In a short time the Postoffice Department will announce the number of additional Clerks that will be granted various Postoffices on July 1st, the beginning of the fiscal year. It is expected that Louisville and several other Kentucky cities will secure an increase of clerical force, says a dispatch from Washington. By all means, Maysville should have at least four more; then it will take only six hours to distribute a mail that should be distributed in one hour.

THE eighteen-hour trains between New York and Chicago ran for several days without an accident, remarks The Louisville Post, and now that an accident terrible in its loss of life has occurred, we suppose the railroad authorities will point with pride to the trains that got through. There is expert testimony to show that when you are killed in a railroad accident you are just as dead when the train is going at forty miles an hour as when it goes at one hundred miles.

AT Covington LOUISE M. McDONALD filed a $2,500 suit against the C. and O. Railway Company, alleging that she was injured "by running against a safety gate in the dark." That was, for sure, an unpardonable oversight on the part of the C. and O. people. They had no right to leave the dark lying around loose; and if they did, it was certainly their place to furnish every belated walker with an electric light so as to prevent them running into safety gates. Let the band cut loose.

MAYSVILLE is all right. She can borrow all the money she wants at 4%, while other Kentucky cities of similar size—Ashland for example—are paying 6%.

INSURANCE statistics for the past year show that the deaths among whisky drinkers increased 74%. That's a very "healthy" increase, and should prompt young men to speedily put a few more nails in their coffins.

THE Chinese are convening a meeting in the Straits Settlement to discuss the adoption of a boycott of American manufacturers until the Chinese Exclusion Act is repealed. The Chinese of the Malay States will follow. Maybe, after awhile, the Labor Unions will consent to let Congress repeal the obnoxious Exclusion Act, or else apply it to all classes of "pauper labor."

IN Cincinnati Health Officer DAVIS has asked the Police Department to notify every dealer in fireworks that the sale to minors of any explosive which may be used in toy pistols, revolvers or exploding canes is forbidden, and that a penalty of $100 may be imposed for every offense. In behalf of the little ones who don't know any better, THE LEDGER asks that the Maysville authorities will see to it that they are not furnished with "toys" that are likely to cause the loss of an eye, a limb, or even of life itself.

CONVINCING EVIDENCE.

The trial of the Hargis brothers and Callahan before Magistrate Allen at Jackson last week would have been a farce except for a brilliant stroke on the part of the Magistrate himself. He asked each defendant to state upon his word of honor whether or not he was guilty. Each replied that he was innocent, and Magistrate Allen accepted the avowal as the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, which was a wise, safe and conservative course—in Breathitt.

It seems to be finally settled that Russia and Japan's peace plenipotentiaries will meet in Washington during the first ten days in August. In the meantime a big battle may be fought in Manchuria.

WHY DOCTORS FAIL AND MRS. PINKHAM SUCCEEDS

Plain Reasons Are Here Given to Explain Why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures When Doctors Are Powerless

A woman is sick some disease peculiar to her sex is fast developing in her system. She goes to her family physician and tells him a story, but not the whole story.

She holds something back. Loses her head, becomes agitated, forgets what she wants to say, and finally conceals what she ought to have told, and thus completely mystifies the doctor.

Is it any wonder, therefore, that the doctors fail to cure the disease? Still we cannot blame the woman, for it is very embarrassing to detail some of the symptoms of her suffering, even to her family physician.

It was for this reason that years ago Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., determined to step in and help her sex. Having had considerable experience in treating female ills with her Vegetable Compound, she encouraged the women of America to write to her for advice in regard to their complaints, and being a woman, it was easy for her ailing sisters to pour into her ears every detail of their suffering.

In this way she was able to do for them what the physicians were unable to do, simply because she had the proper information to work upon, and from the little group of women who sought her advice years ago a great army of her fellow-beings are to-day constantly applying for advice and relief, and the fact that many thousands of them have been cured by following the advice of Mrs. Pinkham during the last year is indicative of the grand results which are produced by her unequalled experience and training.

No physician in the world has had such a training, or has such an amount of information at hand to assist in the treatment of all kinds of female ills, from the simplest local irritation to the most complicated womb diseases.

This, therefore, is the reason why Mrs. Pinkham, in her laboratory at Lynn, Mass., is able to do more for the ailing women of America than the family physician. Any woman, therefore, is responsible for her own suffering who will not take the trouble to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice.

