

DOING THE SOUTH JUSTICE.

The Plain Spoken Michigan Politician Who is Afraid to Lose His Grip.

From the Detroit Free Press.

In Charleston I met a Michigander who has served two terms in the Michigan Legislature, held a Federal office of some prominence in the State and been famous as a politician in the Republican party. After we had walked around for an hour I asked:

"Now, then, what do you think of these people? You have seen them with their coats off, and can judge them as they are."

"I tell you I'm ashamed of myself? was the reply. "When I think of how we have lied about them and their institutions I am ashamed to look them in the face."

"Have they treated you well?"

"Splendidly."

"And they knew you were from the North?"

"Yes."

"And that you were a strong Republican?"

"Yes."

"And what do you think of the darky?"

"D—n him, sir, d—n him!" was his hearty exclamation. "We wouldn't stand the half from him that the South does. He is lazy shiftless, thievish, and a general nuisance. I've talked with a score of 'em and they are as ignorant as our horses. They vote my ticket, but they can't tell my why. They have no reason, no argument, no principle, and so little sense that I wonder how they get through the week."

"When you return home you'll do the South justice?"

"How?"

"Why, you'll talk to your party members just as you have talked to me?"

"N—o, I can't do that," he answered.

"If I should go back and tell 'em exactly how things are I'd—I'd—"

"You'd lose your grip?"

"Exactly."

"And to keep your grip you must continue to lie about, abuse, and malign the people who have taken you to their dinner tables, and shown you every possible kindness and courtesy! You must continue to claim that they don't give the black man a fair show when you know better! You must continue to call 'em rebels, when you see Federal law obeyed, and everybody contented and happy! Colonel, politics is a nasty business."

"Cuss politics!" he growled, as he left me at the corner.

Swindled by a Beautiful Creature.
Geneva Continental Gazette.

One of the cleverest and most beautiful members of the world-wide corporation of thieves and swindlers has just honored Paris with her fleeting presence, victimizing one of the principal hotels within a stone's throw of the opera by way of a slight diversion. The beautiful stranger, whose distinguished manners and appearance left no doubt in the eyes of the credulous as to her quality, arrived about ten days ago, and retained one sumptuous apartment for herself and another for her brother-in-law, Prince P., who was shortly to arrive from Nice. In the interim she occupied her time by visiting the fashionable shops, where she on the strength of her assumed title, easily obtained credit to the amount of 100,000 francs. The day before yesterday, however, her peaceful existence was cruelly interrupted by a telegram from the prince stating that his illustrious spouse had had the misfortune to fracture her leg.

Hissy, pathizing sister-in-law, overcome with anxiety and grief, determined to depart immediately in order to render what aid her tender heart and delicate hands could offer, meanwhile begging the confiding host to reserve her apartment, and to take care of the luggage she was compelled to leave behind, providing herself only with absolute necessities. However, as creditors impudible and importunate put in their appearance soon after the departure of the lady, it was deemed advisable to wire to Nice, to remind the absent one of her devoirs, when, lo! neither prince nor lady were known to be found in all bella Nizza. Upon that the capacious trunks that were left in Paris being broken open, they were found to contain nothing more precious than old boots, rubbish and stones. It is an old method of paying for lodgings, but it proved successful as long as the confidence and the three-card-tricks prosper for all the fools that are said to be born every minute, a sufficient number have as yet always survived to serve the purpose of swindlers.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain it its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER.

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District. ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan. 20, 1880.
DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours,
P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880.
B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me it will be very great.
Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.
KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.
Send address for illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.
Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont. j27d.

BATCHELDER'S
Ventilated Egg Case.
Patented February 15, 1881.
Indispensible to Merchants Shippers And Producers.

The outside frame of this carrier contains five trays, held in place by fasteners at end of case, as seen in cut. These Trays are constructed in reversible halves. The above cut shows one whole tray filled ready to be placed in case, each egg resting in its cardboard socket in such a manner as to be readily counted, candled, or transferred from tray to tray, or case to case without rehandling.
For cold storage this case will store 60 dozen with racks made to receive the half trays, hence this is the cheapest storage case manufactured, saving largely in space.
The manner of holding the eggs on end prevents oscillation, adding, or breakage, and adds greatly to their freshness when carried long in storage. Size of 30 dozen No. 1 cases 25x12x14, weighs 20 pounds.

PRICES IN CHICAGO.
Shipper's No. 1, 30 doz. Case with Fillers complete 65 Cents.
Farmer's No. 1, 18 doz. Case with Fillers complete, 55 Cents.
