Beautiful Beechwood.

With the opening of the second week of Beautiful Beechwood, the patrons should be highly entertained with the magnificent program offered. The performance given last evening was high class in every particular and equal to anything holding the boards in the larger cities. The black face sketch of Mackin and Wilson kept the house in an uproar, being somewhat different from the usual run of Negro specialties we have had, Clarence Burton being one of the best buck and wing dancers ever seen in this city. The laughable satire on married life by the Cliff Dean Company was very clever indeed. This excellent team will be remembered as having played the Columbia, Cincinnati, during the past season. The beautiful surroundings and these splendid vaudeville attractions should be means of drawing crowds of people every evening to "Beautiful Beechwood."

SEASONABLE CLOTHING

That is now sought by good dressers consists of Blue Serge Suits. Coat and pants of same material make an elegant outing suit. Add a white or figured vest to coat and pants and you are dressed to the line of a full dress suit. A double-breasted figured worsted coat and pants to match is proper and comfort giving. Gray serge and worsted effects are as popular as ever. We are daily receiving "and selling" a lot of these outfits and where worn are much admired. Have you seen our "New Panamas?" None like them here. Elsewhere sold 50 per cent. higher than we sell them. Come in and try one on.

In the County Court yesterday Mrs. Martha A. Baldwin, Baldwin Cartmell and W. E. McCann qualified as Executors of W. W. Baldwin, deceased, without surety as expressed in will.

Frank Devine was appointed Administrator of Henry Marshall, deceased, with J. R. Devine surety.

The will of the late Colonel W. W. Baldwin was produced in Court and proven by the testimony of the attesting witnesses, W. D. Cochran and W. H. Wadsworth, and admitted to probate. The bequests have already been published in THE LEDGER.

The will of K. M. Farrow was produced in Court and admitted to record, and reads in part as follows: He leaves his estate, both real and personal, to his wife, Mary M. Farrow, during her natural life. At her death one-eighth goes to his son, John W. Farrow, and seven-eighths to his daughter, Rosa L. Lee. He appoints his son-in-law, Charles B. Lee, Executor without bond.

The quietude of the vicinity of the Courthouse was broken about 4 o'clock this morning by the rapid discharge of firearms, at least six shots being fired. The neighborhood was aroused, many raising their windows to discover the cause of the unusual commotion. As yet the incident is a mystery.

HAYSWOOD'S EXERCISES

Graduation of Miss Marguerite Fitzgerald This Evening

The beautiful auditorium of the First Presbyterian Church was filled last night with an interested and appreciative audience, which had assembled for the closing musical of Hayswood Seminary.

The music class, under the direction of Miss Jennie Moore, gave an entertainment which showed conscientious work upon the part of the pupils and reflected great credit upon their teacher. Several of the pieces by the children of the class deserve special mention, while the difficult work accomplished by several of the advanced pupils of the class could hardly be ranked as amateur work.

The commencement of Hayswood Seminary will take place at the First Presbyterian Church this evening at 8 o'clock. Special features of the evening are the graduation of Miss Marguerite Fitzgerald, the address by Rev. F. J. Cheek, D.D., of Louisville, and several musical numbers by the music class. The exercises are of a popular nature and the public is invited to be present.
