

THE BULLETIN.

OFFICE—Second Street, Opposite Caldwell's Photograph Gallery.

MAYSVILLE, THURSDAY, NOV. 27

The ten feet rise of water from Pittsburg has reached here, and will in a few days bear on its bosom nearly one million bushels of Coal.

In the New York Assembly the Democrats have four majority. In Wisconsin the House is a tie, and the Senate is one majority Democratic; which secures a Democratic Senator, if any is elected this winter from that State.

D. A. Mahoney and David Sheward, of Iowa, arrested last summer by military authority, and confined since then in the Old Capitol Prison at Washington, have been "honorably discharged."

Gen. McClelland's Mississippi expedition, it is said, will be ready to move about the 5th of December.

Upwards of seven thousand collectors, deputy collectors, assessors and assistant assessors are now engaged in the collection of the internal revenue in the loyal States.

AN APPLICATION.—The editor of the New York Tribune says it is his "decided opinion that somebody ought to be horsewhipped." We have no doubt that he is fully conscious of it.—Lou. Jour.

Since the commencement of the rebellion nearly 500,000 troops have reported themselves for duty at Washington. These figures do not include the three months men.

Mrs. President Lincoln has given two hundred dollars for the relief of the suffering contrabands in and around Washington.

The Boston Post thinks it singular, that, while all kinds of printing and writing paper should be going up in price, CHASE'S green-back paper should be depreciating.

Gen. McClellan has sent a note to the chairman of the Committee on National Affairs of the City Council, New York, declining the honor of a public reception and the hospitality of the city.

An equestrian statue of Gen. McClellan is about to be erected in Philadelphia.

Sensation Store. We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Messrs Burgess & Son, in to-day's paper. They have been receiving a fine assortment of Dry Goods, that were purchased previous to the advance in the articles in which they deal, and the retail country Merchants who are desirous to sell a "little cheaper" than their neighbors should give them a call.

The Louisville Journal supposes that "the fortunes of war" we hear so much about are the fortunes made by the army contractors.

An exchange says, "A kiss is worth a thousand kicks in reclaiming those who are inclined to go astray. Try it!" Perhaps the old woman kissed her cow, because she was inclined to go astray.

Special dispatches received at Cincinnati, report 963,000 bushels of coal now under way from Pittsburg, destined for Cincinnati, Louisville, Cairo and intermediate points.

Gen. Pope is to take the command of the Army of the West, at St. Louis, relieving Gen. Curtis of the command.

Gen. Patterson, of Philadelphia, is dead. His death was caused by the accidental discharge of a pistol.

The rebel force at Fredericksburg is said to be twenty thousand. It is under the command of General Longstreet.

The New York Independent estimates that there are two hundred millions of dollars lying in the banks in New York city.—This vast sum is waiting and watching the movements of the federal army.

A Poughkeepsie farmer has a $5 gold piece, which he means to keep for his children and their children again, to look at, as the currency which the country once had.

Lord Palmerston has been a member of the English House of Commons for fifty-five years.

Dr. Thomas Dunn English has been elected a member of the Legislature of New Jersey.

The negro boy that murdered Gen. Sam'l Worthington, will be executed tomorrow (Friday) near the place where the murder was committed.

RECOGNITION AND INTERVENTION.—Gen. N. Sanders, late Commissioner to Europe, who smuggled himself into Canada, has returned to Richmond, and brings intelligence of an early recognition of the Confederacy by the powers of Europe. Belgium has already taken the initiative, and will be followed by other nations, by whose advice and consent she is acting.

We take the above from the Fredericksburg News, of Saturday. The information it conveys was well known to us some days previous, or at least, the fact that Sanders had returned, and that such a statement was attributed to him; but in deference to what we understand to be the wish of the Government, we refrained from any mention of it. There can be no harm in repeating it, now that it has got into the newspapers. We hope that the report may prove true, and feel inclined to credit it.—Lynchburg Virginian.

BY TELEGRAPH.

(Special to the N. Y. Herald.) AQUIA CREEK, November 24. Reports from Burnside's army to-day represents everything quiet and unchanged. The city of Fredericksburg has not yet been shelled for reasons satisfactory to the commanding General. The preparations for a future advance are steadily progressing.—The enemy are still in force on the opposite side of the river, and improving the time to prepare for as vigorous a resistance to our crossing as possible. A locomotive and cars were placed upon the track here to-day, and the road will be opened to the Potomac to-morrow. The Rebel sympathizers still continue to cut the military wires.

WASHINGTON, November 24. For several days past the Washington press has been industriously straining to create excitement, by sensation paragraphs in reference to the proximity of Stonewall Jackson's force to the city yesterday. It was reported that the advance of Jackson's army was at Drainesville, sixteen miles from the city, to attack some of the outer defenses; there is no reliable information that Jackson was in this direction. A gentleman who came under parole to this city represents Jackson still in the valley, with a large force. Our pickets are stationed on the Maryland side, watching the motions of the Rebel pickets and their reserve. The Potomac, at certain places between Harper's Ferry and Williamsport, is still fordable.

The Petersburg Express, of the 21st says: "It seems now pretty well ascertained that Burnside has withdrawn the bulk of his forces from the Potomac to the Rappahannock. We presume that a corresponding movement has been made by General Lee. The theater of operations has again been changed and the Fredericksburg route to Richmond either feigned or really abandoned by the enemy. It is hard to say what the latter intends to do. Gen. Lee has been trying to get a fight out of him for weeks, but in vain. If he makes the attempt to get to Richmond there will necessarily be a battle, and a bloodier one than any that has been fought yet. When or where it will be, is a conjecture."

THE SAVANNAH PAPERS OF THE 20th say that "two Abolition gunboats and one mortar boat attacked Fort McAllister and Genes Point, on Ogeechee river, yesterday morning. After a fierce engagement the enemy retired. The works are still in perfect order. Our loss is three wounded."

FAIRFAX STATION, Nov. 24. Henry Dewey, 8th U. S. Infantry, a paroled prisoner from Richmond, reports he saw conscripts going out with tools to work on the fortifications; also saw fifteen siege guns going out of the city on trucks passing through the streets. The people there said they were prepared in front and rear. The Hampton Legion and 2,200 infantry with four pieces of artillery came into Warrenton by the Sperryville turnpike. He left Warrenton on Friday, and took the road to Salem, where he arrived at night. The inhabitants there expected Jackson that night, and prepared food to receive him. He left Richmond on the 16th of this month, and saw about 11,000 infantry between Culpeper and the Rappahannock, and the railroad trains full of provisions coming from Gordonsville for Culpeper. He arrived in Washington last Thursday. They say Jackson will march to Warrenton in the rear of Burnside. He also spoke at Salem, with Lieut. Halleck, nephew, as he says, to the Commanding General. The Lieutenant belongs to Stuart's cavalry, was wounded in the arm, and was hidden in Salem in Madlock's house when our troops were there. All is quiet to-day about Bull Run, Chantilly and Centerville.

DIED. On the 19th of November, 1862, at his late residence, in Lewis county, Ky., of Consumption, Mr. JOHN PURCELL, in the 57th year of his age. Mr. Purcell had been married fifty-seven years; and lived fifty-three years in Lewis county. He was a Soldier in the War of 1812, under Colonel Dinwiddie, of Mason county.
