FROM Washington there comes a cue,
That seemingly doth point
That certain triggers nicely set,
Are badly out of joint,
And that the road to power and place,
By obstacles is hemmed,
And mighty rocky is the path
Of him who gets P. M.-ed.

JUDGE JAMES HARBESON, a popular candidate for congress in this district, was in Maysville, Tuesday.

W. S. FRANK has sold the dwelling on Limestone street, lately occupied by Arthur Berry, to W. Fitzgerald for $1,600.

THE jail committee will meet at Judge Wall's office to-morrow morning to receive from Mr. E. J. Hodgson, the architect, the plans and specifications for the new jail.

THE members of the Emmet Guards are notified that there will be a meeting at the armory next Thursday evening, at which it is desired there shall be a full attendance.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Courier-Journal alleges that certain democrats in Maysville have been writing to the democrats in congress urging them to vote for the confirmation of Mr. Hutchins as postmaster of this city. Who are they?

THE Children's Day service will be observed at the Third street M. E. Church, June 11th, at 10 1/2 o'clock a. m. The church will be handsomely decorated and the service will be interesting throughout. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody to be present.

MR. HARRY WENSELL, a barber of experience, has opened a shop in East Maysville, next door to George Means' grocery, and is prepared to serve the public in an acceptable manner. We take pleasure in recommending him to the favors of our friends in that end of the town.

MISS LIZZIE PIKE, daughter of Mr. W. W. Pike, formerly of this city, will be married at Cincinnati on Thursday June 8, to Mr. Charles Speigle. The wedding is to be private and no cards have been issued. The Maysville friends of the contracting parties extend their congratulations.

THE new colored M. E. Church, at Washington, will be finished on the 13th inst., and will be opened on Sunday, the 18th inst., with a basket meeting. Sermons will be preached by Revs. J. Sissel, of Sharpsburg, J. Courtney, of Maysville, and J. Bourne, of Mayslick. Everybody is invited to be present.

THE stocksales at Paris, Monday, were considerably better than on any court day previous for many months. Good fat cattle averaged from 5 1/2 to 6 1/2 cents per pound; broke mules from $125 to $150 each. Plug horses, as usual, varied from $30 to $90. About $8,000 worth of land changed hands. A large crowd was in attendance, and brisk sales were the order of the day.

Calls.

SARDIS, KY., June 6, 1882.

Judge Phister having declined to make a race for a third term in Congress, the friends of Hon. Garrett S. Wall, in the Sardis Precinct, want him to try for it—to make a canvass for the nomination.

Having been faithful and impartial in the duties of his office, courteous and polite to all persons having business in his office—having been true and tried—our invitation is for him to come up higher.

MAYSICK, KY., June 6, 1882.

We the undersigned democratic voters of the Mayslick precinct, desire that the Hon. G. S. Wall shall become a candidate for representative of this congressional district. Appreciating the fact that he has always served faithfully in every public trust, and is eminently fitted to represent this district in congress, we hereby promise our cheerful support in every honorable way to secure his nomination before the district convention, should he allow his name to be used as indicated:

A Much Persecuted Man.

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial persists in vilifying a well known gentleman of this city, through the columns of that paper. The following vile slander is his latest. He ought to be squelched:

Morris Hutchins, of Maysville, the newly appointed, but not yet confirmed, Postmaster, is here among the Stalwarts, sporting his title to the brass pot-lid that all wear with so much pride. He is said to have a rocky road before him in the Senate, with citizens of all shades arrayed against him and in favor of Stockton, who now holds the office. Hutchins got the appointment by a cunning adaptation of indorsements for another place much farther from home. If Hutchins persists startling developments are promised.

The correspondent of the Courier-Journal is equally unjust. Here is what he says:

Morris Hutchins, of Maysville, Ky., who secured his appointment as Postmaster by getting his fellow-citizens to sign petitions to secure for him a far-away Conselship, is here working in an up-hill way to secure confirmation. He went in at first on his superior statesmanship, and said that nobody but Democrats opposed him, but now he has his friends writing letters from Kentucky to Democrats here to vote for his confirmation. There are many letters from Maysville urging his rejection, and his coming was hastened by the fear of a withdrawal of his name. If it is not withdrawn, there is likely to be some disclosures which will be unpleasant for those here who are wriggling and twisting to remove the apparently fatal opposition that has shown itself in a strong light in the Senate Committee on Post-offices and Post roads. Propositions have been made that would certainly make one pious statesman blush were they disclosed. Nearly all Maysville, including Hutchins himself, signed a petition to have Stockton, the present Postmaster, retained. The friends of Stockton think if the Senate Committee, or even the Senate itself over the head of the committee, can go on and confirm this highly Stalwart appointee, after the information concerning him in possession of members of the Committee, can swallow almost anything in the shape of an alleged Stalwart.

THERE is some indication of an early adjustment of the troubles among the iron mills at Cincinnati.

MR. SAMUEL CHUNN has returned from the west and will resume business in Maysville as a carpenter and builder. His shop is on Third street between Wall and Sutton.

MR. F. S. ANDREWS, a relative of Mr. M. C. Russell, residing at West Jefferson, Ohio, will shortly take charge of one of the leading hotels in the central part of that state.

