

Shadows of Matrimony.

Ling John Herm, a young Chinaman of Boston, made love acceptably to Kate Englehardt, while visiting Philadelphia, and they were married. Although she was a young and pretty girl of good character, the Mongol failed to appreciate his prize, and whipped her brutally before a week had elapsed, besides spitefully cutting up her clothes. They were separated.

A thrifty young farmer living near Crittenden, Ky., is now thirty years old, and was first married August 28, 1872. Since that time he has buried two wives and is now living with the third, having been a widower twenty-one months. He is now the father of eleven children—eight boys and three girls. He has two pair of twin boys.

The marriage of Timothy Haley, aged seventy-five, to a girl of seventeen was not expected by the people of Brookville, Ky., to prove a happy one; yet they are surprised by the separation that has taken place, as it was brought about by the old man instead of the bride. He is convinced, he says, that she married him solely for his money; and she gives color to his charge by suing him for one-third of his $10,000.

Miss Bourne eloped with her lover at Whitehall, N. Y., but on the condition that, immediately after the marriage ceremony, she should be allowed to go back home, and tell her mother. Her idea was that the maternal objection to the young man could be overcome by argument as soon as she was his wife. But the plan miscarried. The mother had so much the best of the discussion that the bride was convinced, instead of convincing, and when the bridegroom came for her next day, she informed him that she desired never to get eyes on him again. She even put on boys' clothes, and escaped, while he was watching the house, so thorough was her change of purpose.

Cannibalism in Fiji.

It was only people who had been killed that were considered good for food. Those who died a natural death were never eaten—invariably buried. But it certainly is a wonder that the isles were not altogether depopulated, owing to the number who were killed. Thus, in Namena, in the year 1851, fifty bodies were cooked for one feast. And when the men of Bau were at war with the men of Verata they carried off 260 bodies, seventeen of which were piled on a canoe and sent to Rewa, where they were received with wild joy, dragged about town and subjected to every species of indignity ere they finally reached the ovens. Then, too, just think of the number of lives sacrificed in a country where infanticide was a recognized institution, and where widows were strangled as a matter of course! Why, on one occasion, when there had been a horrible massacre of Namena people at Viwa, and upward of 100 fishermen had been murdered, and their bodies carried as bokola to the ovens at Bau, no less than eighty women were strangled to do honor to the dead, and corpses lay in every direction about the mission station. It is just thirty years since the Rev. John Watsford, writing from here, described how twenty-eight victims had been seized in one day while fishing. They were brought here alive, and only stunned when put into the ovens. Some of the miserable creatures attempted to escape from the scorching bed of red-hot stones, but only to be driven back and buried in that living tomb, whence they were taken a few hours later to feast their barbarous captors. He adds that more human beings were eaten on this little isle of Bau than anywhere else in Fiji. It is very hard, indeed, to realize that the peaceful village on which I am now looking has really been the scene of such horrors as these, and that many of the gentle, kindly people around me have actually taken part in them.—At Home in Fiji.

"How do you keep off the canker worms?" said the visitor; "they destroy everything that grows." "Oh, very easily," said Mr. Emerson, in his mild way; "we kill them as we do politicians—with printer's ink.—Washington Post.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.

The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain its effects and does not blister. READ PROOF BELOW.

From Rev. P. N. GRANGER.

Presiding Elder of the St. Albans District. ST. ALBANS, VT., Jan., 20, 1880. DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming, I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

Perseverance Will Tell.

STROUGHTON, MASS., March 16, 1880. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—In justice to you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with Kendall's Spavin Cure, one very large one, don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me it will be very great.

Respectfully yours, CHAS. E. PARKER. KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach a every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargement, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings, any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects.

Send address for Illustrated Circular which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for best as well as man. Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. ALL DRUGGISTS have it or can get it for you or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont. j27d.
