A CERTAIN thing has come to pass
Of which we've long been hinting
The BULLETIN has knocked the props,
Beneath the price of printing,
So down they go as sure as Fate,
In nut shell here's the story:
In days to come our presses will
Be mainly run for glory.

"THE Smith Family," we are reliably informed, are musically inclined, and drop into melody at the slightest provocation. They are an airy set.

"The Smith Family" soon to arrive in this city, are somewhat eccentric, but they are people much above the average. You should know them to appreciate their many interesting qualities.

A horse attached to Mr. W. C. Pelham's surveyor's gig, was frightened on Second street Tuesday afternoon, by Mr. James Smith watering the street with a hose, and ran away. No damage was done fortunately.

THE reversible griddle manufactured by T. K. Ball & Son, is a culinary utensil that every good housekeeper will use when they give it a fair trial. It has been in use in the family of the writer, for some time and the verdict is that it is all the manufacturer claims for it.

MRS. ANN P. ROBERTS will offer at public sale on Wednesday, May 3d, at half past ten o'clock, a. m., at the residence of the late D. E. Roberts, a lot of household and kitchen furniture, a valuable library of theological and miscellaneous books, and a fine alderney cow. See advertisement.

Down They Go.

Meaning the prices of job printing. The following low rates will hereafter rule at the BULLETIN Job Printing Rooms. They are the lowest ever offered in this city by any printing establishment. Packet Note Heads per ream.....	3 00

And other printing at proportionately low prices.

About the Price of Brick.

MAYSVILLE, KY., April 17, 1882.
Ed. Bulletin: For the benefit of persons desirous of building, I would ask this question. Why is it that last fall brick could be bought for $5.00 per thousand delivered, and now the price is $9.00 for the same amount of material, or nearly double? At the same time there seems to be no demand for brick at all; no one seems to think of building for the reason that material is out of reach in price.

SUBSCRIBER.

The above inquiry has been submitted to one of the leading brickmakers of Maysville, who has furnished the following information: Brick that are now sold in this city at $8 and $8.50 a thousand are worth at Cincinnati, from $9.50 to $11, and the demand there is greater than the supply. There has been a heavy advance in the price of brick all over the country, owing to the increased wages paid for labor, and the increased cost of fuel. The advance has been not only in the price of brick but in all other kinds of building material. Brick are to-day sold in Maysville cheaper than at Cincinnati.

New Millinery Goods.

Miss Lou. Powling, so well and favorably known as a milliner, her lady friends will be pleased to learn, has just received a very large and carefully selected stock of millinery goods and notions, which are now ready for inspection. The stock embraces everything that is new and desirable in the way of laces, collars, edgings, fancy goods, notions and millinery goods generally. The attention of the ladies is called to Miss Powling's facilities for doing all kinds of stamping, and particularly the new style known as the Kensington, which should be seen to be appreciated. The ladies are invited to call. a191tdw.

Preacher's Meeting.

There will be meeting of the preachers living in Mason county, and those having work in the county, irrespective of denominational affiliations, in Maysville, on Wednesday, the 3rd of May, to consider the interests of the temperance cause in the county.

All preachers living in the county, or having work in the county, are earnestly requested to be present.

Base Ball.

The first base ball game of the season has been set for next Saturday afternoon at two o'clock on the grounds near Robinson & Co.'s flour mills, between the "Congress" and "Senate" clubs of Sulser, Petry & Co.'s cigar manufactory. As there are a number of good players in each club the game promises to be an interesting one. Everybody is invited.

Leg Broken.

Raymond Vieroy, son of Mr. F. M. Vieroy, of East Maysville, met with a serious accident on Monday last. He was playing on a board pile at the lumber yard of the Kentucky planing mill, and some of the boards falling upon him broke his leg in two places below the knee.

To be Repeated.

It will be gratifying to the public to know that by special request the "Decorative Sisters," so favorably received last week, will be repeated at an early day.

Prices Reduced.

John Wheeler, dealer in oysters, fish, game, fruit, etc., has made a heavy reduction in prices. Fresh fish at six, and eight cents a pound received daily. Canned goods at greatly reduced prices.

New Firm.

Messrs. A. Hauke & Co., manufacturers of cigars and dealers in tobacco and smokers' articles generally, have arranged to go in business next week at Nos. 3 and 5 Sutton street. They are experienced in the business and will put only the best work on the market. We bespeak for them a share of the public patronage.

The National Genuine Export Lager

Lovers of a good glass of old lager will do well to give the following parties a call: Fred. Otto, Simons & McMurtry, George M. Thompson, F. Schatzmann, Robert Wilet and Ed. Lambden. a145td.

SCHELL'S ADVENTURES.

An Arrest Recalling the Burning of a Ripley Barn and Other Proceedings.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Tuesday says:

About a year ago two colored men, one of whom is known as Paul Schell, rented a barn from J. W. Tweed, at Ripley, Ohio. They put about $300 worth of hay in it, so disposing the bales as to make the barn appear to be full, then insured it for $1,000 with John H. Law's agency. Shortly after this insurance was effected the barn and contents were totally consumed. Schell's partner came down and went to Covington the day before the fire.

The day after the fire, Schell himself came to Cincinnati and demanded the insurance, but his behavior aroused Mr. Law's suspicion, and he had an investigation made which laid open the nature of the transaction. The partner was arrested, but Schell escaped. His partner was afterward killed while trying to make his escape from the jail at Ripley. Schell was arrested several months ago at Helena, Ark., and turned over to Marshal Lokey, of Ripley. On the way back at Memphis, Schell persuaded the officer to remove the handcuffs. The marshal slept in the room of the hotel with his prisoner with the door locked. The next morning, so Schell says, the prisoner refused to have the cuffs put on and the marshal was afraid to insist upon it. All went well, however, until the train on which they traveled reached Newport, Ky., when the prisoner escaped. He managed to reach Ripley before the officer got there, saw his wife and left. After Marshal Lokey arrived the woman went to him to demand the whereabouts of her husband, and Lokey claimed that she had not seen him. These particulars, whether true or not, were gathered from a letter found on Schell's person. The latter could not stay away from Cincinnati, and yesterday he was caught on the landing by Officer Knox and his partner and taken to Hammond Street Station. He went to Ripley in charge of a deputy marshal of that place.

Ohio Avenue is being macadamized. It ought to be done from one end of the town to the other.

The tax-payers in the Upper ward are complaining, and properly, that no work is being done on the streets in that end of the town. We have heard many say they will refuse to pay the road tax unless something is done soon.

Our town is improving and presents a busy appearance. The following persons are building houses: J. O'Harran, two story brick on Ohio Avenue; James Harding, two story frame Second street; Ben. Campbell, frame, Second street; Thos. Chunn, frame, Third street; Primary school house; Dr. Loy's telegraph office; Parsonage for the M. E. Church, Pike street. The band boys, not to be outdone, are going to build a band hall as soon as they can procure a lot. The following persons are rebuilding and improving: John Small, Third street; Peter Rotenbush, Third street; John Sherburne, Third street. PINEFORE.

DIED.