IN the Mayors Court, this morning, Mr. W. C. Pennywitt, editor of the Republican, was fined $10 for a breach of the peace in assaulting Mr. Charles White, of East Maysville. Mr. Pennywitt is a tenant of Mr. White's, and the unfortunate affair grew out of one of the petty differences that some times disturb the peace of near neighbors.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Mr. Thomas R. James and lady, and Mr. Thomas D. Metcalfe, with his sister Miss Sallie, left Monday evening on the steamer Bonanza for the South, intending to spend some days on the Gulf, near Last Island.

MESSRS. YAGO & BEASLEY, the well-known carriage manufacturers, we are pleased to learn, are doing a larger business than usual this season. They have recently finished two very handsome buggies for Grant Allen and James Carpenter, of Millersburg, a buggy and skeleton wagon for Thurman Pollock, of Germantown, two buggies for Dr. Norris, of Germantown, and Dr. Holton, of this city. This work was done in the best style and gave entire satisfaction. Yago & Beasley warrant all the vehicles made at their establishment to be first-class in every particular.

Judge Wall for Congress.

Cynthiana Democrat.
Judge Garrett S. Wall, of Mason county, is urged by his friends to become a candidate for Congress in the 9th District. Mr. Wall is serving out his second term as judge of the Mason County Court, in which office he has shown himself to be an upright man, a good lawyer and attentive to business. He has a well cultivated mind, has no bad habits, and would make a representative of whom the district would be proud. He is a relative of our former distinguished townsman, Hon. Wm. K. Wall.

Mt. Sterling Democrat.

We learn that Judge Wall, will be a candidate for congress in the 9th district. He is a native of Mason county, and a worthy son of that great county. Twice have his people honored him with the responsible office of County Judge. He has proven himself equal to the trust. He is a man of fine address, and liberal education, extensive culture, studious habits and blameless life. Bred to the profession of the law, he possesses a trained intellect and a sound well-balanced judgement in business affairs. He has in him all the practical elements of statesmanship. He is in the prime of his years, and, if chosen from among the distinguished aspirants, would shed honor on his district. Mr. Wall is a kinsman of our townsman Lewis Apperson.

Lexington Transcript.

We notice with much pleasure that Judge Garrett S. Wall, of Maysville, is being extensively talked of in the Ninth District as the democratic nominee for congress to succeed Judge Phister. Judge Wall is distinguished alike for his unswerving devotion to the principles of his party, and for the ability with which he has discharged the duties of his official station. A bold but prudent advocate, an untiring worker, safe, strong and cool-headed, he is just the kind of timber Kentucky should send to congress. In addition to his ability and life-long democracy, he would carry with him as representative another attribute, without which even the most gifted public man is poor and weak indeed, and that is integrity. Judge Wall has many friends here who would be glad to learn that the democracy of his district has made him its nominee.

Attention.

The members of the Maysville Guards are requested to be present at their armory to-morrow (Thursday) evening, at 8 1/2 o'clock. Important business to be discussed.

Ho, for the Lewis Court.

The steamer Return which has lately been thoroughly repaired and refitted will leave Maysville, Sunday night, June 11th, for the accommodation of all persons desiring to attend the Lewis circuit court which meets June 12th. This steamer will arrive every morning at Vanceburg, during the session of court, returning at night. j6d2t.

The Congressional Nomination.

Editor of Bulletin: Your correspondent "Citizen," in his article in the daily of June 5th, whilst correct in some of his views, is very unfair and unjust, when he classes our past representatives as "sickly," and "the most that could be said of them was that they are clever fellows." Certainly for four years, our district has been ably represented, and at no time have we been below the average.

True statesmanship does not consist in the ability to orate at length, upon any and all subjects, and at any and all times. The day for stump orators has passed, and the statesman must be a man, endowed with sound practical business sense, and the ability to see the burdens upon the people, and common sense enough to devise the ways and means to remove them. Mere oratory, and the power to discuss the principles of the party, does not make a good representative, but when the ready tongue is backed by a knowledge of practical life, by purity of thought, and sobriety of character, we can have confidence in our representative. Our duty in the coming contest for congressional honors, is to ignore county lines, and looking throughout the district, select a man, who possesses in the highest degree, those qualities of mind, habits of business and purity of life that are so requisite, to enable one to discharge his duties in congress, and resist the temptations that beset a politician.

It matters not, whether such a man be in the Eastern or Western or Central portion of the district, it is the man we want; and when nominated and elected, if he be a true and capable man, keep him in congress from term to term, so long as he remains true and efficient. The cry, "rotation in office" is the grand mistake of Kentucky voters, and is the cause of any lack of influence and reputation that Kentucky congressman may have. In daily life and business, we all concede, that experience alone will make one perfect. In official and political life, we retire a man, just as he becomes fitted, by experience, to discharge with ability his official duties.

If Mason county has a man endowed with the qualifications above set forth, let him be "called," and presented to the District Convention for nomination. If any other county has a better man, let him also be presented, and may the best man win. In selecting, however, we should investigate the character, as well as the capacity; for it would be better to have a "clever fellow," than a "brilliant knave."