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women establish beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

TRY FLY-KILLER OIL THIS YEAR.

Get a fair idea this season of what Fly-Killer Oil will do in the way of keeping flies and other insects off your horses and cattle, and we are sure that next year you will use it throughout the season. Worth its cost for the quiet and comfort it gives animals; and it more than repays the cost in the bettered condition of the animal. A fly won't light where it is applied. A little goes a long way.

THE LUMBER TRAFFIC

It Exerts a Collateral Force On All Other Lines.

Some Pertinent Facts That Will Aid in Construction Affairs.

[BY BENEDICT HERR.]

The trade in lumber and kindred material, considered as a department of industrial activity and collateral with and compared to other lines, becomes relatively of the greatest importance. Whether one desires to erect a temporary shelter or a building to defy the elements, it becomes a question of many supplies and detail incidentals necessary for such. It must therefore be readily apparent to all that this traffic is other industries, and the manner in which it is represented has a far-reaching effect as to the public. It is capably conserved here by the Ohio River Lumber Company, whose yards and office are located at the corner of Fourth and Plum streets, and whose detached saw and planing mills are at the East End, cornering at Cottage and Kentucky streets. Ample are the facilities for conserving every detail, both as to lumber supplies and also any special needs of manufactured construction.

It is in order here to note that through a recent change Mr. J. Burnside Newton has retired and Mr. George H. Bishop is now the sole proprietor.

One can always be sure to find at these handily accessible every description of rough and undressed lumber of all leading varieties, including large stocks of yellow Southern hard pine. Under cover and well seasoned are the several varieties of finished lumber of all dimensions.

All supplies are received direct from original sources under the very best of conditions. Somewhat indicating this by a single illustration, a carload of choice cypress lumber had just been received from New Orleans and was being unloaded at the time when the writer was inspecting. Moreover, it is a special point with Mr. Bishop to confine himself strictly to lumber productions and not to dabble in auxiliary lines. Thus his stock is clean and select throughout, no littering of outside products, and thereby he is enabled to offer special advantages, not alone in selection, but in price figures as well. In the manufacturing department, or he turns out sash, doors, blinds, mouldings, scroll work, inside finish, stairway hand rails, newel posts, porch columns and all other special exquisite details. He is about to effect a general improvement by the addition of an approved steam lumber-drying kiln.

This plant is under the personal superintendence of Mr. H. L. Tolle, a thorough, painstaking mechanic, who has been associated with affairs from the start and is keenly vigilant to all requirements. A great specialty is the supplying of builders and contractors, and at all times the Ohio River Lumber Company is prepared to furnish estimates and prices for everything in wood entering into the construction of a building of any class.

All lumber received is "sticked" or stacked, so as to become thoroughly seasoned and rendered free from atmospheric changes.

No matter what you need, a small item or two or a big order, equal attention is given and close quotations prevail. It is the aim to meet all requirements true to the letter of the need. All who contemplate building, or are in any manner interested in construction, should not fail to have access to this where they are insured having all wants met. Whether you live in the city or in the rural regions you will find the Ohio River Lumber Company a capital factor for supplies in this line. It is the ruling business policy here to furnish products at very close margins of profit, Mr. Bishop being firm in belief that an extensive trade built up on these lines will in the long run yield better future returns than by greater exactions. Thus all will find it to their advantage to list patronage here. Outside mail inquiries as to prices and other information, addressed to the Ohio River Lumber Company, Maysville, Ky., will meet with prompt acknowledgment.

The Keystone State will be down tomorrow from Pittsburgh.

The John A. Wood, Finley and Sprague will go South from Louisville with tows.

The village officials of Aberdeen have appointed a committee to adjust the differences between steamboat owners on the wharfage question. The village officials realize that something must be done to have boats land at the wharf and deliver freight and passengers. It is hinted that Captain Gordon Greene, the owner of several boats running in the up-river trade, will represent the boat owners at the conference.

Nearly a million and a half bushels of coal were shipped out of the Pittsburgh harbor Sunday. The past week has been one of the most profitable in the history of the river. About 12,000,000 bushels have been sent out on this rise, which will probably be the last one until the winter sets in. The steamers that left Sunday are: Raymond Horner, seventeen boats, three barges; Iron Age, sixteen boats, two barges, one model barge of steel products; Andrew Axton, four barges, ten boats, and twelve barges were also sent out to the Alice Brown at Bellaire, and the Tornado with seventeen barges left yesterday.
