yon, and about twenty-five found themselves in the vicinity of Pogue's Distillery.

A number of the gentlemen having imbibed of the best brand of Pogue's in the days gone by were anxious to be shown through the immense plant, which favor was readily granted by Mr. Henry E. Pogue, the clever and genial manager, and on taking their departure each one was presented with a souvenir flask of Old Time.

On returning to the city about 16 boarded Captain Wilson's two-wheeled mule automobile and were transported to the corporation limits where they disembarked and footed it up town. It was a jolly, merry crowd.
