

Public Honesty in Russia.

The Boston Herald refers to the statement that an enterprising tradesman of St. Petersburg is about to institute a circulating library in connection with the street cars of the city, and thus moralizes: "All this, simple as it is, sounds incredible to American ears. But in a country where drinking cups have to be chained to pumps and drinking fountains, and where waiters gauge their attention according to the amount of their fees, it is, perhaps, well not to expect too much."

Causes for High Prices of Food.

Louisville Post.

A gentleman who has been familiar with the workings of the produce market for years says that the whole cause of the trouble is in the wild craze for speculating. Nothing is free from the touch of the speculator. The backwardness of the season, that caused a scarcity in vegetables, opened the doors for speculators, and they rushed in. Meats and vegetables of all kinds are held in quantity by speculators, and while they are making money the masses must suffer. "Sooner or later," said the gentleman, "something will have to be done in this country to keep the hands of speculators off of the necessities of life."

Housekeeping in the White House.

Globe Democrat.

Mrs. Stover, the daughter of Andrew Jackson, was a most thorough and excellent housewife, and, by the perfect order and management of the establishment, won a reputation for domestic talents that a New England matron might envy.

Mrs. Grant was altogether the best housekeeper the mansion ever had, and the most of her eight years was spent in devising how to patch, turn, and make presentable the well-worn furnishings, since so much of the annual appropriation went to the roof, the water spout, and the plumbing. Mrs. Grant left the house in the most perfect condition, with everything spick and span, scrubbed, cleaned, and polished about it, and gave a written inventory of every article, from the kitchen traps to the rags and crippled furniture of the garret.

Mrs. Hayes left things more to the care of the servants during her four years, and during the illness of Mrs. Garfield, and afterward the death seige of President Garfield the place ran itself.

It was like cleaning the Augean stables to bring the house to a proper condition for President Arthur, and that fastidiously neat gentleman gave some very decided orders when he first inspected the White House from top to bottom with a view to residence. When it was scraped and scoured, cleaned, papered and furnished afresh, President Arthur entered into his domain with some reasonable complacency. He was ushered into his own private room, a poem of carefully blended tints of robin's-egg blue and maroon, touched with dull gold and bronze, and then it was found that there was not a towel in the White House stores. The stock had diminished and then disappeared after President Garfield's illness, and his successor's first official act was to command the purchase of those necessary appliances to civilization before he could dry his hands.

Among the plans proposed to the British Balloon Society is that of a balloon to be kept under control by means of compressed gas. The gas would be stored in a suitable tank under pressure, and the balloon would be reduced in size or enlarged at pleasure by admitting or withdrawing gas—which might be effected by simply turning a crank. The balloon would of course fall when reduced in size and rise as it became expanded, so that ballast and waste of gas would be rendered unnecessary. Improvement in another direction is still sought by aeronauts who are striving to travel considerable distances in predetermined courses. Little success has attended these efforts.

HENRY VIII. bade defiance to both extreme religious parties, burning as heretics those who avowed the tenets of the Reformers and hanging as traitors those who owned the authority of the Pope.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain it its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER,

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District. ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan., 20, 1880. DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ringbone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me it will be very great. Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects. Send address for illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man. Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont. 127d.

BATCHELDER'S Ventilated Egg Case.

Patented February 15, 1881. Indispensable to Merchants Shippers And Producers.

The outside frame of this carrier contains five trays, held in place by fasteners at end of case, as seen in cut. These Trays are constructed in reversible halves. The above cut shows one whole tray filled ready to be placed in case, each egg resting in its cardboard socket in such a manner as to be readily counted, candled, or transferred from tray to tray, or case to case without rehandling. For cold storage this case will store 60 dozen with racks made to receive the half trays, hence this is the cheapest storage case manufactured, saving largely in space. The manner of holding the eggs on end prevents oscillation, adding, or breakage, and adds greatly to their freshness when carried long in storage. Size of 30 dozen No. 1 cases 25x12x14, weighs 20 pounds.
