

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 2, 1882.

TERMS:—The EVENING BULLETIN is published daily, and served free of postage at 6 cents per week; 25 cents per month; 75 cents per three months; $1.50 per six months, and $3 per year, payable in advance.

THE EVENING BULLETIN HAS A LARGER CIRCULATION IN THIS CITY, CHESTER AND ABERDEEN, OHIO, THAN ANY OTHER PAPER PUBLISHED IN MAYSVILLE.

ENCOURAGING crop reports are received from Arkansas.

THE Adams county Ohio, Infirmary has eighty inmates.

GUTEAU says his soul is safe but his neck is in rather a dangerous condition.

THE estimated public debt reduction for May is only $10,000,000, owing to heavy pension payments.

A POSTOFFICE has been established at Crum, Lewis county. Thomas B. Clark, jr., is the postmaster.

A VIENNA dispatch states the International Monetary Conference is again postponed till April, 1883.

THE remains of Thomas Jefferson will be removed from Monticello, to Glenwood Cemetery, Washington.

THE strike of the iron workers began at Pittsburg, yesterday. Thirty-six mills closed and eighteen thousand five hundred men are thrown out of employment. Both sides express a determination to hold out for six months, if necessary, but it is not believed the lockout will be of long duration.

THE Hon. John Dexter Kehoe among his other accomplishments is gifted with prophetic power. He predicted that certain articles concerning the Maysville BULLETIN, would appear in the Carlisle Mercury, this week, and lo! behold! they were printed precisely as he foretold. He could not have been more accurate if he had written the articles himself.

It is intimated that a democratic paper will be started at Maysville. We do not know of a better point in Kentucky for a democratic paper. There are now three Republican sheets published at that place, and Mason with her large population ought certainly to contain enough democrats to support a democratic journal—Carlisle Mercury.

Editor Kehoe, in order to be sarcastic, goes wide of the truth. There is only one Republican newspaper here, and he will probably remember that his brother, the Hon. John Dexter Kehoe, helped to build up that. We will be just enough to say that it was a better Republican journal than that it has ever been since.

The Meaning of it.

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer says:

The outrageous and elastic ruling forced upon Speaker Ketter by Republican members, to seat on forged testimony a Republican contestant, has been in a more sinister object than the mere giving of a seat to Judge Mackey, of South Carolina. There is, as is well known, a surplus of $150,000,000 in the United States Treasury, and the several leaders who own the Speaker and run the House, are anxious to get at it. Thus far, under the rules of the House, those whose itching palms are ready to deplete the National coffers have been checkmated by Democratic vigilance, and have been unable to make headway. There are not a few who believe that the desperate schemers, in forcing the Speaker to rule as he has, are only paving the way and preparing the public mind for a greater outrage. Without such a proceeding the Democrats can stand guard over the Treasury vaults, and prevent legislation which will raid the public purse; but the fertile Robeson will, no doubt, be soon ready with another ruling which will effectually block the minority from checking outrageous drafts on the National Treasury, even on appropriation bills. It is apparent to a casual observer, since the Speaker's ruling of Monday, that the lobby have been in high glee. These cormorants, who haunt every nook and cranny of the Capitol, have for four months been despondent because of the failure to get through their schemes. Now, however, they are exuberant and defiant, and give reason to believe that the Speaker will, at the proper time, make rulings which will not prejudice the numberless jobs they have on hand.

The Trial of Ellis.

Ashland Independent.

George W. Ellis was brought into court last Monday afternoon and put upon his trial for the murder of Robert Gibbons, Fannie Gibbons and Emma Carrico. The prisoner has raised chin whiskers and mustache, and has grown fat since he left jail life evidently agreeing with him. He has also become more reticent and has stopped talking at random and allowing every one to pump him about the murder. The first business in order was the selection of a jury from the special panel summoned by Sheriff Kouns.

The following twelve were accepted, and composed the jury: Wyatt Clay, T. B. Davis, Gabriel Rife, Wm. Layne, Geo. B. Johnson, James Williams, Wm. Moore, John Klaber, Gaylord Norton, E. M. K. Handley, John Clay, James Barber.

The jury is composed of excellent men and will do justice in the case. The court then adjourned until Tuesday.

The court convened on Tuesday. The prisoner's counsel is Col. D. K. Weis, of Ashland, and Mr. Brazee, a lawyer from Fayette county, West Virginia. The Commonwealth is represented by S. G. Kenner, circuit court attorney, and J. W. Hampton, of Ashland.

The prosecution proved by A. C. Campbell, the confession made by Ellis to him, and his conscience-stricken condition and other circumstances attending it.

J. W. House, and his son Ollie, Mrs. Thomas, the mother of Emma Carrico, J. W. Gibbons, little Sterling Gibbons, doctors Wade and Tirenau J. B. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carroll, Mrs. Wm. Simmons, and Jackson Kelly, all testified substantially and almost word for word as they did upon the trial of Craft and Neal, and as we have already published their testimony it is not necessary to repeat it again, now.

John J. Montague repeated his testimony as to how Ellis at Greenup jail when feigning insanity, straightened up and acted as sane as anybody, after he told him it was the only way he (Ellis) could save himself from the mob. The only thing new, so far, was the testimony of Thomas Brown, Esq., son of the presiding Judge, who took down Ellis' sworn retraction of his confessions at Ashland, having gone to the Lexington jail for that purpose at the request of Ellis. The retraction was read in court and proved by Mr. Brown. In it Ellis takes back all he had said in former confession, denies all knowledge of the murder and pronounces Neal and Craft as innocent as himself, but he also swears that he has been so out of his head at times that he does not know what he says or does.

R. C. Burns' testimony was relied upon by the prosecution to show improbabilities in Ellis' testimony when he was trying to screen and exculpate himself in the Craft trial. The court here adjourned until Wednesday. The state has but a few more witnesses to introduce, and it is thought will close its examination on Wednesday, and turn the case over for the defense.

CATLETTSBURG, KY., May 31st.—To-day concluded the evidence in the Ellis murder case and speeches were made by D. K. Weis, of Ashland, for defense, and J. W. Hampton, of Ashland, for the prosecution. The arguments will be concluded tomorrow by Major Brazie, of West Virginia, for Ellis, and the Commonwealth's Attorney, S. G. Kinner. It is generally believed that Ellis will be convicted. The story that he was forced to do everything is regarded as "thin." His taking back the confession in the Lexington jail is used against him by counsel with considerable effect. Also the fact that he carried the bloody ax out of the burning house and hid it. Ellis is believed to have killed Robert Gibbons for the boy after being struck and his skull crushed could hardly have jumped under the stairs in the position in which he was found. The people generally are inclined to hold him responsible for being present at the tragedy, and it is likely that the jury may take the same view. The case will doubtless be decided by tomorrow night, and the people look for a general hanging matinee in the near future.

By the close of iron and nail mills of Wheeling, W. Va., and vicinity, five thousand men are thrown out of employment.

INTERNAL Revenue receipts for May, are $16,347,273, being more than was collected in any one month since the bulk of the war taxes was abolished.
