The crop of wheat now coming in. Has got the big head bad, but time will show it hasn't got the backing once it had. You're going to find this staple wheat. Is bound to soon or late, a slip up and a tumble take down from its high estate.

Eggs are now selling in Maysville at 12 1/2 cents a dozen.

THE BULLETIN is indebted to Misses Anna Mowell and Maude Wilson and Mr. J. H. Allen, for a pleasant call yesterday afternoon.

THE East End Reed and Cornet Band realized from the moonlight fete, Monday and Tuesday evenings, about $160 over and above expenses.

SOME of the little folks of Maysville had a dance in the third story of the State National Bank yesterday evening. It proved to be a very pleasant affair, and was much enjoyed by all present.

THE latest news from Mr. John Small who was injured a few days ago by a fall from a window in a hotel at Richmond, Ind., is that he is in a critical condition, and his removal to his home is at present out of the question.

AN interesting protracted meeting, conducted by Revs. Pollitt and Morrison is in progress at the M. E. Church, South, in Chester. The meetings have been well attended and the services interesting and productive of much good to the community.

THE July term of the circuit court begins next Tuesday, the 11th, inst. The docket consists, of sixty-three Commonwealth cases, and one hundred and sixty-seven civil suits. Of the civil suits, fifty-eight are on the common law, and one hundred and nine on the equity docket. Thirty-two civil suits have been filed in the office of Ben. D. Parry the efficient clerk of this court, since the closing of the April term.

THE Morning Mail last Tuesday on the up trip made the run from Cincinnati to the Widow Green's, a distance of thirteen miles, in exactly one hour. This time has never been beaten by any steamer and only equaled by the Bostona and Fleetwood. The run was made on a regular business trip and without any extra preparation for a trial of speed. The Morning Mail is thus shown to be as swift as any boat on the river.

MASTER GEORGE ALBERT, the seven-year-old son of Mr. R. Albert, yesterday fell from the balcony in the second story of the residence on Front street, and narrowly escaped being killed. He was talking to some of his little friends who were standing on the pavement below, and losing his balance fell head long down, and fortunately upon the children beneath. Several of the party were slightly bruised, but none were seriously hurt.

Suicide.

Mr. Mace Ball, a well known citizen of the Sardis neighborhood, in this county, committed suicide last night about nine o'clock, by cutting his throat with a razor. He had previously attempted the deed, using a knife but had been prevented by his friends. We are informed he had had some domestic trouble, and in a fit of despondency, it is supposed, he committed the terrible act. Mr. Ball was about sixty-five years of age and a respected citizen. At the time of his death he was not living with his family.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Hon. G. S. Wall is at Grayson, Carter county. He will be at home to-morrow.

Mr. W. J. Kehoe, late of the Carlisle Mercury, has bought the Cynthiana, (Ky.) Democrat.

Mr. O. T. Canfield who removed with his family to Aurora Indiana, recently, is in Maysville on a visit to his old friends. He will engage in the dry goods business at Aurora.

THE first new wheat of the season will be received this afternoon by A. Finch & Co., from the farm Mr. Wm. Roe, near Orangeburg. It was threshed yesterday, is of the Fultz variety and of fine quality. The yield was abundant and the price paid for it was one dollar a bushel. A sample of this wheat may be seen at our office.

THE attention of the City Council of Maysville has been called to the ruinous condition of Front street in the Fifth Ward, from Union street down to the planing mill. That street, which at one time was a broad public thoroughfare, has, by the indifference and neglect of the Council, been permitted to wash away in places and become perfectly obliterated. The property which abuts upon that street, and which was bought with a view to the easement which the street afforded, has in many places been seriously injured by the washing of the river, and if the evil is not arrested, will ultimately involve the city in heavy pecuniary damages. This is a grievance of too serious a nature to be longer treated with indifference by Council, and if not attended to may involve the city in expensive legal proceedings.

THE Colorado Citizen, published at Columbus, Texas, gives the following account of the killing of Milton Boyd by Robert Armstrong, formerly of this city. The account is somewhat different from the one first received here:

Last Saturday a difficulty occurred at Alleyton, in this county, between Milton Boyd and Robert Armstrong, which resulted in the death of the former. The reports of it are very conflicting, but it seems the difficulty was the result of an old feud. It seems that Boyd, who was an engineer on the road, discharged some three weeks since, had frequently cursed and abused Armstrong, who is quite a young man, and who did not resent these insults; that the evening of the difficulty Armstrong went into the store of Mr. L. Wink to settle his bill, which he paid; that Boyd asked Armstrong to "set up" the beer, which he did, and the two and a comrade drank it together; that going out of the door, they met a man with water melons to sell; that Boyd asked Armstrong to buy a melon, which he did, and took it over to Mrs. Thompson's to put in the water to cool; that finding no one in the house, he came out with the melon under his arm to take down town, following in the rear of Boyd and his comrade; that Boyd asked him, as he came up what he was making such a noise in the boarding house for; that Armstrong denied doing so, saying there was no one in the house; that Boyd called him a d-d liar, and struck him; whereupon Armstrong drew a small five-shooter and shot him twice, once in the hand, and once in the neck or chin, the latter proving fatal. Armstrong was arrested and is now in jail.

COUNTY POINTS.

MAYS LICK.

Joseph Litter is through sawing Dr. Parry's timber.

James Ross has the contract for carrying the mail from here to Helena Station for two years.

Miss Mollie Knight and Miss Wadell, of Millersburg, are visiting in this vicinity.

Two young boys from Cincinnati, while passing through here on the 4th, going to Blue Licks, thought they would enliven our little town, as it was looking very forlorn that day, by shooting some fire-crackers, torpedoes, &c., and thinking probably that out in a small country village there was no law, but as they were returning that evening singing "Them Golden Slippers," our efficient marshal, Sam. Raymond, put a sudden stoppage to their music by bringing their horses to a halt. They were detained only a few minutes and relieved of five dollars, going away sadder but we hope, wiser men and that Mayslick will not be forgotten by them.

In the daily of the 5th inst., you spoke of Geo. Berry as the man who made the large shoes, his name is George Benz, shoemaker in this place.

Basil Duke Scott has returned from Danville where he has been attending school at the Kentucky Deaf and Dumb Institution. ROME

WASHINGTON.

Aunt Judy Coffin, died last Friday and was buried in the Catholic Cemetery on Saturday.

C. C. Gault leaves for Denver Colorado, in a few days. He will locate there provided he can find some profitable business in which to engage. Charley is a graduate of Eastman Business College, and will make a good book-keeper anywhere.

Miss Berta Adair, of Paris, has been visiting here for several weeks. She left for home Saturday, accompanied by Lawrence Horton. Miss Adair is a charming young lady, and received much attention from the young gentlemen while in our midst.

Everybody is busy harvesting fine wheat and barley crops. We can boast this year of a very fine crop, and will wager there is not a precinct in the county, that can beat us. We have heard exaggerated reports of wheat fields in which there was not sufficient ground to shock the grain. But never before have we seen one that would not hold the heads after maturity. This is exactly the case with Col. Baldwin's present crop. The heads in developing naturally become larger and of course occupy more room which caused each stalk to gradually shove his next neighbor a little closer to the fence, until tons of straw could be seen resting their golden heads upon the adjoining fence. The Baldwin wheat is of fine quality and it would be to the interest of every grower to sow exactly this kind of wheat, in order to reap Limestone flour as well as fifty bushels per acre. After having finished cutting Col. Baldwin, admits that there was room in the field for the shocks, but he had to remove several in order to get his machine out.

IN MEMORIAM.

New Orleans Democrat and New Orleans Times.

Died, in Maysville, Ky., June 15, 1882, Mrs. JANE FOX RESSPESS, wife of Thomas A. Respass, Esq., of that city.

Strangers will pass this unnoticed. Her acquaintances, who were all her friends, in New Orleans, and wherever this will be read, in all lands, will pause before it with sadness and lingering sorrow. She was not of the class of brilliant flash that light and expire, but she shone with steadiness—a calm, quiet composure—an earnest, truthful, beautiful life, and won universal admiration, esteem, respect and love. These are not idle words at random strung, but breathings of memories treasured from her child life, keeping pace to its meridian, yielded in the hope that she might yet be spared to those she loved. Fated, doomed to an ordeal that astounded a score of surgeons for matchless daring and fortitude, she passed away, an exemplar in all and all, of the dignified, repose and faith of the martyr, and as unto Thy will and to her reward.
